EXPLOSION DESTROYS TOWN, KILLS 30, HURTS 100

SHOEMEN WILL STAY OUT; SHOPS TO OPEN AGAIN

Strikers Vote to Remain Idle Until They Get Concessions.

EMPLOYERS TO FIGHT

Union Leader Says 20,000 Are United in Decision to Remain Out.

CANNOT STAY CLOSED

Employer Says Associates Are Certain to Get Enough to Operate.

C. P. Dean, corresponding secretary of the cutters' local of the Independent Boot and Shoe Workers' Union, announced Tuesday that the members of the union at separate meetings of the five locals Tuesday unanimously voted not to go back to work unless their demands are granted.

"It was a rising vote," said Mr. Dean, "and all classes of employes were represented. Not one of them showed any desire to yield. We are in good shape financially, and very few calls for help have come from our members.

"There are now 23,000 shoeworkers in our union and the organization is stronger than it ever was. We heard that the manufacturers were planning to open their shops. If they do they cannot count upon any of us working under the old conditions."

Factories to Be Reopened.

The ten St. Louis shoe manufacturing companies whose factories have been idle for five weeks because of a strike of cutters and a sympathetic walkout of the other employes will reopen their factories Wednesday, according to a joint announcement issued Tuesday

The notice is in the nature of an invitation to the strikers to return to work. It reads:

Notice.—Our factories will open Wednesday morning, Oct. 16, 7 o'clock, and will want about 75 per cent of the number of shoe workers heretofore employed. Brown Shoe Co., Carruthers-Jones Shoe Co., Courtney Shoe Co., Geo. F. Wittman Boot and Shoe Co., Giesecke-D'Oench Hays Shoe Co., Goodbar Shoe Manufacturing Co., Hamilton-Brown Shoe Co., Kerens Shoe Co., Peters Shoe Co., Roberts, Johnson & Rand Shoe Co.

Preference for Strikers.

Strikers will be given the preference and those who apply first will be put to work.

H. W. Peters, president of the Peters Shoe Co., said: "We cannot remain idle always. All that can be said now is that we mean to open our factories tomorrow and that we would as soon give the jobs to strikers as to anyone else."

The strike started when 1500 shoe cutters, employed by the 10 factories asked their employers to give them a nine-hour day without a reduction in salary. Heretofore they had been working 10 hours a day.

Sympathetic Strike.

The demand was denied. Other employes of the factories worked for two days while negotiations with the cutters were on and then walked out in sympathy.

The total number of employes out on strike was stated to be more than 6000, while the total number out including the nonunion employes, whose services could not be used unless the cutters worked, has been stated to be nearly 15,000. The strike has been orderly and there has been no violence at any of the factories.

George Frank, financial secretary of the Independent Boot and Shoe Workers' Union, said Tuesday that the strikers will pay no attention to the opening of the factories Wednesday.

"We are in a strong position," said he, "and so far there have been no desertions from the union. I don't think there will be. The companies have not notified us directly that they mean to open their factories, but we have known of the plan for several days. At meetings held in the last week we have repeatedly put ourselves on record as intending to remain out until our demands are granted. There are 20,000 shoe workers out."

An official of one of the largest of the shoe companies said:

"We expect to have no difficulty in opening our factories. Between 15,000 and 20,000 employes are out. They will find the doors open for as many of them as we can use."

PUMPS FORCE BODY OF BOY FROM SEWER

Three Days' Search for Youth Who Lost Life Is Rewarded.

FATHER WAS PRESENT

He Had Not Abandoned the Scene Except During Darkness.

The body of Adolph Lohmueller Jr., the 17-year-old boy who lost his life in the sewer at the foot of Cherokee street last Saturday, was recovered at 1:58 p. m. Tuesday, after three days of heroic work by volunteers.

A shoe protruding from the splintered sewer pipe sent a cry of "Here he is!" thrilling through the immense crowd watching for the rescue of the body Otto Lohmueller, the father, working knee deep in the muddy trench, was overcome with emotion. He was led away from the scene, sobbing like a child.

The workmen knew they were close to the body when at 11 o'clock the sewer pipe was broken about 20 feet from the river bank in the third and last trench sunk at that point to intercept the sewer.

Sewer Pipe Broken.

A crowbar driven between a joint separated the pipe. A hook inserted into the break was fastened by a line to the donkey engine on the pile driving boat that has been utilized in the rescue work. The engine was started and tore the pipe further apart.

At 1 o'clock a street railway rail was thrust into the pipe. A cable was attached to the protruding end. The engine staggered with the effort to rend the remaining pipe. The rail tore its way through the iron casting until within a few feet of the sewer mouth.

Just at this point the shoe of the dead boy appeared and the cry of discovery followed. One of the workmen caught the shoe and drew the body from the pipe. The father covered his face and was led to the house of the South Side Fishing and Hunting Club, nearby. Other men tenderly lifted the body and bore it through the rear entrance of the club building.

The crowd, which had broken through the ropes, 20 feet from the trenches, surged after the bearers of the body and made the approaches to the building impassable.

PARTLY CLOUDY, WARMER, THEN PARTLY CLOUDY AGAIN, IS WEATHER PREDICTION

Little Sunshine Is Promised to Make These October Days Really Enjoyable.

THE TEMPERATURES.

Midnight	57	10 a. m.	50
2 a. m.	47	12 (noon)	59
4 a. m.	48	1 p. m.	63
8 a. m.	47	3 p. m.	68

You couldn't call it nice weather, but it will be warmer anyway. There will not be enough sunshine to make the next 24 hours a time to choose for autumn picnics, but there will be no harsh north winds and if rains should happen to leak out of some of the "partly" clouds, it will not be of such violent sort as to keep folks indoors.

The forecast: "Partly cloudy and warmer tonight; Wednesday partly cloudy, moderate temperature; south and southwest winds."

The river is 12.1, a fall of .6.

The storm center over Iowa has caused rain in Northern Missouri and Illinois, as wel as in Iowa. There have also been rains in Colorado and California. Frost has invaded Central Mississippi, Southern Alabama and Northern Georgia.

Temperatures in other cites at 7 a. m., as compared with St. Louis' 46 degrees, were: Kansas City, 52; St. Paul, 46; San Francisco, 50; New Orleans, 56; Denver, 44; Chicago, 50; Washington, 42; Cincinnati, 38; Boston and New York, 44.

ENGLISH BALLOONISTS NOW IN ST. LOUIS WHO WILL SAIL IN INTERNATIONAL RACE

CLAUD BRABASON. GRIFFITH BREWER.

BULLET FIRED BY DETECTIVE AT FUGITIVE

Man Arrested in Poolroom Dashes Across Olive Street and Escapes.

Detective McMullen fired one shot after an escaping prisoner, who was fleeing down the alley Tuesday afternoon, between Pine and Olive streets in the block bounded by Sixth and Broadway. The bullet missed the fugitive and struck a wagon wheel, from which it glanced to a rear brick wall of the new Third National Bank building, where it flattened and fell to the ground.

The detective continued to chase his man across Olive street and on through the continuation of the alley to Locust street, where he was lost in the crowd of excited persons who were attracted by the shooting.

McMullen arrested the man in a pool room on the second floor of a building with its corner on the alley, where the prisoner made his break for liberty. Those in charge of the pool room denied having any knowledge of the arrest, but Western Union messenger boys who loiter in the alley witnessed the arrest and the escape.

Detectives McMullin and Wells later arrested five men on a charge of gambling on the game of "Kelly" pool at the poolroom at 203 North Broadway.

WOMAN WANTS POLICE QUICK TO CATCH BURGLARS AT WORK

This Time It Is No Rats, but a Stray Dog That Aroused Timid Householder.

The silence in the office of Night Chief of Police Gillaspy was disturbed at 10 p. m., Monday, by the telephone.

"Please send officers at once. Burglars are trying to force their way into the house," exclaimed an excited feminine voice at the other end.

"What's your address?"

"Don't bother about that. Just send the officers to Sarah street and McPherson avenue. If they get here soon enough they will see the burglars at work."

An hour later Lieut. McNamara of the Newstead Avenue District reported to the Night Chief.

"It's a case for the City Marshal," said McNamara. "That burglar scare was caused by a stray dog walking about on a front porch."

DIED AFTER FALL FROM BARN

Farm Hand Went to Sleep in Haymow and Tumbled Out.

Ignatz Alder, aged 69, a farmhand employed by Adam Enge, at Ogle Station, five miles west of Belleville, fell 15 feet through a hole in a hay loft and received injuries from which he died Monday night. Alder celebrated Sunday at a roadhouse near the farm.

Chased Wife; Fined $300.

John Welby of 2009 Wash street was fined $300 in the Dayton Street Police Court Tuesday, on the testimony of his wife, Mary, that he had pursued her about their home with a knife, cursing her, because she would not give him money to buy whisky.

BOY SLAYER OF MOTHER SAYS HE SHOT AT THIEF

Kansas City Police Hold Youth of 17 Whose Story They Doubt.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 15.—George Smiley, aged 17 years, shot and killed his mother, Mrs. Lizzie Scholfer, aged 42, in their home, 2943 Myrtle avenue, at 3:30 o'clock this morning. In a statement to the officers Smiley said he shot his mother in defending her against a burglar. He is being held for investigation.

Following the shooting Smiley gave the alarm to the neighbors and search was immediately made for the burglar, but no trace of him could be found. The boy was taken to the station and questioned. He told a dramatic story of how he had killed his mother in trying to defend her. Smiley said he had been awakened by the screams of his mother, who told him there was a burglar in the house. The woman had grappled with the man and told Smiley to get his shotgun. A moment later the burglar had freed himself and was making an attempt to escape when Mrs. Scholfer ordered Smiley to shoot. As Smiley raised his gun, a single-barreled affair, and fired, the burglar, he says, pushed the woman in front of him. The charge struck the woman and she sank to the floor, dying within a few minutes.

After an investigation today the Coroner found Mrs. Scholfer's money and jewelry untouched.

PRESIDENT HEDGES MOVES INTO DOWNTOWN OFFICE

The winter downtown headquarters of the St. Louis American League Baseball Club, 606 Mechanics-American Bank Building, are about ready to receive President Hedges and Secretary Rickart. Most of the office furniture has already been installed and Hedges will probably attend to his business in the new quarters tomorrow.

Rickart and a number of the players are still barnstorming in the southern part of the State playing a few exhibition games.

Manager Mercer is at his home in Youngstown, Pa., looking over his stock in the McAleer-Snodgrass Haberdashing Co.

MOB AFTER JUNKMAN WHO ASSAULTED GIRL OF NINE

He Escaped From Deputy Sheriff and Armed Nebraskans Are in Pursuit.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Oct. 15.—An armed mob is in close pursuit of Charles Foster, a junk dealer, who yesterday evening assaulted the 9-year-old daughter of Henry Busler, a farmer.

Foster escaped from a deputy sheriff last night near Cairo and the mob at once took up the pursuit.

CHAMPAGNE WAS INJUN BURGLAR'S FAVORITE LOOT

Halfbreed Tells East St. Louis Police of Many Burglaries.

A confession made Tuesday afternoon to the East St. Louis police by Richard Burns, a half-breed Indian prisoner, covered six burglaries and attempted burglaries in East St. Louis and one St. Louis robbery, and showed that the Indian is the mysterious man who has been drinking wine cellars dry on his midnight visits to the East Side homes.

Unlike many aborigines of pure blood, who like any drink just so it's whisky, Burns prefers champagne. He drank nearly all there was in the home of John Meehan, 1116 Pennsylvania avenue, East St. Louis, the night of Oct. 7, and ate some cold chicken to keep his thirst keen.

From the Meehan home he went to that of W. C. Thrasher, 655 North Thirteenth street, where he stole silverware, a watch and money.

Burns admitted these robberies Tuesday, and also said that he robbed the home of Paul W. Abt, president of the First National Bank of East St. Louis, Sept. 24, eating and drinking before he left, that he did the same at Charles Hauss' home, 1459 North Tenth street, four nights later, and that in the same week he attempted to get into the homes of John Ehrhardt, at Eighth street and Illinois avenue, and Ernest Abt, on Pennsylvania avenue.

He also admitted that he was the "bellhop" who disappeared from the Windermere Hotel, 5601 Delmar boulevard, recently, taking a watch and clothing.

Self-Invited Elks' Guest.

The police expect to connect him with several other robberies on both sides of the river, including the burglary of the East St. Louis Elks' Club, where large quantities of champagne were gulped down by the intruder.

He pawned in St. Louis goods stolen on the East Side, and in East St. Louis the goods stolen in St. Louis. He was arrested as he was trying to sell the Thrasher silverware on Franklin avenue, St. Louis, Monday afternoon.

The prisoner, who has recently gone by the name of Clarence Walters, is 18 years old. He told the police he was the son of a white man and a full-blood Cherokee woman, who was a teacher in the Carlisle Indian School before her marriage. When he became 21 years old, he said, he would become the owner of valuable Indian Territory land.

PETTIBONE'S TRIAL OCT. 28

Western Miners' Official Charged With Complicity in Steunenberg Case.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

BOISE, Idaho, Oct. 15.—The trial of George A. Pettibone, charged with complicity in the assassination of former Gov. Steunenberg, was postponed today until Oct. 28.

Judge Wood said he was certain the defendant's physical condition would permit of his trial on Oct. 23, but the defense requested a few days' longer delay and the 28th was agreed upon.

THERE SHE GOES! BALLOON PSYCHE IN TEST FLIGHT

IS UP FOR ALL NIGHT

U. S. Signal Corps Man Goes Along Preparing for Big Race.

The balloon Psyche rose from the gas plant at Second and Rutger streets at 1:45 p. m. Tuesday as gracefully as the goddess for which it is named, bearing J. C. McCoy and Capt. Charles DeForest Chandler of the United States Army heavenward in the first ascension preliminary to the international races to be held here.

When the big gas bag was filled and McCoy and Capt. Chandler had taken their places in the wicker basket, the ropes attached to the balloon were held by Signal Service men until, by "jockeying" the piles of coal, poles, derrick and gas tank which threatened the flight were successfully avoided.

In doing this McCoy threw out three of the 60-pound sand bags used as ballast, and the balloon shot upward rapidly, drifting with a brisk breeze to the northwest.

Carries Heavy Ballast.

The ballast still remaining in the basket, with the weight of the passengers, made a good load for the Psyche, a small balloon. McCoy weighs 170 pounds and Capt. Chandler 160, and eight 60-pound sacks of sand remained.

Among those who witnessed the ascension were Augustus Post, secretary of the Aero Club of America, and Alan R. awley, who expect to make an ascension Tuesday evening to test the lifting qualities of the gas generated at the plant.

Others present were L. D. (Bud) Dozier, Albert Bond Lambert, Capt. O. W. Bell, Herbert Walker, Griffith Brewer, Lincoln Beachy, Edward Mallinckrodt Jr., Col. R. K. Evans, Daniel Nugent and half a dozen army officers. They said the Psyche had made an auspicious start.

Are Thoroughly Equipped.

McCoy and Chandler expect to remain in air all afternoon, and perhaps all night. They took with them in the basket a statoscope, to determine after dark whether the balloon is rising or falling; a barthermograph, which is a combination of a barometer and thermometer; a hydrometer, to measure the moisture in the air; a compass and several maps of St. Louis and surrounding territory.

Sailers on the Way.

All of the balloonists, except the German and French entries, are now in the city. The Germans are expected Tuesday, but the French aeronauts will not arrive until later in the week. The Frenchmen spent Monday in Chicago and intended making one or two more stops before coming to St. Louis.

The dirigible balloon "Beachy," which is the first of its class to arrive for next week's races, is being erected at the aeronautic concourse at Euclid avenue and King's highway, and will be protected from possible storms and from other damage by a large tent.

Beachy Ship Cigar Shaped.

The machine is cigar-shaped, 52 feet long, and has a capacity of 6500 cubic feet.

Its owner, Loncoln Beachy, is only 20 years old. Accompanied by his wife, he is at the St. James Hotel. He is superintending the erection of his airship.

Five Dirigible Balloons.

Five other dirigible balloons, similar to the "Beachy," have been entered in the one-mile contest, and it is expected that all of them will be in the city before the week's end.

Murray Carleton has called a meeting of the Reception Committee that is to have charge of quartering and entertaining the visiting foreigners, for Wednesday afternoon. Lon V. Stephens, Dr. O. E. Forster, Nathan Frank and Goodman King have been added to the committee. David R. Francis has been elected vice-chairman. The committee has made plans for a dinner to the visiting aeronauts Oct. 19 at the St. Louis Club.

"Liquid Gas" Rivals Electric Light.

The illuminating material known as "liquid gas" was discovered three or four years ago by Hermann Blau, the Bavarian chemist, says the Philadelphia Record. It is made from oil gas. By a process of rectification the methane and hydrogen contained in it are separated from the gas, and, by a pressure of 40 atmospheres, are reduced to the liquid form in steel receivers. The compound can be used in the place of petroleum, alcohol and acetylene, and it is said to give a light of a beautiful color, preferable to that of the electric light.

EVERY BUILDING IN TOWN RAZED; 19 BODIES FOUND

WINDOWS SHATTERED IN TOWNS 35 MILES AWAY

Relief Train Taking Injured to Terre Haute—Doctors and Nurses From Nearby Towns Assist in Rescue—Shocks Felt in Cincinnati and Indianapolis.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

BRAZIL, Ind., Oct. 15.—From 25 to 30 persons, dead or dying, 100 injured and every house in Fontanet destroyed, rendering 800 homeless, is the result of an explosion of the powder in the mills of the Dupont Powder Co., near Fontanet, at 9:15 o'clock today.

The first explosion occurred in the glazing mill of the plant at 9:15. Quickly following, the other mills blew up, there being three distinct concussions at intervals of a few minutes. In the mills 75 to 80 men were at work. When the glazing mill went up the men ran for their lives from the other mills, and many thus escaped death, but received serious injuries.

NOT A BUILDING IS LEFT STANDING.

At the first explosion the inhabitants of the town ran from the buildings and thus saved themselves. No one was killed in the town, although there is not a building left standing.

At 10:45, 90 minutes after the first explosion, the heat from the burning mills exploded the great powder magazine situated in a hollow several hundred yards from the mills. It contained many thousand kegs of powder, and the concussion was even greater than that from the explosions of the mills.

Among those injured from the magazine explosion were several physicians who were at work amnog the dead and dying.

A freight train standing on a siding leading to the powder mills was partly destroyed by the concussion and took fire.

HEAT PREVENTED REMOVAL OF THE DEAD.

The heat from the burning mills and freight train was so great that it was impossible to remove many of the bodies from the wreckage. Eighteen mangled bodies were taken to the Morgue to await identification. The injured were found scattered everywhere and were collected and relief given as rapidly as possible.

Fronts, roofs, sides and even foundations of many buildings have been blown to atoms. Great holes are torn in the ground, fences have vanished and household goods from the ruined homes are in confused heaps of debris in all directins. The people of the town, who had rushed from their homes at the first explosion, were saved because of this. The shock from the exploding magazine wrecked the buildings of the town.

The first body taken from the wrecked mills was that of "Doc" Carroll, an employe. It was burned almost crisp, but the man was still alive and begged for some one to shoot him and put him out of his misery. He lived but a few minutes.

VICTIMS ARE ALL FEARFULLY MANGLED.

The bodies of two other employes, Ves Dial and his son, were found near Carroll. Will Dalton was found unconscious, his body badly mangled. He cannot live. Charles Wells, engineer on the freight train, is badly injured. He is burned and his left leg is fractured.

A brick school building, a quarter mile fro mthe mills, was wrecked and many of the children within were injured, some seriously, but none fatally. A farmhouse three-quarters of a mile distance, was totally destroyed.

Fontanet is a coal mining town of 800 inhabitants, situated on the Big Four Railroad, 18 miles east of Terre Haute and 12 miles from here. The explosion interrupted telephone communication with outside points. Assistance was asked for at once and physicians with bandages left both places in carriages and automobiles to render aid.

Superintendent Monahan of the mills is missing and is believed to have been blown to pieces and his body burned.

The mill which exploded was devoted to the manufacture of blasting powder. A representative of the company here said no definite information had been received concerning the explosion. He said the plant was a large one.

LIKE EARTHQUAKE AT CINCINNATI.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

CINCINNATI, Oct. 15.—A slight shock similar to that of an earthquake was noticed here at 9:20 this morning. Prof. Porter of the University of Cincinnati reported it as very light, but distinctly noticeable.

In Southern Indiana several points reported a shock in somewhat more severe form, and it was also reported from Hamilton, O.

SHOCK FELT AT INDIANAPOLIS.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 15.—The shock from the explosion at Fontanet was heard in this city. At Crawfordville, 35 miles from Fontanet, the shock cracked a brick wall and sank tiling in a floor one inch.

All telephone connection with Fontanet is lost and parties have left Terre Haute and Brazil in automobiles to learn the details.

The powder company employe about 100 men and has been running full capacity. As the explosion occurred at 9:15, it is believed a full force was at work at the mill.

JUDGE REFUSES TO TAKE MAGILL CASE FROM JURY

Defense's Demurrer, Filed After State Closed Case, Is Overruled.

"NO PROOF OF GUILT"

Prosecution's Evidence Referred to as "Hogwash and Gabble."

DOCTOR LAST WITNESS

Physician Who Exhumed Body Denies Pet Magill Had Heart Disease.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

DECATUR, Ill., Oct. 15.—Judge Cochran today refused the request of the defense in the Magill murder trial to take the case from the jury. He decided to have the case go to the jury and ordered the trial to proceed.

The State closed its presentation of testimony at 10 o'clock this morning. The attorney for the defense then filed a demurrer to the evidence and asked the Court to instruct the jury to return a verdict of not guilty. The jury was sent from the courtroom and the demurrer was argued by the lawyers for both sides.

The defense argued that in a murder case two things must be proven—the death of the person alleged to have been murdered, and the fact that the death was brought about by the criminal agency of the accused person. The defense argued that there was not a scrap of evidence pointing to the guilt of the accused. It was established beyond doubt, the lawyers said, that Pet Magill died of chloroform poison. Pinned to the bosom of her night dress was a little bag, and in that bag was a letter proven, the defense argued, to have been in the handwriting of the dead woman, and saying that she had committed suicide. The defense characterized the bulk of the testimony introduced against the accused as "gossip of long-nosed women," as "hogwash and gabble."

Says Motive Was Proved.

The State's Attorney declared in his argument that a motive for the murder of Pet Magill by Fred and Faye had been clearly proven. For a year Fred, a married man, had been courting Faye, a young girl, and his visits to her were so frequent that the storekeeper for whom she worked had to remonstrate.

"It has been my experience," said Mr. Redmon, "that when a man of 40 becomes infatuated with a girl of 20, if there is anything on earth that will cause him to make a fool of himself, that will. His infatuation will cause him to violate all the laws of common sense and decency.

"Fred Magill and Faye Graham were infatuated with each other. But there was one stumbling block in the way to the gratification of their desires. They couldn't get married while the wife was alive. Fred could not get a divorce from her because she had done nothing wrong and in order for him to marry Faye Pet Magill had to be disposed of.

"To the pure woman nothing is so sacred as the sanctity of her home, her character and the purity of her children.

"Pet Magill was tied to a man whose morals were loose. His conduct had driven her to distraction. He brought his mistress into his home to associate with his wife, and he did it to drive her to suicide. He wished her to commit suicide. If, instead of doing something to prevent it, he did something to encourage her to do it, if he went on and drove her to suicide, then, under the laws of Illinois, he is guilty of murder, and the case ought to be submitted to a jury.

"The malice consists in the desire for the wife to kill herself, and if Fred Magill or Faye Graham did or said one thing to encourage her to kill herself, they are guilty."

Doctor Last Witness.

The last witness for the State was Dr. W. A. Evans of Chicago. He was one of the doctors who performed the autopsy on the body of Mrs. Pet Magill.

He testified today that they went to the cemetery at midnight and took the body from its grave and examined all the vital organs. The body had been buried then more than a month. Dr. Evans said:

"We examined closely the brain, heart, lungs, stomach, liver, kidneys and other organs. All were in a healthy, normal condition."

The family physician of the Magills had testified earlier in the trial that Mrs. Pet Magill had heart disease. Dr. Evans was asked if the heart was diseased. He answered:

"Her heart was healthy and normal. There was nothing the matter with it, no disease of any kind."

Dr. Evans made a microscopical examination of the lungs. He was asked if they were congested or if they showed any signs of chloroform poisoning.

"It was impossible to determine," he answered. "The lungs of a person dying of chloroform inhalation will be congested, but this body had been embalmed with formaline, and that fluid destroys all trace of lung congestion. It was impossible for us to determine the cause of death."

"Were there any signs of external injury?"

"There were none. We examined the body carefully for bruises or signs of violence, and found none."

STATEMENT BY TENNENT GOT A $100,000 LOAN

President of Franklin Bank Tells of Financial Transactions.

FIGURES ARE DISPUTED

Sales Said to Have Been Smaller Than Were Represented.

W. G. Garrels, president of the Franklin Bank, was cross-examined Tuesday by the attorneys for the defense in the trial of John H. Tennent, in Judge Williams' court, on a charge of obtaining from the bank $75,000 on a false statement. Garrels testified that when Tennent brought him the statement of the shoe company's financial condition he went to see other bankers before making the loan.

The witness testified that he called on President Huttig of the Third National Bank, and made inquiries about the Tennent Shoe Co. He said Mr. Huttig told him he thought the company was all right, but that he had refused to extend its credit at the Third National Bank.

Garrels said he then went to Herman Hunicke of the German Savings Institution, and inquired about the company. He found that bank had also refused to extend the company's credit, but that Mr. Hunicke thought the company was all right. A statement purporting to have been O-K'd by Mr. Huttig was introduced in evidence, after a long argument.

The attorneys for Tennent questioned Mr. Garrels, at length regarding the shoe company's account. Garrells said that Tennent had drawn checks on his current account at the bank to pay some of the notes, but he did not know whether the balance, at the time, was sufficient to meet the checks.

Mr. Huttig told a Post-Dispatch reporter that Mr. Garrels called on him and asked him whether he thought Tennent was honest.

"I told him," said Mr. Huttig, "that such was our opinion of him, but that his account was not satisfactory, and for that reason we had declined to carry it. I did not O. K. any paper in connection with the transaction, and if any such paper was introduced it must have come from some other source."

HEAVY HIGHWAY TOLLS AS CURE FOR THE MOTORISTS

Englishman Would Make Travel on Country Road Too Costly for Wealthy Even.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—If Frederick Harrison, chief of the Positivists, had his way, it would be cheaper for a motorist to build a highway for a single trip than pay the toll on a public thoroughfare.

Mr. Harrison proposed a tollgate every 15 miles, where policemen are on guard to catch the time and speed and collect from $5 to $20 toll, according to the power of the machine, for use of the roads and maintenance of the gates.

A trip to Brighton from London, for instance, would cost a high-power car $85 in tolls each way, while a run to Portsmouth would yield $130. Only the wealthy would be able to visit Plymouth by motor, for its 213 miles, at $20 for every 15, would take $355, while a week-end trip to Edinburgh, if there were any motorists left, would cost $1310 in tolls alone.

GHOULS VISIT OLD VAULT OF A PROMINENT FAMILY

Even Name Plates Stolen From Casket of Congressman Killed in Duel.

VICKSBURG, Miss., Oct. 14.—The old family vault of W. A. Lake, a former Mississippi Congressman, who was killed in a duel with Congressman Chamberlis before the civil war, has been visited by ghouls. It has not yet been learned whether any of the jewelry or bones were taken. Several silver name plates are missing off the caskets.

The vault was built in 1849, and has become dilapidated.

CONDEMNED MAN DRIVES GHOST OF MURDERED GIRL FROM CELL

No Longer Plays Insane, but Becomes Resigned to His Fate.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 12.—After weeks of fighting against his fate, shamming insanity and making several attempts at suicide, Charles Watzel of Shenandoah, who was convicted of the murder of his sweetheart, Marie Bolinski, is now resigned to die on the gallows. He declares he is penitent and is no longer haunted by the ghost of the murdered girl. The day for his execution has not been fixed.

Collision on McKinley Line.

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill., Oct. 15.—Express train 1051 on the McKinley electric line and a westbound freight on the Wabash met at right angles on the Mine 15 crossing at Mount Olive this morning. The crews jumped in time and no one was hurt.

ROBBED BY TALL AND SHORT MEN AT HOUSE DOOR

W. F. Huey Severely Beaten Before $71, Watch and Suit Cases Are Taken.

ATTACKED IN STREET

After Being Overpowered Salesman Is Dragged Into Residence Vestibule.

CLOTHING BADLY TORN

Robbers Are Pursued, but Get Away Before Policeman Appears.

Will F. Huey of Springfield, Ill., a traveling salesman, was beaten and robbed early Tuesday in the vestibule of a dwelling at 1721 Washington avenue by a tall man and a short man, who dragged him from the sidewalk into the yard and up the steps of the house.

The robbers took Huey's gold watch, his two suit cases, one filled with clothing and the other with samples, and his purse, containing $71.

Occupants of the house were not aroused by the struggle at its front door, and Mrs. Jennie White, who keeps boarders there, was unwilling to believe that the robbery had taken place until she found Huey's vest buttons, torn off by the robbers, in the vestibule.

Huey, hatless and half blinded by the beating he had received, looked down the street and saw the man with his suit cases running away and his comrade sprinting to overtake him.

He started to run after them, but stopped exhausted at Seventeenth street and called for a policeman. One came, and as the robbers were not in view, took Huey to the Marquette Hotel. There a physician dressed his cuts and bruises, and he was given a room.

Policemen went to the house where the robbery took place, and soon satisfied themselves that no one in the house knew anything of the attack. Their inquiries awoke all in the house and many persons in neighboring houses. Huey's hat was found in the yard.

Huey says that one of his assailants was fully 6 feet tall, and the other 5 feet 6 inches.

CROWN PRINCE IS A CLERK

Frederick William Studies Work of Government First Hand.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Copyright, 1907, by the Press Pub. Co. (New York World.)

BERLIN, Oct. 15.—Crown Prince Frederick William yesterday morning became a junior clerk in one of the departments of the Ministry of the Interior. He took his seat on a stool at a desk at 9 o'clock, like the other clerks in the department, and remained at work with regulation intervals until 6 o'clock in the evening.

For 12 months the Prince, who has been relieved of military duty in order that he may study administration, will apply himself to the work of this important ministry and will be subject to exactly the same discipline as the others who share his labors.

FALLS 25 FEET, SLIGHTLY HURT

John Modock Steps Over Edge of Franklin Avenue Excavation.

While working on a sewer in the course of construction at Seventh ond Wash streets, Tuesday morning, John Modock, 29 years old, of 1525 Franklin avenue, an employe of the Cooney Construction Co., stepped over the edge of the excavation, and fell 25 feet to the bottom, turning completely over twice, according to witnesses.

When fellow-workers hastened to his assistance, expecting to find him seriously injured, he was found to have escaped with a severe scalp wound. He was taken to the City Hospital.

GETS JUDGMENT AGAINST ESTATE

J. J. Groves Denies Henry Schroeder Gave Notes for Poker Debt.

The heirs of Henry Schroeder of 2105 Adelaide avenue, who died last July, resisted payment on two prómissory notes to John J. Groves, aggregating $1300, on the ground that they were given in payment of gambling debts.

Groves admitted Tuesday in the Probate Court that he had often played poker with Schroeder, but said the stakes were invariably small and that neither ever lost much money. He said the notes were in return for legitimate loans and his claim was allowed. Schroeder's estate amounts to $30,000.

COUNTERFEIT QUEEN ARRESTED

Stella Davis, known to the police and Government Secret Service agents throughout the country as the "coin-acker queen," is again in the toils. She was arrested when found smoking opium in a second-floor room at 1507 Washington avenue.

Only three weeks ago Stella Davis was released from a Government prison, where she served a three-years' sentence for counterfeiting. She will be held the usual length of time the police require to investigate ex-convicts' records and then ordered to leave the city.

"THE MAN OF THE HOUR" BARRED FROM CLEVELAND UNTIL AFTER ELECTION

Friends of Mayor Johnson Say Dan Hanna Is Responsible for Switch in Program.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 15.—"The Man of the Hour," George Broadhurst's dramatic broadside at public-service corporation corruption, scheduled for the Euclid Avenue Opera House for the week of Oct. 21, has been barred until the week of Nov. 23, after the voters have chosen between Tom L. Johnson and his public-service program and Congressman Theodore E. Burton, Republican mayoralty nominee, who is running on a traction program opposed to that of Mayor Johnson.

The Press, supporting Mayor Johnson, today disclosed the substitution for the week of Oct. 21, of George Cohan's "Fifty Miles From Boston," and charged Dan R. Hanna, son of Senator Hanna, with the responsibility.

Mr. Hanna, from his country home in Ravenna, denied that he had brought about the change in the bookings. The Press charges that Hanna, through the power of censorship over opera house attractions vested in Senator Hanna's heirs, who own the opera house, dictated the substitute for fear of the effect of the play on the Cleveland voters.

POLICY SUSPECT EXPECTED TO INVOLVE MEN "HIGHER UP"

Grand Jury to Be Asked to Investigate Record of Alleged Gambler.

It was said at Police Headquarters Tuesday that the grand jury will be asked to investigate the record of a man who has several times been arrested on a charge of conducting a policy game, but against whom it has been impossible to obtain a conviction.

Through him it is thought the jury may learn the names of the "men higher up" who have so far escaped even arrest, though they are said to thrive off the petty gambling of policy players.

The last time the man whose record will be investigated was arrested an information against him was refused by an official of the Circuit Attorney's office.

HAMILTON CAR CHANGE IN COURT

City Attorney Summons Vice-President McCulloch.

Capt. Robert McCulloch, vice-president of the United Railways Co., must appear in the City Hall Police Court, Oct. 29, and tell why his company diverted its Wellston line from Olive street and left Hamilton avenue without as good car service as it had before the change was made.

The summons was issued by City Attorney Tom Anderson on complaint of residents on Hamilton avenue. It charges that Capt. McCulloch has violated the ordinance which provides that the street car company cannot abandon a route without the consent of the Mayor and the Municipal Assembly. The maximum penalty is a $50 fine.

NEW WAY TO AVOID JURY DUTY

Just Tell Judge You Do Not Believe in Litigation.

John B. Elardin of 2907 Neosho avenue has conscientious scruples against litigation. He thinks all differences should be settled out of court. Elardin was one of a jury panel Tuesday in Judge Sale's court. When he explained his unusual views and asked to be excused Judge Sale looked surprised and a little shocked.

"Suppose I owed the Sheriff a just debt of $50, and it was proven to you that I owed it, but refused to pay," Judge Sale argued with Elardin. "Would you give a verdict against me?"

"No, indeed," said Elardin. "I wouldn't give a verdict either way."

POLICE CHIEF'S $1000 IN FEES STIRS COUNCIL

Alton Lawmaker Thinks His $85 a Month Salary Is Enough.

INQUIRY IS STARTED

Chief Says He Earns and Uses It for Telephones and Paper.

JUSTICE A SUPPORTER

Says He Will Continue Giving Share of Fines Until Enjoined.

The Police and Judiciary committees of the Alton City Council will meet Thursday to consider the practice, now prevailing in the Alton police court, of allowing Chief of Police Maxwell 60 cents for every fine or costs collected.

The amount thus paid to the Chief is said to aggregate from $800 to $1000 a year, and is in addition to his salary of $85 a month.

Alderman Max Trube, who started the inquiry, contends that the Chief is not entitled to this fee, and says that if it cannot be done away, the Chief's salary should be cut down. Some other members of the committee are said to agree with him.

The Chief defends the custom on the ground that his $5000 bond entitles him to the fees of a constable. He says that he pays incidental office expenses, including stationery and telephone tolls, from the sums thus received.

Police Magistrate Grosh also defends the practice of allowing the fees, and says he will continue to allow them until enjoined against doing so.

Trube said Tuesday: "The Chief's practice of collecting fees is keeping the constables out of the living to which they are entitled. Policemen are detailed for warrant-serving work, which constables should do, and have to neglect their police duty in consequence. Either this sum ought not to be collected, or it ought to go to the city."

LEARNS HIS WIFE IS A TICKET-OF-LEAVE WOMAN

Arrested While Walking With Her American Husband in London, She Is Forgiven.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Copyright, 1907, by the Press Pub. Co. (New York World.)

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Mr. Larrimore, a dealer in trotting horses from Pennsylvania, and his wife were walking on Hempstead road yesterday, when detectives stopped them.

"Are you not Mrs. Bates?" they abruptly asked the woman.

"No, I'm Mrs. Larrimore," she answered. "This is my husband."

Larrimore was furiously angry, but, despite his resistance, the detectives arrested her and took her before a magistrate. They charged that Mrs. Larrimore, then Mrs. Bates, had been released from prison here on ticket-of-leave by going to America without informing the prison authorities of her change of residence.

While her American husband, who knew nothing of the past, wept, Mrs. Larrimore admitted that the detectives spoke the truth. She pleaded that she had come to London to see her son by her first husband. The merciful magistrate discharged her, saying she had been sufficiently punished by the disclosure. The Larrimores left court together, he assuring her that nothing can change his affection for her.

PASTOR'S SALOON SIGNS PROMISE CONGREGATNON WILL NOT GO TO SLEEP

Rev. J. E. Meeker Assures Bar Patrons That His Services Begin and End Promptly on Time.

Rev. Dr. Jacob E. Meeker, pastor of the Compton Hill Congregational Church, is devising signs similar to the following, which will be placed in all the saloons and barber shops in the vicinity of his church:

Sleep in Church?
Well, You Won't If You Come to Compton Hill Congregational Church. We Start on Time and We Quit on Time. You're Welcome. The Reverend Jacob E. Meeker, Pastor.

With such invitations, attractively colored and framed, does Dr. Meeker hope to lead the wandering sinner to the doors of his church.

WOULD HANG ALL "AFFINITIES"

Presbyterian Minister Thinks Also That Heretics Are Not Fit to Live.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15.—Rev. Dr. Robert M. Patterson, a minister of the Presbyterian Church, who is well known in Albany, Chicago and Philadelphia, and who has lived in Malvern, an outskirt of this city, since his retirement from the ministry several years ago, caused an uproar in a presbytery meeting here by declaring that the death penalty should be inflicted upon all heretics, blasphemers and co-respondents in all divorce cases.

Persons who sought out affinities should be harshly dealt with by law, said Dr. Patterson.

MARTIN HEADS COUNTY LEAGUE

Law Enforcement Society Wants $100-a-Month Secretary.

L. C. Martin is president of the newly organized St. Louis County Law-Enforcement Association. He was elected at a meeting held after luncheon Monday at the Mercantile Club in St. Louis.

Jackson Johnson, who lives in University City, was made treasurer. A secretary was not chosen. The petition is to pay $100 a month. One purpose of the association is to submit a petition for a new special grand jury in the county.

MAYOR WELLS FORGETS DATE AND DOESN'T DEDICATE HALL

Temperance Exercises Are Continued So He Can Be Present Tuesday.

Mayor Wells showed his need of one of "Bud" Dozier's patent date reminding calendars when he forgot an engagement to speak at the dedication of Father Coffey's new Temperance Hall, Twenty-first and Mullanphy streets, Monday night.

"I thought it was Tuesday night," said the Mayor, with profuse apologies, when those in charge of the affair, fearing some accident had befallen him, telephoned to his home.

The Mayor was told that the dedication exercises would continue Tuesday night, and that the people of St. Leo's would be glad to see him then.

A large crowd attended the exercises, which opened a week's bazar for the benefit of the new hall. The Blarney-stone proved a popular attraction. A street parade will be held Wednesday evening.

Sells More Gas Than it Makes.

Accounts have recently been published of a gas works in Switzerland which is in the happy position of being able to sell more gas than it makes. This apparent anomaly is explained by the circumstance that the factory is situated about 820 feet below the holder and the place where the gas is consumed. The rise in level causes the gas to expand and increase the pressure in the main by some six inches. The town served by the undertaking is St. Gall, and the factory is on the shore of Lake Constance, six miles away.

Morocco's First Railway.

The first railway in Morocco was opened some months ago. It was built by a German company to haul stone from a quarry to tide water, and is only about one and a half miles long.

Reduce Your Fat

Rengo Rapidly Reduces Excess Fat Without the Aid of Tiresome Exercises or Starvation Diet.

COSTS NOTHING TO TRY.

Rengo will reduce excess fat and build up the strength and health of anyone who eats it regularly for a short time. It is a product of nature, delicious to the taste and safe and harmless in all its properties. It will not injure the digestive organs as so many drugs and medicines do.

Every fat person is a victim of constant, cruel ridicule. Save yourself from humiliation and danger by taking Rengo. Don't wait until you are a disgusting fright.

Rengo will positively reduce surplus fat rapidly and do so without harm to the subject. It is very palatable and pleasant to eat. It is prepared in a highly concentrated form and is convenient to carry in the pocket so one can have it with him at all times.

Rengo requires no exhausting exercises or starvation dieting to help it out as so many of the so-called fat remedies do. You can go right ahead and attend to your regular daily duties. It compels proper assimilation of the food and sends the food nutriment into the muscles, bones and nerves and builds them up instead of piling it up in the form of excess fat.

Eat Rengo Like Fruit or Candy. There is nothing "just as good" as Rengo. For sale by all druggists at $1 per full sized box, or by mail prepaid, by the Rengo Co., 3168 Rengo Bldg., Detroit, Mich. The company will gladly send you a trial package free by mail, if you write them direct to Detroit; no free packages at drug stores.

For sale and recommended in St. Louis by Johnson Bros., Broadway and Franklin; Raboteau & Co., Broadway and Lucas; Judge & Dolph, 515 Olive street; druggists.

Sheehan Sings Finely—and O, the "Sassy" Black Mustache He Wears!

FRITZI SCHEFF is so particularly dear to the "smart set" of St. Louis playgoers that it's no wonder whatever that a big and brilliant audience welcomed her to the Olympic last night. True, "Mlle. Modiste" was seen here last season, but its an amazingly clever Blossom-herbert conceit, with a quality of effervescence which doesn't lose its bubbles at the first moment of outpouring, quite a deal of tuneful music—and so very much of Miss Scheff from start to finish that one really can't resist the "repeat" of such a combination.

There's nothing needs be said about it in the way of criticism, inasmuch as it stood inspection with flying colors last year and is just as enjoyably presented now as then. The house relished it very keenly last night, Miss Scheff sang and played the title role with apparently as zestful a savor as in earlier days—or nights—the company is practically the same as during its first season, so there you are. It looks very much like Miss Scheff at the Olympic and Rose Stahl at the Century are entered for a neck-and-neck race this week.

"Rigoletto" at Odeon.

You'll remember that I grumbled last week because Sheehan impressed me as being too fat a Don Jose in "Carmen"—military uniforms are so merciless in their revelations of "form," you know. Well, temporarily, I take it all back—honestly, Joseph looked so overpoweringly handsome as the Duke of Mantua in "Rigoletto" at the Odeon last night that women actually raved about it in ecstatic whisperings.

It must be the slashed doublet and trunks and the short cavalier cloak—and, I was about to say, the "slenuering" effect of black velvet, but it wasn't until late in the opera that Sheehan donned velvet, so this doesn't count. In the first act he sported the jauntiest of rich purplish Mantuan "glad rags," in which he seemed just as shapely as in sable—and O, people who weren't there, you ought to have seen the "sassy" little up-tilted black mustache that shaded his audacious lips! Just the sort of mustache a man like the lady-killing Duke of Mantua would have affected—Caruso himself didn't have a sweeter before the razor razed it after his first American season.

But these things don't sing the ducal role in Verdi's tragic old opera—it was Sheehan's throat that came into action then, and at the best we've heard during the four weeks that have just passed. The Sheehan voice is a mighty good voice when it's in trim, and last night's audience enjoyed it so rapturously that repeated encores threatened to wear it out for the time being. Finally, however, shrugging his shouders and refusing to take the farewell high note in "La Dona e Mobile," the popular tenor cried for quarter and got it.

Homer Lind made a big hit in the title role, employing adequately both his massive voice and his pronounced dramatic gifts in the making. Miss Noldi was equal to the Gilda score, save that her voice became a trifle metallic in the extreme upward flights. There isn't very much for Maddalena to do, and she has only the fourth act for its doing, but what there is to do should be done exceedingly well, and so it was by Bertha Shalek, who seems to be chocgfull of grand opera possibilities. The chorus sang admirably, and at one time, I thought the orchestra was going through the evening without a flaw, but it broke away from Mr. Liesegang twice and disappointed me to just that extent. The general support was distinctly good.

Hilliard Leads Columbia's Bill.

The best feature of the Columbia's new bill opening yesterday afternoon, is that offered by Robert Hilliard & Co. in "As a Man Sows," a terrifically dramatic little play that makes one grip the sides of one's chair during its tense final moments. Theme, the eternal "triangle"—but this time the woman is really good and the husband has lots of horse-sense, all of which is so astonishing that it gives the villain heart disease and he dies from the shock.

The next best feature is the very beatuiful framed-picture act of Marie Lecea Brackman entitled "The Gainsboro Girl," in which, with lovely scenic settings and sweet orchestral music and her own singing she poses as the Duchess of Devonshire, sings Siebel's flower song from "Faust" in Marguerite's garden ,and closes with "The Eternal City" and a grand finale called "The Heavenly Vision.' It was all so good that the house rose to it with prolonged applause.

Other features are Sydney Deane & Co. in "Christmas on Blackwell's Island;" Charles W. Bowser & Co. in "Home, Sweet Home;" Corinne in songs, dances and mandolin numbers; "The" Quartette, in excellent songs; Anita Bartling, female juggler; Young and De-Voie in "dancing by Book;" and the new kinodrome pictures.

Shea Changes Bill at Grand.

Thomas E. Shea was seen in a very capable production of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" at the Grand Opera House Monday night, the largest Monday night crowd of the season filling the house. Shea's tragedy was excellent and his interpretation startlingly good. The piece will be repeated Saturday night. Shea opens in his religious drama, "A Soldier of the Cross," Tuesday night.

WATCHMAN SLIDES ON SKID OUT OF BURNING BUILDING

L. J. O'Connell Caught by Flames While Trying to Open Sprinkler in Asphalt Plant.

After struggling for 15 minutes, amid choking smoke and with flames curling near to him, to turn on an automatic sprinkler during a fire at the plant of the Trinidad Asphalt Manufacturing Co., 320 South Twenty-first street, Lawrence J. O'Connell, a private watchman at the plant, escaped from the second floor of the burning building by means of a long skid, used in loading wagons, which was raised up to him by a passer-by.

The fire, which burned for five hours, will entail a loss of $40,000, the building being damaged $15,000 and the stock, consisting of roofing and asphalt material, machinery and office fixtures, is damaged $25,000.

The saloon and residence of Charles Angel, adjoining the asphalt plant, was entirely destroyed, the family barely escaping from the building. Angel's two daughters, Fannie, 19 years old, and Ida, 17 years old, fainted in the street when they saw their home being destroyed.

SELF-LIGHTING LIFE BUOY ATTRACTS ATTENTION

May Be of Great Service When Man Falls Overboard at Night.

One feature of the big Lusitania which attracted crowds when she was open for inspection was the automatic life buoy which is fastened between decks on a slanting frame in such a way that it can be released by the pressure of a button on the bridge, says the Philadelphia Record.

On each of the four arms of a large cross-shaped framework is a copper ball. These balls are so weighted that when the buoy strikes the water it will float upright. To the crossarms are fastened long brass cylinders. These cylinders are calcium carbide lights so arranged that they flare up by contact with the water.

Should a cry of "Man overboard" be raised at night the officer on the bridge presses the button, the buoy hits the water, and the lights flare up. If the man overboard be a swimmer he can reach the buoy, to the arms of which loops are attached to aid him in keeping above water. The ship also has a mark to guide it after it has put out.

Father's Big Calf.

A man who was offering gratuitous information at a country fair was disparaging the show of cattle.

"Call these here prize cattle?" he scornfully said. "Why, they ain't nothin' to what our folks raised. You may not think it, but my father raised the biggest calf of any man around our parts."

"I can very well believe it," observed a bystander, surveying him from head to foot.

DISEASE GERMS LIVE MANY YEARS IN LABORATORY

Results of Experiments Made by Dr. Migal at Berlin University.

Some interesting observations on the ever-important subject of the vitality of disease germs is made by Dr. Migal of the Berlin University Medical School, says the Philadelphia Press. Some ten years ago he took some earth from one of the public parks of that city at a depth of ten inches below the turf. This he dried for two days at a temperature of 30 degrees Centrigrade, and then by placing the dust in a hermetically sealed tube, which he put aside in a dark corner of the laboratory.

When taken, the soil contained an average of six and one-half million bacteria per gramme. After desiccation the number had fallen to rather less than four million. Today, ten years later, he still found three million per gramme, and he was able to isolate the specific microbe of tetanus. The innoculation of this soil in guinea pigs determined death from tetanus after an incubation period of two days, showing the remarkable vitality of pathogenic microbes under favorable conditions.

BURIED WITH NAVAL HONORS

Two Sailors of Cruiser St. Louis Who Lost Their Lives at Sea.

With the honors of the American nation, the two sailors who lost their lives in the performance of their duty on the cruiser St. Louis were laid to rest in the peaceful cemetery at Yerba Buena Island, says the San Francisco Call. These two sailors were William Boyd and H. Hoffman, both greatly beloved by the crew of the St. Louis.

Boyd was a married man, his wife and little daughter living in the East. To show the esteem in which he was held by his fellow men, a purse of $1300 was raised by them and will be forwarded to the widow at once. Hoffman was unmarried.

The accident which cost Uncle Sam the loss of two of his brave sailors occurred Sept. 24. It happened during the "man overboard" drill. Boyd and Hoffman, together with five other sailors, were being lowered from the St. Louis to go to the rescue of a man that was supposed to have fallen overboard. The small boat was being dropped into the bay, when the forward rope carried away, and one end of the boat dropped down, pitching all the occupants into the sea. Five of the men managed to cling to the swamped boat, and were soon hauled aboard the cruiser. Boyd and Hoffman, however, were not successful in reaching the boat, although they swam with great vigor, and made a noble struggle for their lives.

The St. Louis was under headway at the time and the two unfortunates were dragged under the propeller by the swirl of the waves and drowned. Their bodies were rccovered Thursday.

The ceremonies yesterday at Yerba Buena were of the most impressive character. They were attended by Executive Officer B. F. Hutchinson, who had charge of the funeral services, and many of the crew of the St. Louis. During the ceremonies the band from the Pensacola rendered a number of beautiful selections.

Out of respect to the dead sailors the flags of the fleet in the bay were at half mast during the time of the funeral. As a further respect to the dead sailors the officers of the St. Louis declined to receive visitors on board that war vessel yesterday.

TTLE CHILDREN SUPPORT STRICKEN FAMILY OF NINE

Fathe.. De.. Mother Is Dying of Consumption, and Health of One Child Compels Her to Abandon Indoor Work.

To get ... affidavit of a parent necessar... permit a child to work, Mrs. ... Hecker of the East St. Louis ... Inspection office went to a ...se at 2010 North Tenth street, where a fatherless family of nine, seven of them under 18 years, lives.

She found the mother in bed, wasted by tuberculosis. The wage-earners of the family, she learned, were the four girls. The oldest, for fear of her mother's malady, has had to give up indoor work at a trade she knows.

The next, aged 16, has the first finger of her right hand so disabled by a cut that she cannot do skilled piece work.

The third was the 14-year-old girl who had applied for permission to do piece work.

The fourth, who was barefooted, has been doing housework at $1.25 a week. The other children are boys, one of them of school age.

The permit for the third girl to work was issued, Mrs. Hecker holding the mother's trembling hand while she signed it. The name of the family has been placed on Inspector Sikes' record of cases deserving charitable assistance

FORMER SOCIAL LION IS AN EXILE

Montgomery Strong Can't Return to New York Because of Indictment, It Is Said.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—J. Montgomery Strong, scion of one of the oldest New York families and, until recently, a second Ward McAllister to New York society, is no longer leading cotillons or directing subscription dances.

It is announced upon good authority that Mr. Strong is at Las Palmas Hotel, San Juan, Porto Rico, and that the date of his return is uncertain.

The unhappy fact is that a warrant for Mr. Strong's arrest is in the hands of the Sheriff of New York County, and Mr. Strong's reappearance within the proper jurisdiction will be the signal for his lodgment in jail.

The execution of his warrant was ordered by the Court of Appeals Nov. 27, 1906, as the climax of long legal proceedings zealously guarded from the public.

Early in December, 1903, Mr. Strong dawned effulgently upon New York society as the associate of Mrs. Frederick J. De Peyster in the management of subscription dinner-dances at Delmonico's, patronized by rMs. John Jay, Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish Morris, Mrs. Maturin Livingston Delafield, Mrs. William Iselin and a hundred others of the smartest set. Success attended the dinner-dances, and by 1906 Mr. Strong had clinched his title to the Ward McAllister succession.

But all this time the dashing young leader of cotillons by his own affidavit, to be seen for the asking at the Surrogate's office, was "insolvent," "without money to pay living expenses;" "in debt for the clothes he stood in;" "hopelessly in arrears at the New York Yacht Club," and also "three years behind with dues" in the Sons of the Revolution and the Society of Colonial Wars.

HUSSEY IS PROUD OF HOUSE OF DELEGATES REPUTATION

He Courts Grand Jury Investigation and Denies Knowledge of Graft.

Frank Hussey, delegate from the Twenty-second Ward, says that he is anxious to have the grand jury investigate the House of Delegates.

"If there is any grafting going on in the House of Delegates, I want to know it," says Hussey. "I have not heard of any, and I would like to know whether the grand jury can find any.

"My reputation at the House of Delegates is about all I've got left. The papers have been burning me up about these little 'scraps' I have had with the police in my ward, and I suppose the people think I'm a pretty bad fellow.

"But I've been straight at the House of Delegates, and I am going to stay that way, and if any of the other fellows have been grafting they ought to be punished for it. The House of Delegates ought to be clean. I'm trying to make a good record down there, and I don't care how many times the police arrest me out here, just so I can shine in the House."

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

Missouri—Fair Tuesday night and Wednesday; warmer in eastern portion Tuesday night.

It is a good thing to know how to select food that will so thoroughly feed and nourish the body that there is no indication of hunger or faintness from one meal to another.

Grape-Nuts will carry the user longer, probably, than any other food known. A young lady attending business college writes:

"Before I began using Grape-Nuts I got so hungry before the dinner hour that I was faint and almost sick, but since I have had Grape-Nuts for breakfast I study harder, and wait longer for my dinner without experiencing any of the former trouble.

"One of the great advantages is that it requires no cooking or preparation. I wish everyone knew of the value of Grape-Nuts for children in school." "There's a Reason." Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

SOCIAL LEADER WHO IS EXILED BY THE LAW

J. MONTGOMERY STRONG

MISSOURI-LINCOLN OWNERS WILL SUE

Stockholders to Seek Mandamus to Get View of Books and Assets.

Stockholders of the Missouri-Lincoln Trust Co., who met Monday at 1822 Locust street, decided to bring a mandamus suit to compel the officers and directors of the company to give them access to the books. A fund will be raised by the stockholders to defray the expenses of the suit, and the stockholders' committee will open permanent headquarters in a downtown office building, where meetings may be held as often as necessary.

The meeting was attended by 140 stockholders. After adjournment Jacob Slupsky and S. Lowenstein, two of the members of the committee, told a Post-Dispatch reporter that a vote had been taken on the proposition to bring a mandamus suit against the officers and directors, and that it carried unanimously.

The stockholders decided to take this action after repeated demands had been made upon the Missouri-Lincoln officers and directors for a list of the assets of the bank and for permission to examine the books.

The stockholders are especially anxious for information on the American Lead and Baryta deal, in which $600,000 is involved; the Catlin tract property, in which $3,000,000 is said to be invested, and certain large loans said to have been made to the directors of the trust company.

PORTER CATCHES FISH FOR THE DINING CAR

Carp Three Feet Long Taken as Train Crosses Trestle Over Salton Sea.

Passengers on Southern Pacific overland trains are having rare sport trolling from the car windows for fish in the Salton Sea, and good catches have been made, says the San Francisco Chronicle.

About midway on the sea an arroyo extends back into the mountains. The track crosses this on a trestle.

The water is 15 to 25 feet deep and it has become a custom of the dinning car porter to throw overboard, the scraps from the table there. Thousands of fish of all sizes lie in wait for the train and can be easily seen.

A few days ago and irrepressible fisherman prepared his hook and line, and as the train slowly thundered over the long trestle, swung it far out over the water. This the fish mistook for their customary meal, and a voracious carp, three feet long, seized the bait and was drawn aboard the Pullman. With this beginning the sport has grown to such an extent that the passing trains are now supplied with fish for the dinning cars.

Brazil Has Big Coffee Crop.

Final official figures for the coffee crop of Brazil for the year ending June 30 show that the total entries in all Brazil reached 20,469,180 bags, representing an increase over the previous year of 149,353,892 bags, or 84.6 per cent, and an amount over the average for the last four years of 8,948,797 bags and exceeding the previous banner crop of 1901-02 by 4,122,715 bags, or 25.4 per cent.

HEIRS ABROGATE MAIN CLAUSE IN PACKER'S WILL

Nelson Morris' Relatives Divide $30,000,000 Estate as They Please.

EACH GET $6,000,000

Testament Provided That Bulk Be Placed in Trust as Annuity.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS).

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—A $30,000,000 will contest that was argued and settled out of court was disclosed yesterday when the last testament of Nelson Morris, the packer, was filed for probate.

As a result of this remarkable situation the principal provision of the will has been nullified. Instead of carrying out an arrangement which would have held the bulk of the estate in trust for at least 15 years, the widow and her four children will divide the property equally among themselves at once. Instead of $500,000 and an annuity of $15,000 during the next 20 years, each of the five principal heirs will receive at once $6,000,000 in cash and securities.

Furthermore, it became known that before the will was filed each of the heirs obtained title to a fifth part of the estate. The property was allotted in equal shares to the widow and the children in binding agreements signed by the executors of the estate. When the trust arrangement had thus been wiped out the will was filed.

Have Debated Over Will.

Ever since Nelson Morris died, nearly two years ago, a strenuous, though friendly, debate over his will has been going on in the family. On one side, seeking to abrogate the trust plan under which they would not have come into their inheritance for from fifteen to twenty years, were ranged the widow and three of the children—Mrs. Maurice L. Rothschild, Mrs. Henry C. Schwab and Ira Nelson Morris.

On the other side, seeking to carry out the provisions of the will under which he would have been in control of the estate, stood Edward Morris, the eldest son, and the present head of the Morris Packing Corporation. It was simply a case of divergence of opinion.

Settled Out of Court.

The argument over the disposition of the packer's millions reached a point where lawyers were retained by the opposing factions in the family and a long-drawn-out legal contest was threatened. Finally Edward Morris met the views of the rest of the family and an amicable agreement setting aside the trust plan and providing for an immediate division of the property was signed by all the heirs. The business, however, will be continued as at persent with Edward in control.

JUDGMENT GIVEN AGAINST JOHN MORTON FOR $557,000

Court Holds That Mining Company Was Merely Promoter in Disguise.

In affirmation of the finding of Special Referee W. C. Marshall that the Consolidated Mining Co. was merely John Morton in disguise, Circuit Judge Taylor has given judgment against Morton for $557,630.22. It is in favor of Archibald Carr, Herman Diel and J. H. Kerr and about fifty other stockholders, most of whom live in Cincinnati.

Morton was sued on the theory that he had organized the company with a paper capital of $1,000,000 merely for the purpose of selling to it certain properties in Jasper County. The sale was made and $1,000,000 were paid for the properties. The suit was for the difference between the amount paid and the actual value.

Judge Marshall, in his report, stated that the company was formed without assets, that the organization put no money into it and that the money paid in by stockholders was used to purchase properties.

OLD ST. LOUISAN PASSES AWAY

Emil Weiskirch, Once Living Here, Dies in Milwaukee.

The news of yesterday of the death of Emil Weiskirch, in his 86th year at Milwaukee, Wis., carried sadness to many an old St. Louisan.

Mr. Weiskirch was for a number of years Register in the city of Milwaukee, and was a resident of that city since 1852. He was one of the forty-eighters and came from Germany at the same time as Carl Schurz, Emil Preetorius, Fred Hecker, Gustavus Koerner and the other men of that period who won fame in America. Mr. Lloyd G. Harris, one of the best known men of St. Louis, was married to Miss Alma Weiskirch in the old family home at Milwaukee 29 years ago, and all of her childhood friends are in that city.

Where the Dahlia Got Its Name.

The dahlia rivals the hansom cab in the matter of having smothered the memory of the man after whom it was named. But persons who use them at least pronounce hansom" as Joseph Hansom pronounced his surname; whereas probably most people call the flower "dayilia," thus getting hopelessly remote from the Swedish Dr. Dahl, the pupil of Linaeus, who brought this Mexican plant into cultivation in Europe. How many who know the fuchsia have ever heard of the Sixteenth-Century German botanist Leonhard Fuchs? Germany, by the way, calls the dahlia "Georgine," in honor of another botanist, Georgi.

BEER TO GO UP? BELLEVILLE IS SAD AT HEART

Threatened Rise in Price of Staple Causes Lamentations.

TWO BREWERIES THERE

They Are Not in the Combination, but Will Follow the Lead.

LUNCHES TO SUFFER

Roast Chicken Will Soon Be Supplanted by Schwardenmaghen.

Bier wird nicht immer billig sein, so trink so schnell wie moeglich auf."

This is the sad refrain that is floating through the streets and byways of Belleville. Roughly translated it means, "Drink your beer quickly, for it won't always be cheap."

Disquieting rumors of a rise in the price of the foamy beverage are agitating the city where beer was first made in the West. Bellevillians could weather a Wall street panic without turning a hair, but the prospect of an advance in the price of beer—Ach, est is sehr traurig.

And just think. There was a time when there were seven breweries in Belleville and one could get for a nickel two glasses of beer—und auch ein pretzel.

Breweries Not in Combination.

Aber, Himmel—now there are only two breweries and you can get for a nickel only 10 ounces of beer in a glass and only a pint in a can and it's going to be worse.

The Belleville breweries are n... the so-called combination ... threatens to advance the wh... price of beer $1 a barrel Nov. ... representatives of both of the ... Tuesday that they will fall in ... other breweries advance their r...

Belleville saloon keepers say they will have to meet the cut by ...ing smaller measure. The glass will be reduced so that they will hol... only eight ounces and many saloon keepers will cut out their "cau... trade" entirely.

Lunches to Be Reduced.

Then, too, there will be no more square meals on the lunch counters. Belleville wirtschaft proprietors have been extremely liberal in this respect. Roast chicken was a regular free lunch offering, but it will not be so any more if the advance goes into effect. Those who take a bite with their drink will have to be satisfied with aufgemachte herring-salad, und blood sausage.

So it is that Belleville sings:

"Ich weis nicht was soll es bedeuten
Das Ich so traurig bin,
Weil Bier fuer alle die Leuten
Ist theuer in Glas und im Tin."

WELLS OUSTER SUIT DISMISSED

John A. Talty Abandons Effort to Secure Mayor's Chair.

Mayor Wells may now sit easy in the city's big chair. His right to so sit is no longer being challenged. Judge John A. Talty, who was doing the challenging, has dismissed his suit in Judge Reynolds' court. His attorney, William Dee Becker, withdrew Monday both this suit and the one of Joseph A. Duffy contesting the seat of Julius Lesser in the City Council.

Judge Talty said that the reason was the refusal of the Election Commissioners to let him have the poll books, without which a case could not be made. The Circuit Court could have been asked for an order, but the other side would probably have asked the Supreme Court for a writ of prohibition and ... thing would have been delayed until ... term of office had expired.

LEARN TO EAT

Few People in St. Louis Really Know How.

This is not an essay on tab... ners.

It is simply a little good ad... about one of the great American ... fects—too rapid eating.

Nothing makes life so miserable, or interferes so widely with the usefulness of the average American, as indigestion.

The quick-lunch counters and the great majority of restaurants, even the home dining rooms, are simply manufactories of stomach troubles.

Slow eating will solve one-half the problem of ill health. Those who suffer already with indigestion and weak stomach can with care and the use of Mi-o-na Stomach Tablets restore their digestion to a healthy condition, so that they can eat what they want at any time without fear of distress or suffering.

After a few days' use of Mi-o-na Stomach Tablets, the headache, dizzy feeling, drowsiness, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, nervousness, sleeplessness, distress after eating—all these symptoms of a weak stomach—will disappear, and perfect digestion and a good skin will show that the vital machinery is once more running smoothly.

Take a little Mi-o-na tablet before each meal so that it will stimulate the digestive juices and give strength to the stomach, and then it will take care of the food that is eaten, without indigestion and the unpleasant full feeling with which so many suffer after meals.

Mi-o-na is sold by druggists everywhere for 50 cents, and we positively guarantee to refund your money should you purchase a box and be dissatisfied with results. Write for free sample, addressing Booth's Mi-o-na, 977, Buffalo, N. Y.

More of Our Extraordinary Suit Values

Many women undoubtedly wonder how Barr's can show such beautiful Suits this winter at such low prices. The reason is to be found in the fact that many of our Suits are made in our own Tailoring Department, which is now the largest in the West. This enables us to entirely eliminate all middle-men's profit, thus saving from 20 to 30 per cent.

Beautiful New Suits at $22.50

SOCIETY

FASHIONABLE society is flocking to the West End hotels for the winter. The Buckingham is already almost full and within another two weeks will have reached its capacity.

Mr. and Mrs. John McNair will occupy their accustomed suite, Mr. McNair being already there. Mrs. McNair, who spent the summer in Michigan, is new in New York and vicinity and will not reach St. Louis until the middle of November.

Miss Mary Perry has returned from the Northern lakes and taken her former apartments.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Pierce and Miss Lily Belle Pierce, who spent the summer at Bass Rock, Mass., are established in their former suite.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kaime will, as usual, spend the season at the Buckingham. Mrs. Kaime, who has been at Lake George and in the Adirondacks all summer with her sisters, the Misses Solari, came home last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Courtney West, who recently returned from Europe, will be at the hotel for the winter.

Mrs. Rhodes Cox has sailed for Europe. Mr. Cox will remain at the hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bonties have their usual apartments.

Madame Peugnet will return to the Buckingham Nov. 1, after spending the summer in the East.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Johnson and their family are St. Joseph (Mo.) people who will be in St. Louis for the season and have taken apartments at the hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Witte, who gave up their house last spring, will be at the Buckingham this winter. Mrs. Witte has just returned from the Jersey coast.

Captain Frank Rumbold, who will marry Miss Susan McCord of St. Joe in a fortnight, will bring his bride to the Buckingham for the season.

Mr. John E. Thomson is still abroad, having gone to Europe with Mrs. Thomson last spring. Mrs. Thomson returned to the hotel last week for the season.

Mrs. David R. Francis Jr., who spent the summer in St. Louis at the Francis residence in Maryland avenue, has gone East for an extended visit with her relatives in and around Boston. She will remain until the first of January, and the Francis apartments at the Buckingham have been engaged for that date. Mr. Francis is in St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. William K. Kavanaugh, who were last season at the hotel, have this autumn taken an apartment at 4910 McPherson avenue, where they will stay all winter, with frequent visits to their country home down the river, Selma Hall. Miss Sarah Kavanaugh is again at the Mary Institute, and Master Boggs Kavanaugh has resumed his studies at Blees Academy.

Mr. and Mrs. Neill McMillan, who were last year at the hotel, are now housekeeping in one of the Colchester apartments on King's highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Schwedtmann, Buckingham residents last year, are now in their own home, 5173 McPherson avenue.

Mrs. Ashley D. Scott has returned after much traveling the past two years and again taken her house on Morgan street, near Grand avenue. The Misses Mary Semple Scott and Isabel Scott will be at home this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Selden Bassett have returned to the hotel after their summer in the East. Miss Naomi Bassett has entered a New York boarding school this year.

Judge and Mrs. Henry Bond, with Miss Irene Bond and Mr. Tom Bond, are in their usual apartments.

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Ford have taken their same suite for the coming season.

Mr. and Mrs. Norris Gregg have returned from their Northern lake trip and are again at the Buckingham. Their young son has entered Yale this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel L. Highleyman are keeping house at 5038 McPherson avenue until Jan. 1 when they will return to the Buckingham.

Manley—Mullen.

One of the quiet but well arranged weddings of Tuesday afternoon was that of Miss Bernadette Manley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Manley of South Grand avenue, and Mr. Walter T. Mullen of St. Louis. This took place at 5 o'clock at the Church of St. Kevin, the Rev. Father William Shea officiating.

The bride, who wore a princesse robe of Renaissance and Irish laces, with tulle veil and orange blossoms, and a bouquet of white roses fringed with valley lilies, was attended by Miss Ida Smith as her only bridemaid.

Miss Smith wore an empire effect of pale pink chiffon and carried pink roses fringed with valley lilies. Mr. Ben Porter was the best man.

After the ceremony a dinner was served to the bridal party and relatives at the Manley residence, which was handsomely trimmed with white and pink roses combined with many greens.

Mr. and Mrs. Mullen have gone South for an extended trip and on their return will live at a West End hotel.

Mr. Jacob Mahler's new dancing academy, 4911 Washington boulevard, opens Oct. 17. Residence, 5244A McPherson avenue. Forest 695.

Kraft—Richardson.

The marriage of Miss Ida G. Krafft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Krafft, 4038 Juniata street, to Mr. William J. Richardson will take place Tuesday evening at half after seven o'clock at the home of the bride. Rev. Dr. Rhodes is to read the service.

The bride will wear white lace in princess style, with tulle veil and coronet of orange blossoms, and carry a shower of white roses, fringed with lilies of the valley. Her attendants are Miss Alice Avery of Webster, the maid of honor, who will be in white net, Miss Madge Krafft of Collinsville, Ill., and Miss Mabel Smith. These young women will wear white chiffon gowns and carry showers of delicate asparagus fern.

The wedding color is green, and many palms, ferns and trailing vines are to be used for decorations.

The best man is Mr. W. M. Krafft, while Messrs. H. J. ..ley and T. H. Riley will be groomsmen.

A reception will follow, after which the bride and bridegroom will depart for Chicago, Milwaukee and Detroit, where they are to spend a month visiting. They will go to housekeeping on their return at 2334 South Compton avenue, being at home there after Nov. 15.

Capen Twins' Birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Capen and their interesting twins, Frances and Laura, returned a few days ago from Block Island, where they spent the summer.

While there the twins had their second birthday anniversary.

An elderly New York millionaire, who became very fond of the tiny girls, insisted on giving them a birthday party at the leading hotel. The occasion proved one of much festivity.

At the spread, which occupied a long table in the dining room and was very elaborately decorated, two enormous cakes stood at either end. On each of these were placed two very tiny candles.

All the children at the resort were invited and the celebration was a glorious event.

Mrs. Collins' Tea.

Mrs. Charles Collins will give her second at home Tuesday between the hours of 3 and 5, at her residence in Eads avenue. Mrs. Collins was Miss Mary Branham of Columbia, Mo., before her marriage early in the spring. Mrs. Collins will have Miss Mary Anna Taussig, Miss Ida May and Miss Harriet Collins to serve.

Chance—Jackson.

Thursday evening, Oct. 10, at 6:30 o'clock, at Maplewood occurred one of the most beautiful home weddings of the season. The contracting parties were Miss Effie Mae Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Jackson, and Mr. Walter Wesley Chance of Springfield, Mo. There were many friends and relatives from Texas, Oklahoma, Illinois, Kansas, Ohio and Indiana. The maids of honor were Miss Grace Grau and Miss Mollie Schaller. The groom was attended by Mr. Charles Addington and Mr. Lee G. Jackson. Mr. and Mrs. Chance left for an Eastern trip. They will be home to their friends after Nov. 1 at 3111 Cherry street, Maplewood, Mo.

HARRIMAN LINE VIOLATED NEW REBATING LAW

Southern Pacific Road Kept Two Sets of Books, Commissioner Finds.

LANE MAKES INSPECTION

One Showed Legitimate Business, Other Concessions to Shippers.

By Wire From the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The Interstate Commerce Commission seems to have got H. Harriman at last. Commissioner Lane returned from California with a vast quantity of evidence of rebating against the Southern Pacific. As soon as he has made his report to the commission, the case will be certified to the Department of Justice for action.

The cases unearthed by Commissioner Lane are all new, many of them of very recent date. Hitherto all the suits brought for rebating have been under the old law; no proceedings have been brought for actions complained of since the Hepburn law went into effect.

Only a short time ago Mr. Harriman declared that since the passage of the new law rebating had entirely ceased on all railroads with which he had any connection, and on all lines of which he had any knowledge. But on Mr. Harriman's own line, the Southern Pacific, violations as recent as Sept. 24 have been brought to light, and the only reason they stopped then was that at that time Mr. Lane swooped down on the books.

New Method Pursued.

The commission had its own agents working up the case, and when they had sufficient evidence they made formal charges.

The commission then detailed Mr. Lane to go to the Pacific Coast and make a thorough cleaning up of the evidence, armed with all the power of the commission. He had the power, for instance, to compel the Southern Pacific to produce its books, and this power he exercised. Before he had gone very far he found that the railroads had two sets of voucher books. One related to legitimate transactions, the other related entirely to rebates, and of this latter set there were 20 volumes since April, 1906, when the earthquake destroyed the Southern Pacific books.

Thus the only ones available were since that date. The Hepburn act went into effect Aug. 20 of that year.

At the beginning of Mr. Lane's investigation the railroad claimed that the rebates paid were inside the State only, but this was disproved by the books themselves, which showed the payment of interstate rebates.

All Big Corporations.

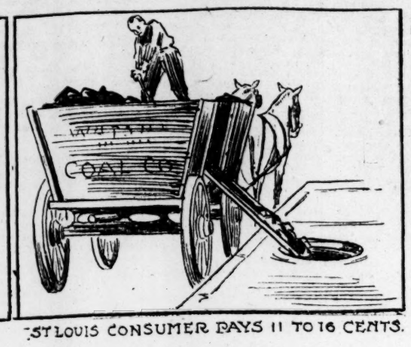
The favored shippers were all big corporations. Among them were the Colorado Fuel and Iron Co. and the Union Ice Co., the last named being the Ice Trust of California. This fact is pointed to as showing that the rebates were given as the policy of the company and could not have been the individual acts of freight agents.

The giving of these rebates established as the policy of the company, it only remains to hold the officers of the company criminally responsible for that policy. The president of the road is Edward H. Harriman, author of the declarations that rebating had stopped.

Toward the close of Mr. Lane's investigation there was a stampede on the part of the shippers to give him information lest they be held responsible, and rushed forward to clear themselves by betraying the railroad. Thus to the evidence given by the books, Mr. Lane was enabled to add plenty of testimony from the shippers.

Cost of Hauling Coal to St. Louisans Equals Twice Cost of the Coal Itself

FIVE CENTS A BUSHEL AT THE MINE.



ST. LOUIS CONSUMER PAYS 11 TO 16 CENTS.

Every St. Louis householder who burns soft coal ought to have a jolt wagon and a team. Enough could be saved on the cost of the winter's supply of coal to maintain the outfit.

The reason is that coal costs three and four times as much in St. Louis as it does at the coal mines across the river. In other words, the householder has to pay three and four times as much for having the railroads bring coal to him as it costs to buy the stuff and get it out of the ground.

A man who owns a team and a wagon can drive out to a mine in the cool of the morning and get all the coal he can haul away at 4 and 5 cents a bushel. That is before the railroads got hold of it. The 4 or 5 cents a bushel represents the value of the coal and the cost of taking it out of the ground and delivering it on the wagon.

This is the same bushel of coal for which the consumer in St. Louis pays from 11 to 16 cents a bushel. The difference between the price at the mine and the price in St. Louis represents the share of the railroads and the dealers.

The man at the coal exchange who gave information Monday about the cost of coal at the mine did so somewhat apologetically. The prices, $1.10 to $1.25 a ton, he explained, were a little high. Until recently they were lower.

WOMAN SAYS LINCOLN PASTOR BETRAYED HER

"Love Is Higher Than Human Law" His Doctrine, Mrs. Cross Testifies.

TOLD ALL TO HUSBAND

Rev. W. P. Ferguson Says He Will Expose "Diabolical Intrigue."

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 15.—"Love is higher than human law."

This doctrine, eloquently advocated by the Rev. Wilbert P. Feguson, the unfrocked minister of the First Methodist Church of University place, "has led to the paralysis of the spiritual life of two persons." So declared Mrs. A. E. Cross in the Court of Justice Stevens yesterday evening.

The minister is accused of a statutory offense, four counts being alleged. Mrs. Cross is the complainant.

The courtroom was thronged yesterday. Many ministers were present. Mrs. Cross, pale, nervous, but determined, told her story frankly, though shrinking from the curious stares of the crowd. Part of the unwritten story of the case deals with her husband, who forgave her only on condition that she bear witness against her alleged betrayer. Unless this was done, he declared, he would prove the shotgun process superior to all human legal procedure and a trifle more speedy.

Confessed Her Love.

On the night of Dec. 14, Mrs. Cross declared she first felt the arm of the minister about her waist. They had been to a Y. M. C. A. banquet. The minister had carried a basket of dishes for the woman. Mrs. Cross declared that persons in an adjoining house could see if they were so disposed. She stepped back into the shadow and the minister followed her.

"Then he said he loved me," declared the witness, stifling a sob. "I admitted I loved him. I also told him that we must not indulge our love, because it would mean spiritual paralysis for us both and the laws of public sentiment forbade it.

"He then told me that love was higher than law. I still demurred. There was more eloquent pleading."

With bowed head the woman admitted that the arguments of the minister had prevailed. He remained until 1:30 a. m.

Mrs. Cross swore that at another time the minister enticed her to the ladies' parlor of the Lincoln Hotel.

Despite her protests, she said, he whirled her upward in the elevator and plied her to a room. He locked the door, and once more, she said, his eloquence won. Two other occasions were mentioned.

The story of Mrs. Cross was first told to a committee of ministers last summer. Ferguson was investigated. His pulpit was declared vacant pending an investigation by the General Conference. At the conference trial he withdrew under charges.

Sued His Parishioners.

The next chapter in the case was in the civil courts. The minister sued his former parishioners for damages of slander and libel charges. They retaliated by filing criminal charges.

The name of a rich woman was mentioned. It is claimed Ferguson planned to marry her. Mrs. Cross declared that a sermon on chastity preached by an itinerant evangelist touched her conscience and caused her to repent. She confessed to her husband.

Ferguson is a widower with several children. He has held important charges in New York, Newark, N. J., and Iowa City, Io. He came to Nebraska from Redlands, Cal.

When the defense has its inning, Ferguson declares, he will show "a diabolical intrigue." He says enemies plotted his ruin when it was seen that he would rise to the head of Nebraska Methodism owing to the fact that he had been urged to accept the chancellorship at Wesleyan. He has served as the head of several religious educational institutions.

Negroes Seek Pilgrim Church.

The negro congregation of the Tabernacle Baptist Church is negotiating for the purchase of the old Pilgrim Congregational Church, Washington and Ewing avenues, where the present congregation will hold its last meeting Sunday. Addresses will be made by J. C. Birge, A. W. Benedict and Rev. Dr. Charles S. Mills.

Taking Record of Mail Business.

Mail clerks running out of St. Louis are ascertaining whether the Government is paying the railroads too much money for carrying the mails. The mail is being weighed. This weighing is to continue until Dec. 31, when the figures from this and other points will be forwarded to Washington and the Postmaster-General is under Congressional orders to have a report completed by May 1, 1908.

Despondent Woman Drinks Poison.

A young woman known at 1208 Linden street as Lena Smith wrote to her mother that she was weary of the life she led, before swallowing a poisonous solution of bluestone, early Tuesday. She was taken to the City Hospital, and is said there to be in a critical condition. The note was addressed to Mrs. Oreastna Reither of Belleville.

25,000 DOLLARS

A Story Everyone Should Read

True and Full of Human Interest

This sum of money, $25,000.00 will be given to any charitable institution if it can be shown that the story of Father John's Medicine is not true in every particular. This story, in brief is as follows:

Half a century ago Rev. Fr. John O'Brien of Lowell, Mass., through overwork and exposure, became seriously run-down, a cold and stubborn cough and lung trouble threatened his life. An eminent specialist gave Father John, as he was fondly called, a prescription to cure the cold and remove the lung trouble as well as to build up and strengthen the body. The clergyman began to improve at once, the cough disappeared and his lungs healed. It corrected his digestion, made new tissue and Father John was soon restored to his former health and strength.

Father John recommended the medicine to his parishioners and friends and because of its merits it became the family remedy in thousands of homes, and it became known as "Father John's Medicine" having been so named by the people, and was advertised, all with the approval of Father John.

It will cure all throat and lung troubles, prevent pneumonia and consumption, and make flesh and strength if taken faithfully. It is not a patent medicine and does not contain alcohol or poisonous drugs. Guaranteed.

GIRL "CHANGES HER MIND;" THERE'LL BE NO WEDDING

Quaker City Beauty Gives No Other Reason for Balking on Her Wedding Day.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15.—It was disclosed today that a mysterious severing of the engagement between Miss Margaret Hazelhurst, one of the Quaker City's beauties, and Frederick E. Gilbert Jr. of New York on the eve of their announced wedding has occurred.

Mr. Gilbert, who is wealthy, and whose parents occupy the magnificent chateau Villa Theo at Biarritz, France, hurried to Philadelphia to complete arrangements for the union.

But today Miss Hazlehurst, who is 19 years old, announced that she would not marry Mr. Gilbert. She had her trousseau all prepared. Cards of invitation had been mailed, and about $50,000 worth of presents had been received by the prospective bride. When Mr. Gilbert rushed to the young woman's home and pleaded desperately with her, asking for an explanation, it is said she simply remarked:

"I have changed my mind."

CARSSOW CO. MAIL BARRED

Postal Officers Say It Is Part of Donnell Concern.

Postmaster Wyman has been directed by the Postmaster General's office to withhold all mail received here for the Carssow Pharmaceutical Co. The action is a sequel to the issuing of a fraud order against the Donnell Manufacturing Co.

The evidence submitted to the Postmaster-General includes a letter, alleged to have been written by the Donnell company to a former customer in which instruction is given to address all mail in the future to the Carssow company. Attorney G. D. Reynolds, representing the Donnell concern, states that the pharmaceutical company is owned by the Donnell company. He contends that it is doing a legitimate business separate from that conducted by the parent concern.

GOVERNMENT BOAT SNAGGED

Thirty-Two Men Aboard When It Sinks Near Shore.

The United States quarter boat, No. 7, which sank opposite the powder depot at Jefferson Barracks, will be raised and repaired. The boat struck a snag or rock as the pilot was trying to make a landing Monday afternoon, and sank within a few minutes after being run to the shore.

Thirty-two men were on board, but they all had time to get off the boat before it settled down in 15 feet of water. Besides the crew the boat carried engineers going to the Barracks to make surveys.

SKULL FRACTURED DURING FIGHT

Hoffman Angered at Volunteer Witness of Collision.

George Hoffman's skull was fractured when Alexander Lithstone, a United Railways supervisor, struck him with a four-pound scale weight Tuesday on High street near Biddle, and he was taken to the City Hospital, critically hurt. He is an ice dealer, 65 years old.

Lightstone saw a collision between Hoffman's wagon and another, and jumped off a Spring avenue car to proffer his assistance and card to the other driver and volunteer to appear as a witness for him if necessary. This angered Hoffman, who is said to have cursed Lightstone. The supervisor gave himself up at the Car Street Police Station and was released on his own recognizance.

ASSISTANT FIRE CHIEF SHAY THROWN FROM HIS CARRIAGE

Horse Started From Engine House Before Lines Were Snapped in Bit.

Leaving Engine House No. 7 at Eighteenth and Rutger streets in response to an alarm from Park and Ewing avenues at 3:39 a. m. Tuesday, Assistant Fire Chief Shay was thrown from his buggy and seriously injured.

William Stelball, Shay's driver, had not finished adjusting the harness when Shay jumped into the buggy and the horse started. Shay pulled on the lines but they were not fastened to the bit rings. The horse swerved and the buggy struck the side of the engine house door.

Shay was thrown head first from the buggy. He was unconscious and policemen summoned by Stellball at first thought that he was dead. At the City Hospital it was found that his right collar bone is broken and it is feared that his spine is injured. He will be taken either to his home at 4034 Cook avenue or to St. Mary's Infirmary. He is 49 years old and has been a member of the Fire Department 23 years.

SHOOTS HIMSELF IN THE PARK

Edward Primm, 26 years old, of 3925 West Belle place, committed suicide Monday afternoon by shooting himself through the right temple at the Lindell entrance at Forest Park. He had paralysis, which prevented him from working as a freight trucker.

A physician passing by in his auto saw Primm lying on the ground in the park. He stopped his machine and gave temporary relief until an ambulance arrived. He then drove away before the police learned his name.

Bellboy With $25 Missing.

Miss Henry, a schoolteacher boarding at the Park Hotel near Delmar Garden, complained to Sheriff Herpel of St. Louis County Tuesday that a bellboy at the hotel, to whom she intrusted $25 to buy her a money order, had failed to reappear.

Tried to Pass Worthless Bill.

Two men giving their names as Joseph Casey of 734 South Broadway and Bert McGlynn of 608 South Broadway were arrested Monday night after they had tried in vain to pass a worthless $10 bill on Phillip Ploesser of 7011 South Broadway and Michael Bolindski of 7019 South Broadway. The bill is dated 1830 and was issued by the "Bank of Savannah, Ga."

Piles 15 Years

Saved From An Operation By a Half Box of the Pyramid Pile Cure. You Can Try It Free.

"I cannot help writing to you about your wonderful cure for piles. When I wrote to you for a sample I was thinking of going through an operation. But I thought I would give your remedies a trial. I am so happy that I did for I am cured and only used half a box. I piles ever since the year 1891. I wish you would publish my name through the Bulletin paper, for I am well-known in the Marine Corps. Use my name the best way you know how. Thanking you for your good advice. Yours truly, Cleophas Forte, Marine Barracks, U. S. N. Training Station, San Francisco, Cal."

What should induce this United States seaman to write us in this manner if not gratitude for being cured of a disease which had tortured him for fifteen years? Mr. Forte was positively unknown to us until he wrote for the sample of our wonderful remedy.

You may be suffering in the same way.

Just send your name and address to Pyramid Drug Co., 99 Pyramid Building, Marshall, Mich., and receive free by return mail the trial package in a plain wrapper.

The moment you start to use it, your suffering ends and the cure of your dread disease is in sight.

SINGERS AID FATHER DEMPSEY

Program at Olympic Nov. 3 for Priest's Hotel.

A program of many interesting events will characterize the entertainment Sunday night, Nov. 3, at the Olympic Theater, for the benefit of Father Dempsey's hotel at Seventh and Carr streets.

Jack Ryan, chief clerk of the Southern Hotel, chairman of the Committee of Arrangements, announces that among many features will be the Joseph F. Sheehan Opera Company, in selections from the operas now being given at the Odeon. Mr. Sheehan will render several of his most popular songs.

The Hot Time Minstrels will be represented by Joseph Buse, Steve Martin, Joseph Dauer and Dewey Hickey.

TWO BANK DIRECTORS RESIGN

David Sommers and Edward Wolff Leave Central National.

The resignation of David Sommers as vice-president and director of the Central National Bank, and of Edward Wolff, president of the Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., as director, have been announced by President H. A. Forman.

J. J. Brockerick, president of the Broderick-Buscom Rope Co., has been elected vice-president. No new directors will be chosen to fill the vacant places, as it is the intention of the board to lessen their number, which was originally 21, to about 15.

BUSCH DENIES BLOCKING BRIDGE

Brewer Declares He Has Not Sought Delay in Selection of a Site.

Mr. August A. Busch of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association resents sharply any imputation or suggestion that he is in sympathy with any movement to delay the location or erection of a free bridge. He declares that the announcement a few days ago of a proposition to fix on Sidney street as a location was as much a surprise to him as it was to the public.

Talking to a Post-Dispatch reporter on Monday, he said:

"I read the Post-Dispatch editorial of Saturday concerning our possible relation to the Sidney street movement with much surprise. How your paper reached its conclusion or its suspicion I can't guess; but it surely was misled.

"Not only have I from the first been an ardent supporter of the free bridge project, but have never at any time attempted to influence the selection of a location.

Not Using Influence.

"If those charged with determining the location preferred Chouteau avenue to Mullanphy, the result, for obvious reasons, pleased me. But at no time and in no manner have I sought to prevail upon anyone to make a particular choice.

"So far as the suggestion of Sidney street is concerned, I am in entire ignorance of its source. Neither has that suggestion, after being made, had support from me. I know nothing of its practical difficulties or advantages. If the bridge should be located there, of course I would do what I could to encourage the enterprise. The same is true of any other location. The difference would be one of opportunity only.

"The suggestion that I have directly or indirectly furthered this location as an obstructive measure, or upon its merits, or in any manner or for any purpose is without the slightest foundation. I have not; I am distinctly opposed to all obstructive measures, for I believe that the city authorities are bound to accept the people's decision and to carry out that decision without question, hesitation or delay."

THE MODEL CELEBRATING.

The Model's Fifth Anniversary Celebration Crowds the Store.

Monday, the first day of The Model's Anniversary Week, in celebration of it's fifth year in St. Louis, brought a crowd of shoppers to its doors, which taxed the capacity of the house all day.

The Model, as announced Sunday, is devoting the entire week to this celebration, commemorating its exceptionally successful career in St. Louis and the wonderful development of Washington avenue as a retail center since "The Model" was established.

The different departments of "The Model" are striving to surpass each other in offering the most attractive anniversary specials for the occasion. Each day of this week there is to be one of these specials and in each instance it will be of an exceptional value-giving character.

Handsome anniversary souvenirs are given free to each patron, a feature which met with great approval from the crowds who attended yesterday.

The Post-Dispatch is the only evening newspaper in St. Louis that receives or publishes news gathered by the Associated Press.

MISSING MANAGER IS SOUGHT HERE

John W. Robb of Chattanooga Gas Co. Tries to Enlist in Navy.

The police and officers of the naval recruiting office in the Federal Building are searching the St. Louis hotels in an effort to find John W. Robb, 33 years old, manager of the Chattanooga Gas Co., at Chattanooga, Tenn., who was refused admittance to the navy as coal passer because of his evident refinement.

Robb called at the recruiting office Saturday morning and asked to be enlisted. He was well dressed and his manicured fingers aroused the suspicion of the enlisting officers.

Pending investigation, Robb was sent to a hotel at the Government's expense. He was told to call Monday morning.

Does Not Reappear.

The following message, written on the back of his card, was received Monday morning by the officers:

"Sorry you couldn't take me on Saturday. Must move on."

On Saturday he took the medical examination and passed in everything but weight.

A waiver was received from Washington, and had Robb returned Monday he would have been enlisted. The blank that an applicant for the navy must make out, concerning his birthplace, age, parents, nationality and other data necessary for the identification of a sailor, was not filled out properly by Robb.

He was asked his previous occupation, and he answered that he had been a plumber. The naval officers looked at his white hands and questioned him about them, but he tried to laugh the question aside.

Left Home Suddenly.

Chief Creecy was asked by the Chief of Police at Chattanooga to hold Robb. They said he had left home suddenly Friday night, disappearing during a mental breakdown due to overwork.

About a month ago he left home and went to Louisville and Lexington. He attempted to walk home from Lexington, but he was picked up five miles out of town and sent home. On the advice of attending physicians, he was granted a two months' vacation by the gas people.

The enlisting officers give the following description of Robb: Weight, 146 pounds; height, 70 inches; age, 33½ years; iron gray hair, is of a serious, dignified appearance.

GRAND JURY IN SESSION TO HEAR ASPHALT STORY

Commissioner Smith, Robert Coyne, J. T. McAnulty and Warner Expected.

SAGER GETS A LETTER

Advisd to Investigate Smith's Office, Many Charges Being Made.

The October Grand Jury met at the Four Courts Tuesday afternoon to hear the testimony of Building Commissioner James Smith, President Robert Coyne of the Perpetual Realty Company, James T. McAnulty, Superintendent Driscoll of the Barber Asphalt Company and Chairman Warner of the House Committee on Police Improvements, relative to the unfriendly attitude of the House of Delegates Combine toward asphalt paving legislation.

The combine killed eleven asphalt bills Friday night, after holding them in committee 120 days.

Coyne is the man who, according to McAnulty, desired a position as promotion agent from the Barber Asphalt Company.

Circuit Attorney Sager received a letter Monday telling of Building Commissioner Smith's business relations with Coyne and suggesting investigation of the building commissioner's office. Smith told a Post-Dispatch reporter that he welcomed such an investigation.

Smith Knows Fire Escape Man.

"Do you know anything about the American Fire Escape Co., which Mr. Sager's informant says you favored?" asked the reporter.

"Yes, I know somthing about that concern," said Mr. Smith.

"A friend of mine, Lou Killian, used to be a solicitor for that company.

"Sometime ago the company asked a favor of me and I refused to grant it. Afterward Killian was discharged.

"No fire escape company was ever favored by this office, but I suppose somebody has complained to Sager because I am a neighbor of Killian's."

"Does Mr. McAnulty, who asked the Barber Asphalt Co., to employ Coyne as a legislative agent, do any work for your office?"

McAnulty Issues Building Book.

"McAnulty has no official connection here. He gets out a book on the building laws and the advertisements obtained from contractors net him a handsome profit.

"I have nothing to do with that matter. In some instances though, I have found out that contractors thought they were favoring me when they put an advertisement in McAnulty's book.

"Once or twice they sent me the checks in payment, but I returned them with the statement that I had no interest in the book and they were not doing anything to please me by advertising in it.

Smith's attention was called to a paragraph in the letter received by Mr. Sager charging that he discriminated in favor of the Vane-Calvert Paint Co. on public work because of his friendship for Pierce Killian, a solicitor for the company.

"There is nothing in that at all," said Mr. Smith. "I don't see where there could be any graft when I have nothing to do with the painting of buildings.

Gave Killian a Hint.

"Perhaps Mr. Sager's informant refers to a friendly turn I did Pierce Killian some time ago. It was after the Chicago fire and I had ordered all of the St. Louis theaters to put up fireproof scenery.

"I told Pierce that he ought to get his company to make up a chemical compound that would stand the test of fire.

"He did and the Vane-Calvert people sold their paint to the St. Louis theaters.

"Subsequently I happened to have business in Chicago and while there I introduced Pierce Killian to one of the theatrical proprietors, but he was unable to dispose of any of his fireproof paint.

"It is true that where all things are equal I favor my friends. I can't see any harm in that.

"I stand ready to answer every question of the grand jury. I have nothing to conceal."

DELEGATE HUSSEY'S BROTHER LOSES $90 CITY HALL JOB

Is Accused of Neglect, but Politicians See Blow at Daley Faction.

Leo C. Hussey, brother of Delegate Frank Hussey and half-brother of Lawler Daley, found a little note on his desk when he went to his place in the inspectors' department of Lighting Supervisor's Department at the City Hall Tuesday.

It said that the city of St. Louis would dispense with his services.

Hussey was a second-class inspector, with a salary of $90 a month. The stated reason for his dismissal was that he was "neglectful," but politicians believe that it was the beginning of the threatened weeding out of all Daley and Kinney men at the City Hall. Similar dismissals are said to be slated in the sewer and water departments.

Health Commissioner Bond, Monday dismissed Miss Helen Fogerty, James McCourt, Michael Burke and Edward Stoltsman, inspectors in the Sanitary Department.

The legitimate PAID circulation of the Post-Dispatch in St. Louis and its Suburbs is greater than that of ALL other English Dailies COMBINED.

GIRL BRONCHO BUSTER WILL WED ACTOR SHE MET AT FAIR

Miss Lucile Mulhall's Engagement to Martin Vanbergen Is Announced.

The marriage of Miss Lucile Mulhall, famous as a horsewoman and in steer-roping and broncho-busting contests, to Martin Vanbergen, who has stage ambitions, which has been announced to take place New Years, will be the culmination of another World's Fair romance.

Miss Mulhall was the head-line attraction in the Wild West Show on the Pike and Mr. Vanbergen was one of the sweet singers of the Alps. The environments of Miss Mulhall and Mr. Vanbergen brought them frequently together in a social way and they fell in love. Parental objections were finally overcome and Mr. Vanbergen became a member of Col. Mulhall's company.

Miss Mulhall is 22 years old and was reared on the Mulhall Ranch at Mulhall, Okla. She has spent a part of her time for the past seven years at the St. Louis home of the family, 4642 Washington boulevard. Mr. Vanbergen is a son of W. D. Vanbergen of Kansas City.

New Trolley Wires and Poles.

With the construction of electric locomotives for heavy work there seems to be an effort to improve the efficiency of the trolley poles, and novelties are constantly being introduced. In a 48-ton motor of this character, recently built in Switzerland, the current collecting apparatus consists of a curved tubular rod of steel, on which brass rubbing pieces are mounted. These rods are mounted upon a swinging frame, there being two collectors for each locomotive. The arrangement enables them to be placed in contact with the trolley wire when it is on either side of the work, or at a point above the locomotive.

WOMAN DEFENDED HUSBAND ATTACKED IN HIS SALOON

Three of the Men Discharged in Clayton on Payment of Court Costs.

Mrs. Arthur Autenrieth, a handsome, vigorous-looking woman, 21 years old, told Justice Werremeyer at Clayton Monday how she protected her husband when a party of eight men made an attack on him on the night of July 6 in his saloon at Maddenville, St. Louis County.

"The men were awfully boisterous," Mrs. Autenrieth told the Court. "They threw glasses and poolballs and broke the furniture and looking glasses. None of them offered any violence to me, though they called for my husband and threatened to kill him if they could get him."

Albert Dickens, William Vaughn and Joseph were discharged at the close of the State's evidence, as no one was able to identify them as having been in the saloon. George Vetter, John Pryor and Charles Longwood were discharged on payment of costs. Cases against six others were continued until Oct. 28.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

ONLY ST. LOUIS EVENING NEWSPAPER WITH ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES.

TO MANY PEOPLE THE "SERVANT PROBLEM" IS AS SIMPLE AS ANY OTHER—IS, IN FACT, JUST A "WANT AD." MATTER.

FIVE ARRESTED IN JOPLIN, MO., DYNAMITE CASE

Police Believe Three Women and Two Men Can Clear Mystery.

NEWSPAPER BLOWN UP

Plant Was Wrecked After News-Herald Conducted Anti-Graft War.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

JOPLIN, Mo., Oct. 15.—Five persons, suspected of being the ones who dynamited the Joplin News-Herald plant on the night of Sept. 13, were arrested at 2 o'clock this morning. They are Minnie St. Charles, Charles Smith, W. S. Martin, Bessie Beam and Hazel Ray, alias Hazel Reed.

These arrests were made at the home of Minnie St. Clair, who formerly conducted a resort in this city. All of those arrested are well known in police circles, and are said to have been bitter towards the News-Herald because of its crusades for morality.

The police will take the prisoners through a "sweating" before noon today, with the hope of obtaining confessions. The arrests were the result of the investigations of a committee appointed by citizens in a mass meeting here soon after the wrecking of the newspaper plant.

Paper Had Fought Vice.

Prior to the dynamiting of the News-Herald the paper had conducted a vigerous crusade against gamblers, saloon men who sold liquor on Sunday, and against the police and City Council for tolerating such violations of the law.

As a result of editorial attacks on the officials the city editor of the News-Herald was attacked on the street in daylight by a member of the Council, and a fist fight followed.

The paper had charged that the saloon men were buying privileges, if not with money, by political favors. It was asserted that the "rest" room at the Central Police Station was handsomely furnished by saloon men.

Soon after the plant was wrecked the Mayor called a mass meeting and $10,000 was subscribed by citizens to be used in a fund for ferreting out the crime. Detectives were brought here from St. Louis and the investigation has been conducted quietly, but diligently ever since.

Eight Charges "Planted."

The explosion occurred at 10:30 o'clock in the evening. Eight separate charges of dynamite of two sticks each had been "planted," one in each of the linotype machines and four in the big press. The machinery was all new. Only the upper section of the press was destroyed, so that the paper got out a half-sized issue the next day. The damage to the linotype machines was of such a nature that the four were spliced so as to make two. The total loss was estimated at $15,000.

P. E. Burton is editor of the News-Herald and J. F. Farish is business manager. Both were formerly connected with newspapers in St. Louis.

FLOOD WAS IN 3327 B. C., SAYS CHICAGO PROFESSOR

Dr. Toffteen of Western Theological Seminary Declares He Can Prove Theory.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—That the flood took place in the year 3327 B. C., and the earliest occurrence recounted in the Bible date from 3429 B. C., is the news given out by Dr. Olaf A. Toffteen. Dr. Toffteen is professor of Semitic languages and Old Testament literature in the Western Theological Seminary.

The seminary professor is certain he can prove these interesting dates to any anxious inquirer. Here is some of his work:

"Joseph was sold into Egypt in 1901 B. C. and became Governor of that country in 1887 B. C. Isaac was born in 2065 B. C., when Abraham, his father, was just 100 years old. Jacob and Esau both were born in 2006 B. C. Ramesis I began his reign in 1321 B. C. Abraham was born in 2165 B. C. and lived to be 175 years old. The Temple of Solomon was begun in the year 968 B. C."

Said to Have Charmed Life.

Most romantic of all the figures brought into the limelight by the troubles in Morocco is the "red kaid," a native leader who has ridden at the head of his men in many a gallant charge against the French. A correspondent says of him: "His native name is Kaid el Hemerr. Hemerr meaning red. He belongs to the M'Dacra tribe, near Casablanca. He derives his name from the fact that he always dresses in red. The kaid is paralyzed in both hands and cannot shoot, but he is well known for his gallantry in leading and urging his men. He is said to possess a talisman rendering him bullet-proof."

Thief Took Bowler's Gem.

Martin Kern, expert bowler, living at 2929 Dickson street, has asked the police to find the thief who stole his coat, vest, diamond stud, watch and chain, all valued at $150, which disappeared while he was laying out a bowling alley in the Marquette Hotel Monday night.

Englishmen Pick Wives By An Affinity Table

Jail for Them if They Wed Aunt or Niece or Grandfather's Widow or Some Others.

BAN NOT UPON MAMA-IN-LAW

BY IMOGENE ARNI.

MERCY! There must be some people in England with strange ideas of marriage. Why, they have laws naming all your relatives whom you cannot marry and about the only relative not under the ban is your mother-in-law. It must have been an absent-minded lawmaker who forgot to put her in. Or, perhaps, he decided no man would ever think of marrying his mother-in-law.

When a man and a woman want to get married, they must go to a law office and get the "Table of Kindred and Affinity," and see whether they are likely to spend their honeymoon in Jail. It was only a short time ago that a man could not marry his dead wife's sister, nor a woman her dead sister's husband, but they can do it now, according to the new law.

But this is the only combination that anyone can be at all clear about. 'Tis the height of rashness to make any other without first "looking in the book to see." A man can't marry his brother's widow nor a woman her dead husband's brother. Looks like six of one and a half dozen of the other to me, but of course, I'm not a lawyer nor yet an Englishman.

Blow to Royalty.

Marriages between uncles and nieces are forbidden. They will go hard with the royalty, for that is a bad habit of theirs, which has threatened to grow on them. But, of course, if one is a member of royalty, he can get a special dispensation. Yes, there really are a few compensations for being royal, and having to marry in the family.

But horrors! Here is the blow that kills. "A man may not marry his grandfather's widow," says the law.

I think when a young man of—say 25 or so—feels impelled to lead to the altar a blushing young grandmother-in-law of about 70, it is only humane to let him go ahead. Of course, shooting would be quicker and more painless, perhaps, but it is my opinion that even a criminal ought to have some say so about the method of execution.

Daughter-in-Law Is Barred.

A man can't even marry his daughter-in-law over in England. This certainly would go hard with that family back East in which a woman, finding herself unhappy with her husband, divorced him and married his brother.

After becoming the mother of a second boy, she again found herself dissatisfied and divorced the second husband. But as they were used to having her in the family, and as there was no woman in the house to take care of the men, the father, being a widower, asked his daughter-in-law to try him out, and she did. She hasn't divorced him yet, but that was only about two months ago, so there's still time.

Now, if this woman has a son by her third marriage, what will those three boys be to one another? They would all be brothers, to a certain extent, but what relation is the son of the father to the other two sons, and to his own mother and—but just then they sounded the busy signal.

A man can't marry the widow of his grandson, either, over in England. Neither may he wed the widow of a brother's son, of a sister's son, or even the daughter of a wife's sister.

Law in Church Book.

This Table of Kindred and Affinity, they say, is to be found at the end of the "Thirty-nine Articles of Religion," but the only time people ever look at it is when they want to keep awake during a dry sermon. I'd rather go decently to sleep, myself, than try to figure out all those relationships.

I feel moved to repeat that I am certainly glad we have no law of affinity over here. Just about the time a man and a girl had got properly and comfortably married, they would wake up some morning to find that the bride was a second cousin by marriage of somebody's dead wife's grandmother, and the law of inheritance would be knocked seven ways from Sunday.

'Cello Nearly 300 Years Old.

An old 'cello, which the owner at Mount Noorah, Victoria, sent to be repaired, was found to bear the label Nicolo Amati and the date 1624. There was also found a record of the instrument having been repaired by Louis Dandeh of Versailles, in 1731, for Louis XVI.

Stadium to Seat 70,000.

The immense stadium in London, in which are to be held the fourth international Olympian games next year, has already been begun and is to hold 70,000 spectators. The arena in which the athletic struggles will be fought is to be 12,900 feet. This is the first time the stadium will be equipped with bicycle and running tracks, a swimming pool and other facilities which will apparently make the games more inclusive than ever before—and make more events for Americans to win.

MAYOR'S BAN ON CITY HALL MEETING

Refuses to Allow United Free Bridge Committee to Use Corridor of Building.

Discussing his refusal to permit the use of the City Hall for a free bridge mass meeting, Mayor Wells said Tuesday:

"The request by the free bridge people to use the hall is merely an occasion for me to express my opinion that it would establish a bad precedent for throngs to come to the City Hall and try to influence legislation.

"The proper place for citizens to use their influence for good government is at the primary elections and at the polls on city and general election days."

F. Ernest Cramer, member of the City Council and of the United Free Bridge Committee, conducted the negotiations with Mayor Wells for the use of the City Hall rotunda.

After asking for two or three days to think the request over, the Mayor refused permission when Cramer asked for an immediate answer, on the ground that it would be "forming a dangerous precedent."

Syndicate Condemned.

The proposal of a syndicate to build the free bridge and buy the $3,500,000 of bonds, if they were granted in return a franchise for the operation of a freight subway in the downtown district and terminal tracks for a large warehouse, was condemned by the Free Bridge Committee, most of the members considering it a scheme for the further delay of the bridge, or an attempt to merge the free bridge into the present monopoly. Many members thought the fact that no names of syndicate members were given with the proposal was an argument against it.

The West End Business Men's Association has passed a resolution commending the Terminal Association for its offer to abolish the bridge arbitrary on Jan. 1, but at the same time declaring itself strongly in favor of the free bridge. The association considers the Terminals offer an attempt to detract interest from the free bridge project.

A similar resolution was adopted by the Eleventh Ward Improvement Association, and both forwarded to the United Free Bridge Committee.

NEGRO ATTACKS WHITE GIRL AND RACE WAR IS FEARED IN SEDALIA

Men Had Rope and Wanted to Hang Miscreant, but Cooler Counsel Prevails.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SEDALIA, Mo., Oct. 15.—Lloyd Cannon, a negro, made a brutal assault late yesterday afternoon on Sophia Schwenson, a white girl employed at the home of F. Merriwether. The girl's cries attracted the attention of Reuben Sellers, a carpenter, and she was rescued. She had not been harmed, although her clothing was torn off.

J. M. Ray and William Shaw, carpenters working with Sellers, procured a rope and insisted on hanging Cannon, but were persuaded to desist until Mr. Merriwether, who was absent from home, returned.

Mr. Merrimether was out of town, but returned at 9:30 last night. He was informed of what had occurred, but feared a race war if the affair became public, so after a consultation with friends, the news was suppressed until this morning. Cannon left town, but officers throughout central Missouri have been requested to be on the lookout for him.

AFFINITIES PUT IN CELL AS INSANE

Magistrate Commits Preacher and Parishioner's Wife for Mental Inquiry.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Rev. Maxwell J. H. Walenta, pastor of the Evangelical People's Church, in Sutton street, near Nassau avenue, Brooklyn, has found his affinity in Mrs. Dora Bauer, a brunette, wife of Louis A. Bauer, an electrotyper of 52 Sutton street. The minister and the woman were arrested on a warrant charging them with breaking Section 285 of the Penal Code.

They were arrested in the parsonage adjoining the church in Sutton street, taken before Magistrate O'Reilly in the Manhattan Avenue Police Court, who committed them to the Raymond Street Jail to have their sanity inquired into.

It is alleged that Mrs. Bauer left her husband's house Wednesday morning and went to the parsonage. Her husband tried to persuade his wife to return, but it is alleged she refused. When the policemen reached the parsonage, Mrs. Bauer was in the back parlor. The minister and the woman were not in the least disturbed. Both expressed a willingness to go to court. Magistrate O'Reilly had the couple escorted to his private room, where he held the examination. Rev. Walenta and Mrs. Bauer appeared devoted to each other and exchanged smiles as the husband of the woman stated his complaint.

"Why did this woman leave her husband?" asked Magistrate O'Reilly of the minister.

"Love," answered the minister; "I felt in Mrs. Bauer a living soul, and my soul cried for some one who was alive in the twentieth century. When I found her I realized there was no sunshine in her home and I tried to give it to her."

"Did you think it proper for a woman to come to your house in this way," asked the Magistrate.

"It looks peculiar," responded Walenta; "but in reality it is not. I believe soul and soul should speak to each other."

Mrs. Bauer said she left her home while her husband was asleep, and went to the minister's house. She said she was admitted by a servant, and remained in the house until daylight. She admitted she was in the house at another time. When asked why she went to the minister's house Mrs. Bauer replied:

"When a person is sick I believe it is proper in the eyes of God to go to him. I was called to do this by God."

"You were called upon by God to obey your husband," said the Magistrate.

"No, sir, that bond was broken two years ago," answered the woman.

Magistrate O'Reilly adjourned further examination and said he would order an investigation into the sanity of the minister and Mrs. Bauer. Neither obtained a bondsman. The Bauers have one child, a boy of 4.

Early Methods of Voting.

"Ballot," as generally used, has wandered far from its original meaning of "little ball." Even "blackballing" is no longer necessarily literal. Language has several fossil relics of primitive methods of voting. Most famous is "ostracism," which perpetuates the memory of "ostrakon," the potsherd of shell upon which the Athenian citizen voted for the banishment of a too prominent personage. Another instance is "spondulicks," the slang word for money. A "spondulos," properly a vertebra of the spine, came to mean any round thing and in particular the voting pebble of its metal equivalent.

SUMMERS WILL NOT PROSECUTE MARK BRANDT

Son of Prominent Christian Pastor Alleged to Have Forged Checks.

Assistant Circuit Attorney Don C. Summers, on returning to his office at the Four Courts Tuesday after a two-weeks' absence, told a Post-Dispatch reporter that he would not prosecute Mark Brandt, son of Rev. John L. Brandt, pastor of the First Christian Church, for forging his name to several checks.

Summers stated that he was a friend of the Brandt family and that was why he had decided not to prosecute the youth.

Summers declined to discuss the alleged forgeries, but a person familiar with the case told a Post-Dispatch reporter that Summers gave Mark Brandt two of his personal checks for $20 each to get them cashed. Mark is said to have cashed them both at the same time and place. He gave Summers $20 of the money and borrowed $4 of that. Brandt went away saying he would get the other check cashed in an hour, but Summers has not since seen him.

Two weeks later Summers was called to the telephone by Miss Nina Brandt and told that she wanted to see him. Upon going to Dr. Brandt's home Summers was told by Miss Nina that Mark had forged his name to several checks.

Miss Brandt said that she knew where the checks had been cashed and that she would take the money and make them good if that would be satisfactory to Mr. Summers. Dr. Brandt at this time was absent from the city, and Miss Brandt stated that Mark was also not in St. Louis. Summers told Miss Brandt that if the fraudulent checks were made good by the Brandt family he would not prosecute Mark.

Dr. Brandt said he knew nothing about the alleged forgery, that his son had not been a member of his household for eight months. He said Mark had been employed by Summers at one time and he believed that he had been paid by check. He would deeply regret it if there had been any alteration in the old family relations between his son and Summers.

HALF YEAR IN JAIL FOR TAKING A LIFE

Fred Koerber Given Lightest Punishment for Stabbing Martin Schallert.

Michael Schallert, 24 years old, who was tried in Judge Muench's court, charged with murder in the first degree, will have to serve only six months in jail for stabbing and killing Fred Koerber Aug. 4 last.

The jury's verdict was returned late Monday afternoon. Schallert testified that there had been an old grudge between him and Schallert. On the night of the killing he said Koerber followed him to his home at 1807 North Eighteenth street and made a noise under his window so that he couldn't sleep.

When he went out to remonstrate, he said, Koerber attacked him, knocked him down and kicked him. When he thought his life was in danger he drew his knife and stabbed Koerber.

Judge Muench instructed the jury that it could bring in a verdict of murder in the first or second degree or of manslaughter in the fourth degree, according to the extent to which they believed Schallert acted with deliberation. The lightest penalty was assessed.

FRIENDS OBTAIN RELEASE OF MURPHYSBORO GIRLS

Helen Maund and Emma Klein Had Come Here for Visit When Arrested.

Miss Helen Maund and Miss Emma Klein, 17-year-old Murphysboro (Ill.) girls, who came to St. Louis to look for work and were arrested as they stepped from a train at Union Station, were released Tuesday.

Miss Kline said that she was going direct from Union Station to the home of her sister, Mrs. B. F. Meyers Jr., at 4134 Cook avenue, and Miss Maund was going to live with a friend, Mrs. Will Simpson Jr., at 4358 Finney avenue. These people's confirmation of the girls' statements obtained their release.

The arrest of the girls was caused by a telegram from J. Q. Adams, Mayor of Murphysboro, an uncle of Miss Maund, whom she did not tell of her intention to come to St. Louis.

ILLINOIS PRIMARY BILL INTRODUCED

Measure Provides for Plurality Nominations of All Officers and Carries Emergency Clause.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct 15.—The primary bill drawn by Representative John D. Oglesby and the House primary elections committee, assisted by Attorney-General Stead and his office force was introduced into the Illinois House this morning and there being no objection the bill was read a first time and sent to second reading without reference.

It provides for the direct plurality nomination of all candidates by every party from President down to highway commissioner, taking in county, city and village officers and carries an emergency clause.

In the opinion of Attorney-General Stead it meets all the objections raised by the Supreme Court to the two previous primary laws that were held invalid by that tribunal.

Congressman William Lorimer of Chicago speaking before the Illinois House of Representatives this morning denied the assertion that there has never been a survey of the Mississippi from St. Louis to Cairo.

This contention has been urged in opposition to the deep waterway on the ground that it is useless to make a vast expenditure for a waterway through Illinois so long as there is no provision for a channel from St. Louis to Cairo.

Congressman Lorimer said that his search revealed a survey and work between St. Louis and Cairo that has cost the Government $8,000,000. In his opinion $20,000,000 more will complete a deep waterway from St. Louis to Cairo.

"Fourteen thousand cubic feet of water a second turned into the Mississippi from lake Michigan," said Congressman Lorimer, "will give a 14-foot channel from St. Louis to Cairo 304 days each year. Ten thousand feet a second will give a 14-foot channel 267 days in the year or more days in the year than we are able to navigate the great lakes."

Robert E. Speer to Speak.

Robert E. Speer, secretary of the Board of Missions of the Presbyterian Church, will speak at the Washington and Compton Avenue Church Saturday evening. The church will be opened at 7:30. The meeting is under the auspices of the Presbyterian Brotherhood.

ENGLISH TRAIN JUMPS TRACK; 16 DEAD, MANY HURT

Ten Passengers Among the Killed on London & Northwestern Road.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

SHREWSBURY, England, Oct. 15.—A train made up of passenger coaches bound from Scotland and the north of England to Bristol on the London & Northwestern Railroad, left the rails as it was entering the station here at an early hour this morning. Sixteen persons, including ten passengers, were killed and many were injured.

The track curves sharply near Shrewsbury, and there is a standing order that the engineers must not exceed a speed of 10 miles an hour at that point. Disregard of the order is believed to have been the cause of the accident.

The engine and all the cars, with the exception of the last one, left the rails and when the officials from the railroad station reached the spot the cars were a tangled mass of wreckage beneath which were the bodies of the dead and the injured. Fortunately the wreck did not catch fire and the doctors and salvage crews, who soon reached the scene, did not have this added danger to fight in the darkness and pouring rain, which, however, retarded the work of rescue. Several hours elapsed before the last body was taken out.

The killed included the engineer and fireman and the guards and postal clerks who were in the mail car immediately behind the tender of the engine.

Today's wreck is the most disastrous, so far as the loss of life is concerned, that has occurred in England this year. According to statistics gathered by the British Government, only 58 of the 21,000,000 passengers carried by all railroads in England last year perished in wrecks. Fifty-seven of these were killed in three wrecks—at Salisbury, where more than a score of Americans lost their lives; at Grantham and at Elliott's Junction.

No other St. Louis evening newspaper can get Associated Press dispatches.

TO ABANDON THE FREE BRIDGE?

The Manufacturers' Association has ambitious plans for a bridge, for terminals, for warehouses and for tunnels. No one will offer the slightest objection to legitimate enterprise in these directions.

When the Manufacturers' Association, however, appears with a proposition to merge its undertaking with the project for a free bridge which was officially undertaken by the people of St. Louis nearly two years ago, there is occasion for emphatic protest.

The plan of the Manufacturers' Association is plausible. It contemplates relieving the city of all effort and all responsibility. The association will market the bonds. It will locate the bridge. It will build the bridge. Of course, it will manage the bridge and its approaches.

A year ago last June, by a vote of 51,984 to 6483, the people of St. Louis approved of the free bridge proposition and authorized a bond issue of $3,500,000. No other municipality ever entered upon a notable public work with greater enthusiasm and unanimity.

If nearly 52,000 voters did not know what they were doing on June 12, 1906; if they have now become indifferent, or if they are now satisfied that their first action was mistaken, they might be disposed to entertain the manufacturers' suggestion, but not otherwise.

Consideration of such a proposition would establish at once the fact that there had been an amazing change of mind.

If there has been, indeed, such abandonment of purpose it furnishes the best of reasons why the free bridge project should be dropped altogether, for a public improvement which must be carried out by private enterprise and complicated with private enterprise is no worthy public work at all.

Furthermore, if the judgment of the people as to the bridge has been reversed, there is another excellent reason why it would be better to give up the bridge idea altogether than to surrender it meekly into the hands of private parties.

The bridge bonds have not been sold and there are people who say that they cannot be sold. Capitulation to the Manufacturers' Association would be equal to confession that St. Louis suffers not only from public fickleness, but from impaired public credit. We might endure the one, but we must not be humiliated by the other.

Let the Manufacturers' Association go ahead with its own bridge in its own way. The free bridge movement should be left to itself, to the initiative of the people and to the everlasting credit or discredit of the people who indorsed it overwhelmingly and then seemingly lost interest in it.

Perhaps at some not distant day, having learned that popular government calls for popular interest and popular sacrifice, they will return to the subject with renewed zeal, sweeping away the self seekers and the obstructionists and insisting upon action and results.

BACHELOR SERMONS ON MARRIAGE.

Even when he occupies a St. Louis pulpit, the bachelor cannot speak ex cathedra of marriage.

When an obstinate and persistent bachelor of long standing undertakes to preach of marriage as a failure it must be taken as the mere confirmation of his personal attitude, the expression of a very limited viewpoint.

On the other hand, he would hardly be taken quite seriously if he descanted wholly upon the beauty, blessedness and bliss of matrimony by way of urging others to do what he has so signally failed and refused to do.

President Roosevelt's appears to be the more consistent position, and he has some sound and interesting advice, too, concerning the undesirability of the singly blessed from the civic standpoint.

All things considered, there seems to be no crying necessity for baccalaureate or purely academic treatment of any phase of this great question, any more than there is need of old maids' books on the care of babies, the same being rather diverting than convincing.

THE TERRIBLE DR. WILEY.

The charge that Dr. Wiley of the Department of Agriculture is responsible for the high price of foodstuffs can hardly be sustained.

The doctor has accomplished a great work in showing the danger of the indiscriminate use of preservatives and the outrageous immorality of adulteration. Whatever legislative action has been based upon his disclosures has necessarily made nothing scarce except acids and swindles.

Meats saturated with preservatives, even when they were no longer fit for consumption, did not sell any cheaper than meats that were fresh from the packing-house. The new food laws regulate their preparation, guarantee their genuineness and compel truth-telling on their labels.

Not one of these things adds to the cost of the article. The government itself pays for most of the inspection that is done.

As to counterfeit goods, such as pretended jams, jellies and preserves, if they contain nothing deleterious, as may easily be the case, there is no prohibition of their manufacture and sale when they are honestly labeled.

Most people, even those who must practice the closest economy, do not relish imitation foods and if the sale of ruch articles has diminished, thus causing a great demand for the genuine, at higher prices, no blame can attach to the man who assisted in pointing out the deception.

We cannot have too much cheap food that is wholesome and exactly what it pretends to be. Cheap food, however, that is loaded with powerful preservatives, colored with objectionable dyes and flavored with questionable extracts may easily be dispensed with.

Taking that kind of food products out of the market may have shortened the apparent supply temporarily and caused an increase of prices for legitimate goods, but it will be found also that their disappearance will have its compensations in reduced bills from the doctor and the undertaker.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES IN ST. LOUIS.

The annual report of the Inspector of Weights and Measures shows that his inadequate force has been able to do but a fraction of the inspection necessary.

In theory the scales and measures of St. Louis are to be inspected at frequent intervals, and once a year, at the very least but a force of five inspectors has not gone over more than half the number at all, though dilligent work seems to have been done.

By contrast with some City Hall departments unnecessarily enlarged, and others seeking enlargement for political reasons, here is a force that actually requires doubling and trebling for the public's sake.

Inspection of weights and measures is work which falls to government with peculiar and special propriety; it is work which ought to be done thoroughly and often, and for which the public can well afford to pay.

Necessity for honest pecks and honest pounds was never so compelling as now, when trade corruption and graft in foodstuffs are subjects of grave public concern and outcry. Never is the cheat of short measure or light scale more contemptible than when it supplements monopoly prices for the necessaries of life, of human existence.

If the great food Shylocks are able to exact their pound of flesh from the hapless consumer the least he can do for self-preservation is to see that the scale vary not the "twentieth part of one poor scruple" and turn not "in the estimation of a hair."

The assertion that President Roosevelt is "committed to river improvement" should be coupled with the statement that he is also committed in the same connection to irrigation, forestry, swamp land reclamation and Government ownership of the fuel supply.

Where they need prayer most they ignore it. The Filipino Assembly will depend upon itself.

Harriman is the Jonah, evidently. How long can he stay on the speculative ship?

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Fenders and the Police.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I read the editorial about the bad fenders of the United Railways Co. and thought it fine. Everyone knows there is not a fender on any of their cars that is worth one baubee for saving life. That poor child lay in agony under the car for 20 minutes. A few good men could have upset the car and released her, but the police would not allow that. What alacrity the police show when the United Railways is in trouble. They are always on hand. Some people think the police ride free, but they don't. The city pays a lump sum to the company for their riding, and there is no need of being in such a rush for them to help out the company. ADAMS.

Middle-Aged Stenographers.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I am a woman of middle age, educated, industrious and dependent on myself for a living. I am a good stenographer and capable of making a good living for myself, but, as I said, of middle age, and the business men don't want that sort. I am turned down without being given even a trial, while a pretty, young girl, probably wishing to work merely to buy finery, will be employed. Now, what am I and all of my kind to do? We are capable and willing, but can't get the work. Will any of the readers of the Post-Dispatch advise or offer work? G.

Old Men Must Live.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I notice in tonight's Post-Dispatch a letter written by C. Willard, attacking what he terms an abuse on the part of the telegraph companies in employing what he sneeringly terms old men as messenger "boys" and ascribes it to greed on the part of the telegraph companies. That is not the reason; it was the inability to secure the services of boys eligible for the work in consequence of the new law compelling school attendance on the part of the boys that necessitated the companies to engage the services of elderly men. I beg to remind C. Willard that "Oslerism" is not yet put into practice and that it is commendable on the part of "old men" to earn an honest dollar instead of becoming a charge upon their friends or the public. J. STEWART.

For a Milksop.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Won't you kindly tell Reader, who feels bad at what Mr. Roosevelt said about milksop, that the phrase or word is as old as the hills. Likewise mollycoddle. I heard the same words used when I was a kid. And Teddy uses them now and the papers publish them, and one would think he was the inventor of such words and terms. No more harm to be a milksop than a bear hunter or a lone fisherman.
YOUR WELL-WISHER.

The Watterson Wail.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Is not dear old Col. Watterson, heretofore the most ardent of all Kentucky ardent spirits, needlessly melancholy over the Puritan menace of closed distilleries and dismantled breweries? Is it possible that social joy would be impossible without alcoholic drinks? Would we not still have those inestimable blessings, tea, coffee and tobacco? With these we may be sociable if we are not natural-born grouches. Besides, have we not the products of the slaughter house, the seashore, the sloughs and the streams? May we not still swallow living oysters, skin living eels, feed on boiled lobsters and listen to the sweet songs of imprisoned birds? May we not daily load our stomachs with all that is delicious or indigestible? Even were it possible to completely dry the Dark and Bloody Ground would it not be a little less bloody, even if it were dryer? B. AZY.

NOTICE TO FARMERS.

The International Long Distance Balloon Race is to be started from St. Louis next week, the balloons rising from Forest Park on the afternoon of Oct. 21.

This race will be entered by aeronauts from the United States, England, Germany and France. It is desired that every courtesy be shown them in this country. Therefore, the St. Louis Aero Club respectfully requests every farmer in the United States to have on his place during the first three days of next week the means of informing the aeronauts of their whereabouts wherever they may apply.

It will be necessary, therefor, to have upon each farm through the period stated, someone able to speak English, someone able to speak French, someone able to speak German, and someone able to speak our own language.

Farmers with hands able to speak our own language and German, or our own language and French, have the club's consent to place this double reliance in said hands; but no single hand will be trusted to speak both German and French, and no one hand will be trusted to speak our own language and English.

Dialects, pigeon-English, bill-of-fare French, the language spoken in the Southern United States, and Cincinnati German, are all forbidden. These aeronauts will want to know where they are.

Respectfully,
"BUD" DOZIER, President.

TRUTH AND FICTION.

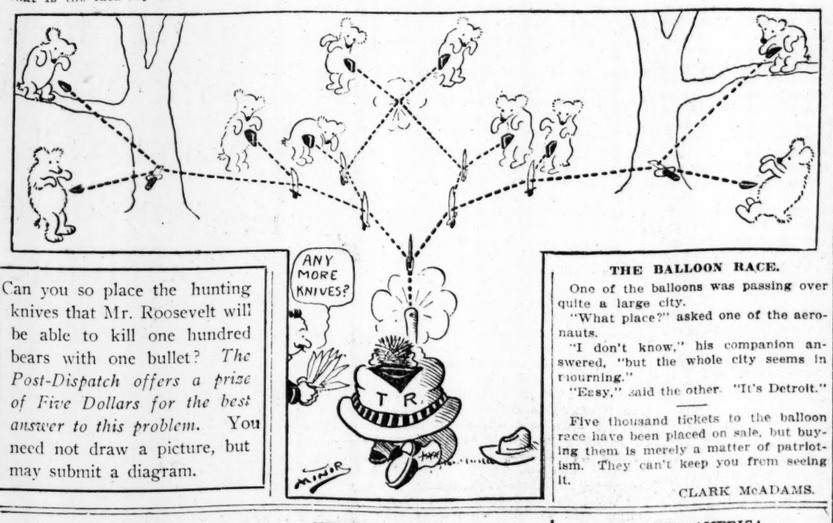
Truth continues considerably stranger than fiction. None of the fictitious geographical names has quite equalled Hen Peck, Mo.

Hen Peck is in Carter county. It is much smaller than Puxico, Mo., which we always look at two or three times when we see it in the newspapers; but it is larger than Gumbo, Mo., which also arrests the eye when we encounter it in a date line.

Hen Peck has no significance now, if we are to accept the assurance of a Carter county paper. That has all passed. The men of the present generation are all masters of their own houses; their wives lean upon, rather than fall upon, them; they can stay out as late as suits their fastidious fancy, and when they walk with their helpmeets, they stride along manfully, just a little in advance, instead of trotting along meekly just a little bit behind.

It may all be as this editor says, but we have lived too long in Missouri to believe that the descendants of a henpecked ancestry have so soon thrown off the yoke. We would like very much to spend an evening in Hen Peck, Mo., and observe which way the married men of the community go when Curfew rings.

The Taft trip is a failure, but it is as near home on around as it would be to turn back.



Can you so place the hunting knives that Mr. Roosevelt will be able to kill one hundred bears with one bullet? The Post-Dispatch offers a prize of Five Dollars for the best answer to this problem. You need not draw a picture, but may submit a diagram.

THE BALLOON RACE.

One of the balloons was passing over quite a large city.

"What place?" asked one of the aeronauts.

"I don't know," his companion answered, "but the whole city seems in mourning."

"Essy," said the other. "It's Detroit."

Five thousand tickets to the balloon race have been placed on sale, but buying them is merely a matter of patriotism. They can't keep you from seeing it.

CLARK McADAMS.

WALKING.

From the Knoxville (Tenn.) Sentinel.

One of these rare October mornings, the man who is not tempted to walk out amid all the natural beauties that environ him, and in the pure atmosphere that exhilarates with its tonic effects, is possessed of a benighted soul and unilluminated understanding. How the blood tingles as it courses with vigorous bounds through the veins! How elastic the step, how joyful the emotions, how musical the sounds, how pleasing the prospects! The golden rod bows its orange crest with friendly greetings. The radiant asters adorn roadside, hillside and meadow like the thickly studded stars in the firmament of heaven. The undulating hills and the fertile valleys in graceful contour and boundless sweep, stretch out as though called up at the beck of a fairy's wand to give some realizing sense of fairyland. The distant mountains lift their towering forms to high heaven and outline the horizon as with wreaths of violet blue.

GUARANTYING H. CLAY.

From the Waco (Tex.) Times-Herald.

Let Mr. Pierce come on and we guarantee him the time of his life.

INDEX EXPURGATORIUS.

From the Indianapolis News.

After a careful and impartial consideration of all the evidence bearing on the subject, the Investigating Committee reports that, notwithstanding their long life and apparent respectability, the following are undoubtedly nature-fakes:

The bull in the china shop.
The wolf at the door.
The fly in the ointment.
The dog in the manger.
The fish out of water.
The bee in the bonnet.
The flea in the ear.
The rat that was smelled.
The chorus girl's lobster.
Pigs in clover.
Horse and horse.
Time flies.
The Welsh rabbit.
The man on a lark.

They are accordingly deleted from the White House phrase book and will receive no further official recognition.

BEER AND SHAKSPEARE.

From the Denver Post.

"Care much for Shakspeare?" asked she
Of the dude on the parlor settee.
Said he, "Well, Miss Ruth,
To tell you the truth,
Most any old beer will suit me."

NOT IN AMERICA.

From the Denver Post.

"This was told me the other day," said Joseph O'Mahoney, "by a friend who has just made a tour of Ireland. He was at the Lakes of Killarney, and a jarvey, driving one of those side-seated cars, was telling him of a visitor who was attempting to masquerade as an American, but had all the outward signs of being an Englishman.

"'You say, sorr,' said the jarvey, 'that you live in the states. Were ye's iver in Dubuque, Io.?'

"'I was,' said the traveler. 'I was there for a fortnight.'

"'Off wid ye,' said the carman. 'Ye were niver there. Divil a fortnight do they have in America.'"

KANSAS WHEAT.

From the Topeka State Journal.

Notwithstanding the ravages of the crop-killers last spring, Kansas will continue to be the leading wheat-producing State in the Union. Minnesota, its nearest competitor, will have, according to the Government's estimate, less than 60,000,000 bushels of wheat, while North Dakota will have about 55,000,000 bushels. Kansas will probably have 70,000,000 bushels or more.

HIGH FOOD PRICES.

From the Pittsburg Dispatch.

It is a convenient resort in the tight corners which discussion of the high-food prices may produce to lay them to the farmer.

A very clear test of the distribution of prices can be obtained if anyone will compare the prices which farmers receive for their staples on the farm with those which the consumer pays in the cities. In the discussion of the milk question, some nine months ago, the fact was brought out in strong relief that the sellers of milk in the cities demand a margin for their work about equal to the whole price which the farmer gets for his milk. That is, on an 8-cent basis, the farmer is expected to breed and raise his milk cows (or pay the breeder for doing it), to raise or buy fodder, to care for and milk his herd, to take the milk to the station and pay freight to the city, all for 4 cents, while the dealer charges 4 cents more for distributing the milk to the customers.

There is another point which is pregnant. There are farmers who combine both agricultural and business skill necessary to raise their products and sell them direct to the consumers in the city; and those farmers generally make money. Likewise, we know of cases in which city consumers have found means of buying their eggs or butter direct from farmers, and they get their staples at less than the usual retail prices. Neither of these operations ought to be as economical as the regular commercial operation of bringing in the same staples in large quantities.

This certainly suggests that if either producers or consumers can devise new organizations for bringing farm products to the consumer the margin between agricultural receipts and city expenditures for those products can be materially decreased. That decrease would also lessen the frequency of the paradox of large areas of farm land half tilled or not tilled at all, at the same time that the cities are paying high prices for the food which that unworked land is capable of producing.

GREAT ROOSEVELT!

From the Indianapolis Star.

Indiana ingenuity was never better displayed than in the opening of the choked overflow pipe, at the Blackburn coal mines last Friday. It was impossible to get at the pipe with the necessary tools, but a neighboring fisherman, who had caught a large sturgeon, saw a mode. Tying a strong cord to the fish's tail, he put it in the pipe. It at once swam forward to escape, and when it butted into the obstruction with its bony nose he pulled it back and let it butt again. Thus, by the simple process of drilling the obstruction was removed. The possibilities of this system are great. By the aid of trained sturgeons, garfish and shovel-nose catfish almost any old pipe may be cleaned.

CITIZENSHIP.

From the St. Paul Dispatch.

When a woman marries, she becomes of the same nationality, in law, as her husband. The St. Paul white girl who married a Chinaman is now a subject of the Empress Dowager. That is a quicker way of becoming an alien than Dick Croker and W. W. Astor used.

BABIES FED ON ALCOHOL.

From the New York Tribune.

According to recent French writers, infants in arms are fed with alcoholic liquors in Normandy, with the most disastrous effects. Dr. Brunon writes: "In Normandy it is not unusual to see women mix coffee and cognac in nursing bottles. These women are employed outside their homes, therefore some means must be devised to keep their babies quiet in the cradles during their absence. The ingenuity takes this form: A bottle containing the mixture is placed under the pillow to keep it warm, and attached thereto is a long rubber tube, which the child, once the nipple is placed between its lips, reluctantly gives up. Automatically it 'gets drunk' and, thanks to its heavy slumbers, the neighbors are not disturbed."

NOTES AND QUERIES.

Answers to Questions From Readers of the Post-Dispatch.

Write but one question. Sign but one initial. Legal questions must be simple. No bets decided. Business addresses not given. Address "Answers," Post-Dispatch.

NELLA.—See Answers Oct. 6—Veiled Prophet.

READER.—See Answers Oct. 1—night schools.

H. V. B.—Wood alcohol may be made from sawdust.

M. C. K.—Bridegroom wears white or gray gloves.

A. B.—French Consul, Louis Seguenot, 119 North Seventh.

A. B.—We do not name "bests" and we do not know everything.

M.—Bluish gray is the color of the most valuable lithographing stone

CONSTANT.—We know of no other name for the medicine you mention.

X. Y. Z.—Root is a proper pronunciation of route, but we like rout better.

MRS. ELEANOR.—No license is required for manicuring in one's residence.

ANXIOUS.—Cold water may make the bust firmer. It is not likely to enlarge it.

PLUNGER.—There is no penalty for destroying United States currency if it is your own.

J.—In 1900 the Illinois county having the smallest population was Putnam—4746; next smallest, Hardin—7448.

WHIFFEN.—If there are five persons in a pitch game, and man to left bids four, first man to bid four gets it.

AUTO.—For information as to Yellowstone Park auto rules, write to the Interior Department, Washington, D. C.

READER.—You will have to consult a nose and throat specialist about the displacement of cartilage, caused by a blow.

DONALD.—Tuition free to night school pupils 16 years old. See Board of Education or Central High School for particulars.

R. K.—To learn to be electrician apply at electrical works or correspondence schools. Pay is according to work done.

C.—Vegetables and fruits require nothing but repeated washing for the avoidance of germs. A 1 per cent solution is five grains to an ounce of water.

SAM.—New York has more millionaires than any other city in the world. It is said to have more of them than all the territory west of the Mississippi.

H.—A St. Louis Justice of the Peace could not perform a marriage ceremony outside of St. Louis. No Justice has jurisdiction beyond the county in which he lives.

ANXIOUS.—Your question is not clear. We do not think you can garnishee your husband's wages. If it is a case of alimony you would have to go to the Circuit Court.

MUELLER.—To dispose of stories, write Short-Story Publishing Co., 320 Dearborn street, Chicago; T. C. McClure Co., New York; J. B. Bowles, 86 La Salle street, Chicago.

CLARA.—To make gold leaf stick to glass or china ware, use Japan gold size. Leave the size on until it becomes tacky and then lay the gold leaf on. Don't put leaf on while the size is wet.

H. H.—Constable in St. Louis is paid $175 a month and he gets 2 per cent commission. His fees go to the city. For fees of constables in counties, see Revised Statutes, Public Library, 911 Locust.

G. A. B.—All manufacturers in this State are licensed and taxed on all raw material and finished products, as well as all tools, machinery and appliances used by them, unless these be less than $1000 in value.

TIM.—Three and one-half pounds of sugar, one pint of vinegar and seven pounds of fruit are the standard proportions for all sweet pickles. Spicing is varied to suit the taste and a tiny bit of alum added to keep the fruit firm.

ANXIOUS.—Cakes burn because the heat of the oven is not reduced after the cake is risen. They do not require a very hot oven, and the oven door should not be open for the first 20 minutes. When your cake burns or is a little too brown, rub a grater over it.

Z.—Oyster cocktail: A few dashes lemon juice in a tumbler, add a dash of tabasco sauce, a teaspoonful of vinegar, a few dashes tomato catsup, six Blue Point oysters, with all their liquor; season to taste with pepper and salt. Mix and serve with spoon in the glass.

FASHION.—Cranberry sauce: Heat one pint sugar and pint water to boiling point. Add one quart cranberries, cover saucepan and let stand on back of the range five minutes. Then move to front of the range and let cook five minutes after boiling begins. Set the sauce aside, covered, in the saucepan until cold.

R. N.—Hop beer: Ten pounds sugar, 1 pound hops, 1 pound ginger, bruised. Boil hops three hours, with five gallons water, then strain add five more gallons water and the ginger; boil a little longer, again strain, add the sugar and when lukewarm, add one pint yeast. After 24 hours it will be ready for bottling.

CONSTANT.—Hair tonics: Crude petroleum; sage tea; onion juice; hemlock soap and vinegar; seaweed and apple seed boiled in sea water; dandelion tea; plaintain tea; honeysuckle tea; boiled potato water and salt. Dr. Ellington recommends ointment of two grains pilocarpine to one ounce lanolin. For dandruff, massage every day.

CREEDER.—Reckoning seven bricks to each superficial foot of wall: Thirty feet of 12-inch wall, 675 bricks; 50 feet, 1125. Five courses will lay one foot in height of chimney; 16 bricks in a course make a flue four inches wide and 12 inches long, and eight bricks in a course will make a flue eight inches wide and 16 inches long.

C.—An officer, to legally arrest a man without a warrant, must see the man commit the offense or be near enough in time and space when the offense is committed to be fully persuaded of the commission by the party arrested, and fully persuaded that there will be danger of his making off unless he be at once arrested. The law writers are not wholly clear on this subject.

H. G.—Weight of United States coins, in grains: Gold—$20, 516; $10, 258; $5, 129; $2.50, 64.5; $3, 77.4; $1, 25.8. Silver—$1, 412½; trade dollar, 420; half-dollar, 192.9; Columbian half-dollar, 192.9; quarter, 96.45; Columbian quarter, 96.45; 20 cents, 77.16; dime, 38.58; half-dime, 19.2; 3 cents, 11.52. Minor coins—Five cents, 77.16, 75 per cent copper, 25 per cent nickel. One cent, 48, 95 per cent copper, 5 per cent tin and zinc.

M. K.—The cause of bloodlessness should be removed, and there should be rest, restricted exercise, fresh air, sunlight, and a highly nutritious diet. Tonics of most value are iron, arsenic, quinine and strychnine. The carbonate of iron, gr. ij-v (0.13-0.32 Gm.), is most employed, but Blaud's pill, Basham's mixture, tincture of chloride of iron, or other preparations of iron may be used. Great care should be taken to prevent constipation while any of the iron preparations are being taken.

E. O'D.—Peter Sonson obtained what he thought was the exclusive right to the fish in Besaw Lake, Ill., from E. J. Darst, who owns the land bordering upon the lake. When Albert and John Rogers appeared upon the lake and began to seine, Sonson ordered them to leave, and, when they refused, caused their arrest on a charge of trespass. When the case was called in Judge Whitney's court, the defendants proved that Besaw Lake had a connection with the Illinois River and in reality was a part of it. The State law holds that such lakes, when tributary to a river, are public property and cannot be sold or leased.

KATIE.—Elderberry wine: Gather berries when ripe on dry day; pick them off the stems and bruise with hands. Strain juice; let liquor rest in glazed earthenware pans 12 hours to settle. Allow to every pint juice pint water, and to every gallon of mixed water and juice three pounds good, moist sugar. Put over fire in large saucepan, and when ready to boil clarify with white of four eggs. Let boil an hour and, when nearly cold, put in some yeast to work it; pour it into the cask, reserving some of the liquor to fill up the cask, as it sinks when working. If you have about ten gallons it should be fit to bottle off in two months' time after it has been closed down; keep at least a year in bottle.

COLONIAL.—The incorporation of the proposed literary, athletic and pleasure society would come under Article XI, Chapter 12, Revised Statutes. Articles of agreement, together with petition for a "pro forma" decree thereon, must be presented to the Circuit Court and if granted a certified copy of such order is indorsed upon or attached to such articles. The articles of agreement, with the certificate, must be recorded in the office of the Recorder of Deeds and then filed with the Secretary of State, who then issues a certified copy of such articles of agreement with the several certificates thereon, as filed in his office, which certified copy is the charter of incorporation. No charge is made for issuing such charter; still, costs of attorney fee, court and recording fees must be taken into consideration and be paid.

L.—An interesting writer says: We have no pheasant indigenous to this country. Some Mongolian or Chinese and some English pheasants have been imported, and in some sections are doing well. No more have we a partridge. The quail coming nearest to it, is called partridge in the South. We give that name wrongfully to our ruffed grouse, while in Pennsylvania it is called pheasant. There is some controversy about our Bob White being a quail; no more is it, but more of a quail than anything else, and the name Ortyx or Bob White doesn't seem to take. So quail it must be. We can see the advantage sometimes of using the above terms in conversation with a country boy. When in a strange part of the country in pursuit of a boy, should you ask him "is there were any ruffed grouse to be found in those parts it would be a highball to a hunk o' pie he wouldn't know what you meant. But if he should say, "I never heard o' sech, but I knows where up in the old man's buck brier lot there be both an' feathers of partridges," you might get the very information you wanted.

MR. JARR RECITES LIMERICKS.

His Spouse Is Interested but Suspicious. Written for the Post-Dispatch

BY ROY L. McCARDELL.

"WHAT is a limerick?" asked Mrs. Jarr.

"A 'limerick' is a foolish rhyme, or rather a five-line verse, the first and second and fifth lines rhyme with each other, while the third and fourth lines, packed in the middle of the 'limerick,' rhyme independently with each other," said Mr. Jarr, looking up from his newspaper.

"I know as much about them now as when I first asked you," said Mrs. Jarr, sharply.

"Why don't you look in the paper, then? They are there, and you can see just as well as I can!" replied Mr. Jarr, roughly.

"How can I see anything in the papers?" asked Mrs. Jarr. "Do I get time enough to even look at the divorce cases—and it's no wonder the papers are full of them, the way the men act these days, and I'm sure they might advertise things for half what they cost and I'd never know it, because I do not get time to look. Anyway, I'm not interested in 'limericks!'"

"What did you ask me for, then?" grumbled Mr. Jarr.

"Because I'm foolish enough to like to have you talk to me the few times you are home, the little while you are in the house!" said Mrs. Jarr, with feeling. "Besides, I felt sure you wouldn't tell me if I did ask."

"Oh, don't fly up like that!" said Mr. Jarr. "I can tell you dozens of 'limericks.' If you want to hear 'limericks,' I'm the boy to tell 'em to you. I used to be a fiend for them."

"Let's hear them," said Mrs. Jarr. "I'll bet you do not know a one."

"Me?" said Mr. Jarr. "Just listen:

"There was a young lady of Leeds
Who had a collection of beads;
She'd beaux nine or ten,
All handsome young men,
Whom she strung just the same as the beads."

"I don't think much of that one," said Mrs. Jarr.

"Anything to please and satisfy you" said Mr. Jarr. "Here's another:

"There once was a blushing young bride,
'You must behave in the tunnel!' she cried.
'I can't kiss in the gloom,
It's too dark,' said the groom.
'Well, somebody did!' she replied."

"I notice your mind seems to run on girls," said Mrs. Jarr, suspiciously. "Are 'limericks' all about them?"

"Not at all," said Mr. Jarr. "Listen:

"There was an old man of Dunrose
Whose parrot bit off his nose;
His wife said 'I've heard
Meat's not good for the bird,
Poor Poll will be sick, I suppose!'"

"I think it would be nice to get up a 'limerick' party,' said Mrs. Jarr. "We'd make everybody recite original ones. You could write down some for me to remember, couldn't you?"

"Well, I suppose I could,' said Mr. Jarr. How would these do?"

"There was a young girl of Duluth.
Who sighed for a crown in her youth.
And lo, and behold!
She got one of gold,
That her dentist put on her front tooth!"

"Or: There was a young girl at a junction,
Who wept as if wrung by compunction;
When asked why she cried,
'I was to be wed!' she replied,
'But I can't think where they're holding the function!'"

"Or: There was a young girl of Leghorn,
Who danced from night until morn,
Till her feet got so sore
That she cried out 'No more!'
'I'll have to acknowledge the corn'"

"Oh, that will do! That will do!" said Mrs. Jarr. "But why do they call them 'limericks?'"

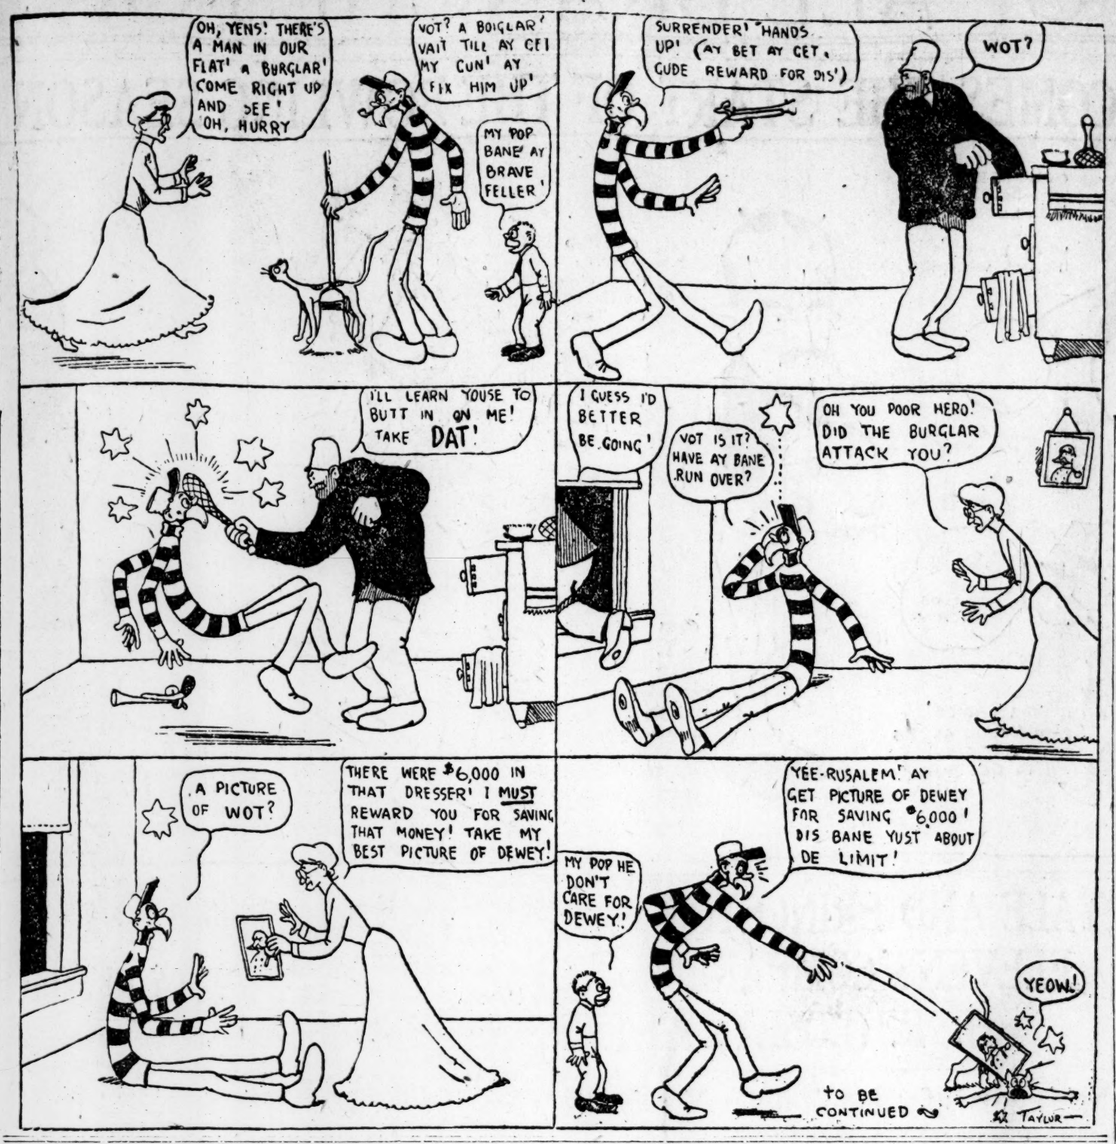
"Ah," said Mr. Jarr, "that's the great mystery!"

"It's something you'd be ashamed to tell," said Mrs. Jarr.

"Not at all," said Mr. Jarr, "but I've heard it's because there has been no rhyme ever found for 'Limerick.'"

"I don't believe it," said Mrs. Jarr. "It's not because you won't tell, but because you CAN'T tell. There's always something like that in these things."

YENS YENSEN, YANITOR { OF THE SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH } BY R. W. TAYLOR.



COL. HARVEY ON THE KISS.

Analysis and Information From the Editor of the North American Review.

IS KISSING a necessity or a luxury? Under what circumstances, to what extent, and by whom should it be indulged? And why, among those presumably capable of and responsible for the shaping of our common destiny, has it received so small a percentage of the attention which all of us not unfamiliar with its certain delights and probable consequences fully realize that it deserves?

Clearly, custom plays a large part in the determination of these problems. The marriage service does not impose the specific osculatory obligation upon either party to the contract; but nobody would question for a moment the implied right of each to kiss the other at suitable moments, and in a manner, of course, not inconsistent with the maintenance of the dignity of both. Although we may safely assume, in a large majority of cases, the practice has not been wholly neglected during the period of courtship, there is general tacit recognition of an abrupt change taking place in the quality or flavor, if we may so term it, of the caress simultaneously with the exchange of marital vows. Indeed, no engraving is more popular, particularly in our rural communities, than that of the tired and tearful bride receiving from the groom a salutation of the variety commonly described as "melting," as the minister and parents ostentatiously disappear through the doorway. In France, where young persons are permitted far less freedom than in America or even in England, the picture is truthfully labelled "The First Kiss"; but here the difference in condition is recognized by the substitution of "Wedded Bliss," or, as if spoken or breathed, "Mine!" and, in rare instances, "All Mine!"

It is in this hint of possession that we detect the underlying cause of the change in quality and flavor; probably at no other moment, either before or afterward, are necessity and luxury so happily blended. From that time forward, even among the best-regulated and least-fashionable families, the caress, as an inevitable consequence of frequency and easy acquisition, gradually simmers down to an inoffensive but somewhat perfunctory evidence of friendliness.

A further distinction, involving partial reversion to the earlier type, often arises from the decrease of one of the partners, usually the husband; but it may be accepted as a certainty that the savor peculiar to the original participation can never be wholly regained. A more apt illustration or more conclusive confirmation of this unhappy truth could not be desired than that contained in the appellations bestowed on the products of his art by the most famous of concocters of beverages designed to induce a quickening of the appetite. Of the two mixtures from whose invention he derived the highest satisfaction, one he called "The Maiden's Prayer;" the other was designated as "The Widow's Delight." Both were and continue to be, according to current reports, deservedly popular; but the significance of the delicate differentiation and the certainty that even to the untutored mind a reversal of its terms would have seemed preposterous tend greatly to clarify our sufficiently explicit, yet necessarily somewhat vague, assertion respecting the constantly varying quality of the kiss as a consequence of changing conditions. We suspect, moreover, that the essentials to full appreciation of osculatory favors differ correspondingly; the ingredients, for example, composing that which the artist felicitously termed a "maiden's prayer," while sufficing in early life, in later years seeming insipid and inadequate as compared with the richer combination of elements comprised in a "widow's delight." Either would be regarded, of course, as a luxury. Indeed, broadly speaking, we may safely assume that only such kisses as convention decrees that we may and should have at will fall within the realm of necessity; all others, although in widely varying degrees, are indeed luxuries. * * *

To this extent we may agree with the physicians, that osculation should be combined to those of approxiamtely the same ages; the indiscriminate kissing of babies, keenly susceptible to attacks from germs of all kinds, and the fondling of young women by old men and of young men by old women are practices not only offensive in themselves but unjust in the sense of depriving others of their just dues. We know of but one instance of happiness, though of a mitigated kind, having been secured through abstinence from kissing. That was the case of a lady who married a man who had a bad breath and who went to her grave, conscious, of course, of the suffering she had undergone from such hateful contact, but quite unaware that her situation was in any way peculiar, as she supposed to her dying day that all men's breaths were offensive. Inasmuch as the poor lady probably could not have divorced the wretch for such a cause, it may, perhaps, be urged that she profited from her ignorance; but we have never heard any boasting more absurd than that of her relatives over so rare an example of perfect chastity. As a matter of fact, of course, the unfortunate lady's exceptional ignorance merely evidenced her unattractiveness; because, surely, nobody will insist that a comely female, wed or unwed, deaf, dumb or blind, ever passed through life in such utter darkness.

TESS, THE UNSENTIMENTAL.

She Has Independent Notions and Doesn't Fall for Poetry. Reported for the Post-Dispatch

BY JOSEPH A. FLYNN.

"ALL spruced up to meet him, eh" I remarked to Tess last evening, as she was adjusting her hat, overweighted with a huge black plume, at an angle of forty-five degrees, before the mirror in the hall.

"Guess again," she replied, stabbing her Marcel with a hatpin the size of a boy's sword. "I'm just tripping out with Lizzie for an ordinary, every-day hoof along the wide lane. We'll cop the dizzy windows, pike off the latest broadcloths and Empires, get 10 minutes' worth of those swell, long, black silk coats; make a couple of calls to introduce our new bonnets; fall in for a plate of cream and a sponge cake; try to borrow a pattern, and be back at the bunk again in two tinkles of the clock. Don't think every time I give my glad rags an airing I'm going to meet some Him, and don't let an imagine run away with your hat that I can't shake the stoop without a Him for a side partner.

"When I'm led by a chain you'll see it in the paper. There was a time—long, long ago—when the girlies sat around in the evening, after finishing the table, or fell asleep, but that was when grandma yanked the cotton through the machine with one hand and rocked the cradle with the other. In those tight days poor Mollie couldn't move away from the front door after the sun went to bed unless she had some John to show her the way. But those times, like bathing suits, have changed.

"Now we can go where we please, when we please, and with whom we please, and nobody blows a whistle. No big WHYS meet us at the door when we come back, and we don't have to wind out the history of our life next morning, while auntie throws a fit on the floor to think we wandered off the block. We ladies are turning our heads so high now it won't be long before we'll be playing tag with John's bell and taking him out by the hand for a little skip around the block. Now, don't fall to the idea because I'm getting off this sermon I haven't got any fellows to go out with. Hump! If I was to accept all the invites I get you'd think there was a stag in this block every night.

"Last summer we had a dreamy Alec on the third floor front. His wool was so long you'd think he was fighting the Barber Trust, and one night he suggested we take a dip uptown. Well, I got all fussed up in a new white dress, and it wasn't long before we left the stoop behind. After a terrible struggle with his pocket we plunged on two ideas, and tripped through Forest Park. Talk about being up against it! For 40 minutes by the clock he went off into a spasm about the stars and the waving trees and the wet water, else said he was a poet. Now, just what a poet is I don't know, and, what's more, I don't care; but the next time you ever nab me going out with a poet, just call the padded wagon, put me in, and tell them to give me a number.

"While we were sitting under one of the trees he said he had built a poem that was going to stop the world some afternoon and bring him eggs and coffee every morning, and before I knew it he pulled a paper factory out of his pocket, and I ran into the greatest earful of slush I ever heard—all about waltzing up among the treetops and sailing over the water like a duck, every once in a while puncturing the blue sky. It was the greatest chunk of dope I ever fell over. Well, he came out of it all right, and I steered him home, but right in front of the door he asked me what I thought about it."

"I suppose you told him to put it in a gold frame and present it to the Home for the Blind, eh?" I asked with a smile, as Lizzie came tripping down the stairs into the hall.

"Not on your natural!" Tess replied, giving her Marcel a parting snake. "I told him he ought to give it to the old lady to light the fire with next morning."

HOW YOUR HUSBAND WON YOU.

WHAT quality in your husband first attracted you to him? Here is a question addressed solely to the married woman readers of the Post-Dispatch. Prizes aggregating $10 will be paid to the authors of the seven best letters. Make them brief. A hundred words are enough. The prize winners will be printed in the next Sunday Post-Dispatch.

My husband has worked across the street from where I have worked before we were married; he made it his business to do his work, and when he got through came over to talk with the women about where he was raised and brought up to have an education. I tell you people that he has interested me quite a little bit there through his talk. Second question, is, I found out that he was single and baching for himself; he knew just what to cook for himself, and I thought it is no trouble for me to get along with him. Third question, is, he has always looked downhearted and it seemed no one cared for him until he got a chance to ask me to go out with him one evening. So he got talking about marrying. I then consented, if he would allow me to go home for 10 days and consult the matter with my parents; he said yes, and I was pleased with him. I close my letter, hoping that it will help some other poor girl how to get a husband.

MRS. MINNIE HINDES.
21 South Tenth street.

Although my husband has numerous good qualities, what attracted my attention to him first was his great respect for women, whether they were young or old, rich or poor, he always held them in such esteem and I knew he would always respect me. A woman, no matter how young or how old, always love respect shown to them.

MRS. L. F. S.
3043 Lawton avenue.

I thought, I felt, I knew t'was love—yet "Jess" did not possess one quality that I could quote as being the center of attraction. His morals were not good. He was too large and awkward to be considered handsome. He was not the hero that I had read of in yellow-back novels, and thought I would meet and love. Yet a pure love attracted us, and we have cherished it for 20 years, and still we say, "Hail holy love! Thou are the word that sums all bliss!"

MRS. L. A. ROBERSON.
2134 Clark avenue.

What first attracted me to my husband was his kindness to his mother, and I will tell you just how it all come about. I was reared on an old Missouri farm, and just 48 years ago I was on my way to attend the State Fair at this city and was accompanied by my brother and uncle. We stopped at the home of my brother's friend at Bellmont, in Hilltown, on the Olive street road, and while there I noticed the marked devotion my brother's friend showed his mother. And this thought came to me: Men that are kind to their mothers make good husbands, and I think I was right, for my brother's friend and I got married and have lived 47 years of happy married life.

MRS. J. MORRIS.

The characteristic feature was his eyes: they were kindly keen, yet soft. I could read his current of thought, sincerity and truth shown forth as they looked into mine, causing my heart to quicken with a strange, rapturous unquiet. High-bred in manner, ambitious, courteous and kind; he won my heart with his kind consideration, his deep sympathy, his unselfishness; he had a certain distinction of character, a spirit of manner that gradually drew me to him; he had much in his attitude to amuse, inspire my respect, my admiration inevitably deepening into truest love as years go by gently, it grows in strength and purity, bringing joy and happiness to our home.

MRS. W. H. HALL.

I was first attracted to my husband by his pleasant smile. The second was his presentation to me each Sunday of a most exquisite bouquet of carnations and American beauty roses. His physique also won my admiration, being 6 feet tall and weighing 204 pounds. But the final attraction was because he devoted all his attention to me. We have been married two years and a half, and are both contented with our choice.

THE GREATEST MODERN HEROINE.

Six-Fifteenths of the Voters in a London Magazine Contest Cast Their Ballots for Florence Nightingale.

AN English magazine not long ago asked its readers to decide, out of a list of 14 names, who was the most popular heroine of modern history. Three hundred thousand votes were cast. Of these, 120,000 were for Florence Nightingale.

An English country squire, William Nightingale, and his wife, were spending a few months at Florence, Italy, in 1820, when a daughter was born to them. They named her Florence, from the beautiful city of her birth. From early childhood she had a delight in nursing to health every sick or injured animal that came her way. Her dolls' broken limbs she skilfully put into splants and with infinite care stitched the rents in their celico holes.

In 1854 the Crimean War began—England, France, Turkey and Sardinia against Russia. The Crimea was the scene of siege, battle, long and dreary marches, unspeakable privation. The Czar, noting the deadly effect of the bitter cold on his enemies, sneeringly said that he relied on "Gens, January and February" to win the war for him. The sick and wounded lay by thousands in sheds and outbuildings, almost uncared for, dying like flies. Their terrible condition spread horror throughout the civilized world.

Then it was that Florence Nightingale won her affectionate nickname of "Angel of the Camps." She was in London at the time. Gathering about her 38 young women who had learned the rudiments of nursing, she applied for and received permission to go to the front. Arriving with her corps of nurses at Constantinople, just before the battle of Inkerman, she set about restoring order from chaos, dividing off the rude hospitals into wards and giving the sufferers the first intelligent care they had known. Surgeons there were in plenty, but she well knew that it is to the nurse rather than to the doctor that many an invalid owes recovery. There were 2300 sick in the hospitals when she arrived. But battle and epidemic sent 10,000 there within the next few weeks.

The sum of $250,000 was raised for her. She at once turned over the entire amount to the founding of a school for the training of nurses.

LATTA PROBLEM.

IF LATTA, bearing messages up the bayou to Roosevelt, is discovered three miles off a shore point which is four miles from the President's camp and his rowing speed is three miles an hour and his walking speed five miles an hour, where should he land in order to reach the President in the shortest possible space of time? There is the problem which is disturbing St. Louis mathematicians.

Problem Editor, Post-Dispatch.

I desire to offer my solution of the Roosevelt Latta problem. Latta should land one and three-quarter miles from Roosevelt, then walk the remaining interval. He would thus row a distance equal to the hypothenuse of a right-angled triangle, two of whose sides are three and two and one-quarter, which is 3.75 miles, consuming one hour and fifteen minutes; and would walk 1.75 miles, taking 21 minutes, thus covering the entire distance in one hour and thirty-six minutes. Should Latta land either nearer or farther from the President than one and three-quarters miles, the time he will take in delivering the message will be greater than one hour and thirty-six minutes flat. SXN.

Problem Editor, Post-Dispatch.

In order for Latta to reach the President in the shortest possible time he must row to a point, one and three-quarter miles up shore from the President. This will give the exact distance that Latta rows (or of the hyp. of the triangle, which is two and three-quarters miles, even). Rowing at the rate of three miles an hour, Latta would row this distance in one hour and fifteen minutes. He would then have a distance of one and three-quarters miles to walk. At the rate of five miles per hour he would walk this distance in 21 minutes, making the entire distance in one hour and thirty-six minutes even. If any other point, either up or down shore, be taken for Latta to land, though it be only one-eighth of a mile, it will require a fraction of a second longer for him to make the trip.

THOMAS AGAIN SPORTING HIS FOOTBALL TOGS

Washington Strengthened for Drury Game by Presence of Ex-Captain.

COBB A DEBUTANTE

Poor Practice Feature of "Day After" Shurtleff Beat Team.

Spencer Thomas, captain of last year's team and the star halfback of Washington University in 1906, will be back in the game far the myrtle and maroon, against Drury Saturday. Thomas, himself, declared that he had overcome parental objections and had been able to arrange his student work so as to finally allow him to come out and help bolster up the weak W. U. back field.

He certainly will strengthen it. Weighing a 165 pounds, fast on his feet, with a thorough knowledge of the game and a splendid drop-kicker and punter, Thomas ranks with the best halfbacks in the Southwest. With a formidable line this year to protect him he is bound to make a great record this fall. Yesterday in practice he was drop-kicking wonderfully well from the 35 and 40-yard lines was putting the ball over the bars with a regularity that boded ill for the opponents that allow Blanchards' team to come within hailing distance of their goal lines.

Another cheering piece of news to Blanchard was that Larry Cobb, a plunging, fighting fullback, tipping the beam close to 170 pounds, will make his debut this week with the squad. Cobb two years ago, under Fairweather, showed splendid promise in the Stadium, and since then he filled out nicely and it looks to a certainty that he will make good between the halfbacks, where he played last year or his lass team.

Back Field Improving.

With Thomas and Cobb out and the two Hardaway boys and Strat Morton to fight it out for the other position Washingtons back field is beginning to take an improved appearance. The addition of these two men will simplify Blanchard's task of turning out a winning team a hundredfold.

But at that this far-famed "spirit" of Washington right at present seems to be another journalistic myth. Defeated by a minor college on Saturday with a hard game staring them in the face for Wednesday, one would imagine that yesterday Blanchard would have been driving an enthusiastic, determined squad until he cried "halt." But it is a shame the way stern reality will butt in on poesy pictures. Not a single regular in the back field was on the campus, and but one end and four line men answered to the roll call for practice Monday. A field of 10 or 11 subs completed the squad.

It was such a dismal turnout that Blanchard never even lined the men up for formation work, but spent the afternoon practicing Rodenberg with the forward pass and putting his conglomerate squad through a number of conditioning exercises.

It certainly is disheartening to the little energetic Bowdoin coach, with his two big games less than a month off, to be unable to have a squad that he can put through signal practice.

Work Every Day.

Of course, Monday is always the "day after" a game and proverbially a frost of a practice is the attendant incident. But in Washington's undeveloped condition it cannot afford to miss a single day's practice.

Toeppen, the big tackler, showed the proper spirit, when, after a long day of clinical and laboratory work in the medical school, he reported at the Stadium close to 5 o'clock, ready to take advantage of the few minutes he had at his disposal. Capt. Castlen and Guard Weinbrenner were out early in the afternoon and left for lectures before the majority of the squad reported.

Today Blanchard expects to have a full team on hand and will give the men a hard, fast workout for the James Milliken University game tomorrow in the Stadium. Milliken walloped Rose Poly last Saturday and is said to have an unusually strong team. If such is the case Washington will have its hands full attending to the Decatur eleven.

CORNELL TEAM LINE IN NEED OF "BOLSTERING"

Slow Charging Against Colgate Alarms Coaches of the Ithaca Eleven.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 15.—The "line bucket" has been dug out from the heap behind the clubhouse by the Cornell coaches and the linemen have been charged against it for the first time. The weakness of Brinton at guard and the slow charging of the line against Colgate caused consternation among the coaching staff, and desperate efforts to bolster up the team will be made. Heine Schoellkopf, one of the field coaches, was badly hurt in a collision while umpiring the freshman game last Saturday, but he limped out on the field Monday afternoon to direct a share of the coaching. AND NOW COMES THE START OF THE BOWLING SEASON IN ST. LOUIS

DURYEA SECURES COLT STRIKE OUT

Pays $15,000 for Yearling Son of Griffon-Pillardex After a Fast Trial.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Herman Duryea the wealthy sportsman, has paid $15,000 for the yearling colt Strike Out, by Griffon-Pillardex, as the result of a fast trial by the horse at the Sheepshead Bay track last Sunday. The horse went a quarter in 22 2-5 seconds and several horsemen who saw the trial, among them Mr. Duryea, asked for a price on the colt.

The colt was purchased by Fred Burlew in the sales of the summer for $700 and it gives every promise of being one of the big prizes of the lottery of yearling sales. His sire, Griffon, has hitherto not attained much prominence in the stud, but he was a good winner in England.

NEW TRACK FAST IN CONSTRUCTION

Los Angeles Getting Ready for Some High-Class Racing This Winter.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 15.—Work is progressing so rapidly at the new plant of the Los Angeles Racing Association at Arcadia, that there is no longer the slightest doubt that all will be ready for the bugle call on Thanksgiving day or before. Already, in less than two weeks, there are ten stables almost ready for occupancy, while a number of others are on the way. In the meantime, work on the track is not being neglected; a force of more than four hundred men rushing the work day and night.

Application for stable room is coming in from all quarters, and carloads of horses are arriving on every train, so that over 300 horses of class will be stabled at Ascot by the middle of the month, ready to move into new quarters in the near future, the old track having been selected for training purposes for the early arrivals. One feature of the new track which is impressing horsemen to ship here is the fact that there can be no possible interference during the meeting. Arcadia is a municipality entirely controlled by those favorable to racing, and the Los Angeles Racing Association is sure to be unhampered in their 100-day meeting, while other locations in California do not insure the same security.

Several Rich Stakes.

As far as the stakes are concerned, they will be by far the largest ever offered in Southern California, the California Handicap having a calue of $7500, while the Los Angeles Derby is worth $5000. That horsemen are not slow to appreciate these rich stakes, is amply demonstrated by the early shipments and the constant stream of mail being received by the Los Angeles Racing Association every day in ttheir new offices in the Douglas Building. It is safe to say that by the end of the month, more horses will be on the local track than were to be seen at the whole meeting last year, and many as high in caliber as the best which ran at the eastern meetings last summer. The complete stake book will be out this week, and with no offering less than $1500, and the opening day stake will be the Pomona Handicap, at seven furlongs, with a value of $1500.

YALE AND PRINCETON ELEVENS COMPARED BY H. R. (BOSEY) RIETER

Yale's Guards Seem to Be Better Men for the New Game Than Tigers and Blue Teams as a Whole Look Stronger Than Last Year.

In a letter to the Post-Dispatch, H. R. (Bosey) Rieter, former Princeton halfback, now training Wesleyan, compares Yale and Princeton football teams. Rieter is the only coach who has directed an eleven this fall against Yale and Princeton. He declares Yale's line, from tackle to tackle, and its backs, to be stronger than the Tigers. At center ends and quarterback Princeton surpasses, or equals, Yale men now playing the position.

Rieter's letter follows:

"Yale opened her football season by defeating Wesleyan, 26 to 0, in periods of 15 and 12 minutes. One week later Princeton defeated Wesleyan in 20 and 15-minute periods by the overwhelming score of 53 to 0.

"A comparison of the relative strength of these teams from the above score is a natural conclusion; but any critic of football experience has learned how futile such comparisons are. I shall make a few comparisons and let the reader draw conclusions.

"Phillipis, the Priceton center, is a lighter man than Cooney of Yale; but more aggressive and experienced, and at this date a more valuable man in the new game.

Guards Lack Speed.

"McFayden and Waller, the Princeton guards, are big, powerful fellows, but lack speed and aggressiveness adaptable for the new game. From what I saw of the Yale guards, Brides and Goebel, they appeared more agile and helpful in the push and pull of the new game. There are great possibilities in the big Princeton pair, which with hard driving, ought to make these positions pretty evenly matched.

"The Yale tackles, Palde and Bigelow, I consider much superior to the Princeton tackles, Buckingham and Siegling, not only in point of experience, but in speed and ability to cover ground.

"At end Yale cannot replace Forbes, and it's about a toss-up between the two teams, with the exception of Wister of Princeton., who handles the forward pass wonderfully.

"The Princeton line, excepting the center and ends, may be characterized as heavy and powerful, but slow and inexperienced, while the Yale line, excepting the center, seems more aggressive, faster and more resourceful.

"Coming to the generalship position both teams are strong. Tad Jones and Dillon are two of the best quarterbacks on the gridiron this year. Jones has the more weight, while Dillon has more of the dodging ability; both are exceptionally fast and drive their teams hard. Both teoms have good substitutes in Dines of Yale and Dawson of Princeton.

Fullbacks Even.

"As to the fullbacks, it is a choice of Coy of Yale and Capt. McCormick of Princeton. The former is a longer punter than McCormick and probably possesses more speed. McCormick times his punts better with the ends, which is better than those that give the opponents a chance to run back the kicks. McCormick is the more powerful man and hits the line like a catapult.

"Among the halfbacks Yale has three sets which she can call upon, all of ability, while Princeton is limited in her choice. Yale is stronger in these positions.

"Princeton and Yale play the same style of football, the open, forward pass and kicking being featured. Princeton has developed the forward pass to a higher degree than Yale, and in the Wesleyan game worked it more successfuly than any play she possessed. The pass is a first-rate one, and difficult for the end to diagnose. Princeton has already used it too much for her future good. Such a pass is a deceptive one, and yet when understood by a watchful, experienced end is easily blocked.

Use Same Formations.

"In defense both teams use practically the same formation. The halfbacks are well back from the line on their respective sides ready to intercept a forward or outside kick, while a third man is between them at a greater distance from the line. In the extreme rear is stationed the man who plays back. One thing that marked a contrast in the two teams was the manner in which the Yale men pulled the runner along. Princeton lacked much in this respect.

"Scores indicate nothing. Wesleyan lacked her only capable quarterback, one of her best ends and one of her best backs in the Princeton game. Princeton had a week longer to develop before meeting the same team, and played eight minutes more than Yale. I do not wish to detract from Princeton's showing. I think her chances very favorable to success. But there are very few occasions in football when Princeton has had an easy time in beating Yale. This year she must not only have a good team, but a better one than last year, to defeat Yale on her territory.

Roosevelt Jr. off Gridiron With Water On the Knee.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 15.—Theodore Roosevelt Jr., who was taken out of the Harvard second team game with Phillips-Xeter Academy last Saturday, on account of an injury, was found to be developing water on the knee. This injury will probably keep him out of football for at least two weeks. His absence from the second team will be noticed, as he was playing a good game at end.

DIAMOND MINER RETURNS TO FIND MOTHER IN NEED

Left Home in Omaha Because She Married Again and Was Gone 13 Years.

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 15.—T. E. Hudson, who has grown prosperous in diamond mining in South Africa, has just come back to his mother, whom he left in Omaha in 1894 because she married a second time and he did not like his stepfather.

Hudson found his mother, Mrs. J. M. McMurray, in Pueblo, where she had been widowed again and was in need. He says his father died in 1890 and that his mother married again in 1892.

The death of her second husband soon followed and the mother suffered many hardships.

THREE MORE CRIPPLES FOR HARVARD HOSPITAL

Brennan, Bird and Lockwood Were Battered Too Hard in Game Against Williams.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 15.—The Williams game left Harvard with a sore crop of cripples. Brennan, the find, at fullback, is out with an injured leg. Bird is laid up from too hard tackling by the Williams backs, and Lockwood failed to weather the smashing game.

The backs worked out the forward pass, the ends going down under punts, and two teams from the first string were given a signal drill. Blumer, a former end, was tried out at full, and Mendell moved to right half.

BARKER AND RAUTENBERG DEFEAT JONES AND BARRON

In a Special Ten Pin Match on the De Soto Alleys Good Scores Prevail.

In a special tenpin match Barker and Rautenberg defeated Jones and Barron on the De Soto Alleys by a score of 1807 to 1740. Five games were played and total pins were counted.

Rautenberg of the vitcorious pair had the best mark, though Barron of the losers came very near with 189 4-5 to Rautenberg's 190. Barker started off very well with the high-game score of 223 in the opening tilt.

RETURN OF NEGRO GAMBLER'S BODY MAY BRING OPPOSITION

Blacks Want Man Killed by Brick Duel Buried at Home Town.

WOODVILLE, Miss., Oct. 15.—A movement is on foot among negroes here to bring back the body of Sancy Postlewaite, the negro gambler, who died at New Orleans as the result of a brick-bat duel with Ike Schaefer, one of his patrons, in front of a dive.

Postlewaite gathered much wealth from his gambling games. He was taken to New Orleans for treatment. He died there upon arrival.

There may be some objection on the part of the Woodville citizens to burial in the cemetery here.

Telephone ystem a Loss.

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 15.—Officials of the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph Co., in replying to the complaints filed against their service with the Railroad Commission, have testified that the system has been a failure on account of lack of patronage, and that it has been operated at a loss.

For Mississippi Synod.

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 15.—Presbyterians are getting ready for the synod of Mississippi, which will hold its annual conference in the second week of November. Delegates for the big gathering are now being named by the six presbyteries.

PLUNGER YEAGER FAILS TO SETTLE

Eastern Bookmakers Anxious About $25,000 Worth of Markers Bet Last Friday.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Joe Yeager, the noted plunger, has managed to escape the prying eyes of the bookmakers now operating at the Belmont Park track since Friday, when he placed markers aggregating $25,000 on that day and has since failed to pay his indebtedness or send word that he would do so.

The failure of Yeager to come to time when he lost was a matter of surprise among the habitues of the betting ring. During the Gravesend meeting he had excellent luck and picked many winners at long odds. In less than a week he was credited with being $100,000 on the right side of his betting book. During the week's racing at Brighton Beach his luck held with him and his winnings overbalanced his losses. Just why Yeager failed to settle his markers was one of the questions the bookmakers asked each other. They were of one mind that he had plenty of money before he met with his Waterloo on Friday.

Track Can Bar Him.

If Yeager should not make a satisfactory settlement he can be debarred from the racetracks of the country.

Joe Yeager is known on every racetrack in America. Five or six years ago he won a fortune and was said to have $300,000 at his command. Those were the days when Jockey Hildebrand was a great rider. Yeager had a good stable of race horses and frequently won many large bets on them. Two years ago he met with reverses and last summer it was said that he was financially down and out. This story was denied at the time, but as his bets were few and far between and of small amounts it gave color to the report. It was not until a few weeks ago that he came into prominence again in the ring by placing large sums on the horses he thought could win.

Little Comfort in Chinese Inns.

Travelers in China have to encounter many unpleasant experiences. Sleeping at a native inn would be one of these. A writer says: "Nearly every village possesses an inn and the only difference between these inns is the varying amount of discomfort the traveler has to endure, for none is good. The best room consists of four walls, a thatched roof and a door, though this latter is not essential. The floor is of mud and very far from being level, and there is the 'kang,' or Chinese bedplace, on which camp beds can be erected. Chairs and a rickety table can frequently be obtained, though the innkeeper may have to borrow them from his neighbors."

COCKED HAT MEN TO HOLD TOURNEY

Bowlers to Roll Three Pin Games at Royal Alleys on Nov. 11.

At the meeting of the Cocked Hat Bowling Association, held at the Royal Bowling Alleys Monday night, it was decided to hold the city tournament on the Royal Alleys beginning Nov. 11.

Only six teams will be entered in the tournament and each team will bowl 100 games for the city championship. The captains of each team will have until the Oct. 28 meeting to chose the members of their respective teams.

MAN FROM NEW HAMPSHIRE IS TALLEST CONGRESSMAN

Sulloway Is Six and a Half Feet, but He Doesn't Look It.

The House of Representatives is about as human an institution as was ever organized, says the Chicago Tribune. All the emotions of humanity sweep across its face. One sees there generosity and meanness, selfishness and unselfishness, pretense and offensive plainness, hypocrisy and frankness. The dominant note, however, is intense rivalry, in which the newest member participates. Every one is seeking to obtain more for his district than anybody else; to shine forth in some particular role no matter how lowly or how strange its character. Thus there are members who desire to be known as the best dressed in the House; others who want the reputation of paying no attention to their clothes. Some seek to be considered eccentrics. Several claim to be the handsomest, and like to pose alongside of a colleague who takes pride in the fact that he is the homeliest. Of course, all want recognition as the ablest orator or lawyer.

There will be three men in the coming Congress who will be contestants for the honor of being proclaimed the tallest member. They are Sulloway of New Hampshire, Barchfeld of Pennsylvania, and Anthony of Kansas. Sulloway and Barchfeld were rivals in the last House. The former has a height of 6 feet 6 inches, but he is round shouldered, and is topped by Barchfeld, who is 6 feet 3. Anthony is 6 feet 4. The friends of Sulloway have been urging him to take exercise in order to get rid of his hump. If he should succeed he will be a towering figure, at least in inches, in the lower branch of Congress.

Colorado Has Unique School District.

Probably in no other State in the Union does a big ranch constitute a district, a family the members of a school board, and the son of the family the only pupil in the school district. Such conditions exist on the Woods ranch, formerly known as the Seventy ranch, near Hardin, Colo. The president of the School Board is Charles Allyn, manager of the ranch, the secretary is his wife, the treasurer a young woman living in the home, and the pupil of the school the 9-year-old son of the Allyns.

India's Coal Output.

Coal mining has become one of India's great industries. The output last year was 9,784,250 tons, whereas the average annual production for the decade ending 1895 was only 2,758,640. The coal now being worked is near the surface and with the cheap labor employed, India is able to deliver its coal at the pit's mouth cheaper than any other country in the world. The average price a ton delivered on board freight car was $1.40 in 1906 and 1907.

JACK BARRY TO BE A REFEREE

The Cardinals' Fielder to Oversee Games at the Big Baseball Field Day.

SPORTS ON NEXT SUNDAY

Handsome Medals and Cups Offered as Prizes for the Athletic Events.

Chairman Manewal of the Arrangement Committee of the B. T. A. has practically completed the list of officers who will manage the big meet at National League Park next Sunday. Jack Barry of the Cardinals will officiate as referee, while the judges will be Otto Ude, F. S. Bates, Roy Hayes, W. J. Foerstel, Fred Helge and A. Broadhead.

Clerks—L. Ebert, Chas. Bartley, Fred Burket and B. McGovern. Announcer—H. Serder.

Special attention has been given to the selection of the timers for this meet, as this will probably be the most difficult piece of timing ever attempted in St. Louis, and the selection of Con O'Brien, Chas. Stevens, J. E. Kenny and F. E. Saettle as timers gives the assurance that the timing will be as nearly perfect as it is possible, for the reason that these men are the most experinced timers in the West, and are regarded as being among the best in the country.

Prizes Are Handsome.

The medals and cup which are on exhibition in a Broadway jewelry house have aroused a great deal of interest and enthusiasm among the clubs, as they are very handsome and well worthy of the championship.

The solid silver point cup will be awarded to the club whose members score the highest number of points in the meet; the winners of each vent to count 5 points, second 2 and third 1 point, and all five of the events will count equally in scoring the points.

The entries for the events closes tomorrow evening, and must be in the secretary's hands at that time.

"WELL, GOOD-BYE; GIVE MY LOVE TO THE GIRLS"

Phrase of Chicagoan Used by Sir Gilbert Parker in New Novel.

A story is told of Sir Gilbert Parker, M. P., which will strike a chord of sympathy in many a writer's heart, says the Washington Herald. It seems that some 25 years ago, when Sir Gilbert was on a visit to this country he met in Chicago a typical man of the Middle West, one of the breezy, good-natured, friendly sort. Sir Gilbert was impressed with the type and particularly interested in the colloquial slang which his acquaintance managed with more than usual deftness. The phrase that pleased him most, called out with amiability and no discoverable meaning, was "Well, give my love to the girls!" Those who have read Sir Gilbert Parker's just-published novel, "The Weavers," will recall this phrase upon the lips of one Thomas Tilman Lacey, who takes hearty leave of an Oriental potentate with, "Well, good-by, King; give my love to the girls!" Lacey, in fact, was the prototype of the Chicago man. The latter was engaged in some provision business along the railroad line when Lacey met him, always expecting to make a lot of money some time, and talking about it rather frequently. Ten years later in a New York hotel, Sir Gilbert was caught by the cheerful words wafted along the corridor, "Well, good-by; give my love to the girls!" He recognized the man and went over to him.

"Wait a minute," said the Chicagoan. "Know you perfectly well. Can't place you. Let me see."

Sir Gilbert smiled, quoted the old phrase, and the other recalled his identity.

"Well, well! And what are you doing now?" asked the Westerner.

"Writing books,' confessed Sir Gilbert.

"Is that so!" said the other, evidently moved. "And I've struck it rich! Can I do anything for you?"

S.S.S. PURIFIES THE BLOOD

Bad blood is responsible for most of the ailments of mankind. When from any cause this vital fluid becomes infected with impurities, humors or poisons, disease in some form is sure to follow. Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Boils, Pimples, etc., while they show on the skin, have an underlying cause which is far deeper—an impure, humor-infected blood supply, and until this is corrected, and the blood purified, the distressing itching and burning symptoms will remain. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Blood Poison and all other blood disorders, are the result of a vitiated, polluted circulation, and will continue to grow worse unless the poison is removed from the blood. In all blood and skin diseases S. S. S. has proved itself a perfect remedy. It goes down into the circulation and removes all waste matter, humors or poisons, and makes the blood pure and health-sustaining. Nothing reaches inherited taints and old chronic troubles like S. S. S.; it cures because it purifies the blood and restores lost properties to the impoverished circulation. Not only is S. S. S. a blood purifier of the highest order, but a tonic and appetizer without an equal. Book on the blood and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write. SMALL BLAZE SCARES MANY, BUT DOES LITTLE DAMAGE

Donald Gillespie Painfully Burned in Trying to Rescue Other Roomers.

One man was painfully burned, a woman was dragged from a building by her sister and a second man was taken from a second-story window on a fireman's ladder in consequence of alarm occasioned by a small blaze in one of the suite of rooms over the saloon of Donald ("Mike") Gillespie at 501 South Second street early Tuesday morning.

Gillespie suffered burns on the head, hands and feet trying to reach other roomers who had already left the building. Bertha Zeller, nearly overcome by smoke, was dragged downstairs by her sister. Robert English tried to leap from a window, but was prevented by firemen.

PLAN WORKING GIRLS' HOTEL

Y. W. C. A. Directors to Use Morgan Street Site.

Managers of the Young Woman's Christian Association are contemplating the erection of a hotel for working girls and young women strangers at 3434 Morgan street, the site of the present Women's Training School.

The training school is being moved to the Y. W. C. A. Building at Garrison and Lucas avenues, where the three departments of the organization will be centered, and the Board of Managers, at a meeting held Monday afternoon, discussed turning the training school building into a hotel. A Board of Directors for the furtherance of the project will be selected within a few days.

WOMAN DETECTIVE FINDS COAT

Mrs. Dollie Bohen Recovers Stolen Garment at Skating Rink.

Employing herself as a private detective, Mrs. Dollie Bohen of 2002A Olive street, recovered her sealskin coat and caused the arrest of Edith Payne, 15 years old, colored, while the latter was enjoying herself at a skating rink.

Mrs. Bohen discovered the loss of her coat Sunday night. She learned that Edith Payne, living at 2008 Olive street, had spent considerable time around the house. After a search she found the girl and the coat at the skating rink, 2128 Market street.

When arrested the girl said that while on her way to the rink a man had stopped her at Twenty-first and Market streets and after remarking that the night was quite chilly had presented her with the coat. She is locked up in the House of Detention.

HARRIMAN AND FISH IN COURT TO TEST POWER

"Little Wizard" Hurries to Chicago to Fight Injunction Suit.

THEY'LL KNOW TODAY

Petition Charges Conspiracy to Put Union Pacific in Control.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—E. H. Harriman arrived in this city early today to take an active part in the fight for the control of the Illinois Central. He declined to make any statement.

The chief interest in the struggle centers in the court room of Judge Ball, where both sides were lined up at the opening of court to fight for and against making permanent the temporary injunction issued yesterday in response to the petition of Stuyvesant Fish, whereby 283,731 shares of stock were for the time being withdrawn from the Harriman voting strength.

Fish is in the court room in person, attended by his attorneys, Leman, Culver and Farrar, while William Nelson Cromwell of New York lead the fight against the injunction in behalf of Mr. Harriman.

Charges Unlawful Scheme.

Fish filed suit late yesterday before Judge Ball of the Superior Court for an injunction to prevent the voting at the Illinois Central meeting Wednesday of 286,731 shares of the road's stock in the interests of Harriman. A temporary order was issued. The Court will determine today whether the temporary order shall become permanent.

The petition was filed by former Senator George F. Edmunds of Vermont, John A. Kasson of Iowa, Stuyvesant Fish of New York and William H. Emrich of Chicago, as stockholders of the Illinois Central Railroad Co. against that corporation, its directors and stockholders, the Union Pacific Railroad Co., the Railroad Securities Co., the Mutual Life Insurance Co. and a large number of individuals, in whose names, it is claimed, the Union Pacific Railroad Co. has placed all of the stock which it holds in the Illinois Central Railroad, and in whose names the Railroad Securities Co. has placed 15,000 shares of its stock in the Illinois Central.

In addition to the temporary injunction a final decree was asked declaring that the Union Pacific Railroad Co. and the Railroad Securities Co. have no power, under the laws of Illinois, to own stock in the Illinois Central. It was also asked that these companies be directed to sell their stock in the Illinois Central within a reasonable time.

Charge Unlawful Scheme.

The petition charges an unlawful scheme of the Union Pacific Railroad Co. to control the commerce of the United States by buying large blocks of stock in the principal transportation companies. It also sets forth the recent report of the Interstate Commerce Commission in regard to the transactions of the Union Pacific Railroad Co. and E. H. Harriman.

It sets forth the names of corporations whose stock, it is claimed, the Union Pacific has bought, among them the Chicago & Alton, Illinois Central, Chicago & Northwestern and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul. It charges that these four companies own and operate parallel and competing lines both in and outside of the State of Illinois and that it is unlawful for the Union Pacific company to own and vote stock in such parallel and competing lines.

It is claimed that in the effort to get as large a percentage of the stock of the Illinois Central as possible the Union Pacific violated its charter in buying the stock of the Railroad Securities Co. of New Jersey, which held as its only asset 95,000 shares of Illinois Central stock.

Under Harriman's Control.

The charge is made that 15,000 shares of Illinois Central stock belonging to the Railroad Securities Company was transferred a few days before the Illinois Central books closed to E. H. Harriman and 18 officials of the Union Pacific and Illinois Central who are under the control of Mr. Harriman.

Why He Deposed Fish.

It is claimed that Harriman deposed Fish as president of the Illinois Central because he defeated last year the election of one De Forest, a Union Pacific man, as director of the Illinois Central.

It is set forth in the petition that the object and purpose of the Union Pacific is to perfect and perpetuate its control of the directory of the Illinois Central, in which, by law, all the corporate powers of the Illinois Central are vested, so as to have the Illinois Central operate, to its irreparable injury and damage, as a mere feeder to the Union Pacific through its connection at Council Bluffs, Iowa, and at New Orleans by means of the Southern Pacific, which, the petition declares, the Union Pacific controls absolutely.

Pleasure At Health Resorts.

Prof. Crook of the New York Post-Graduate Medical School says that centuries of experience have demonstrated that in certain disorders, mineral waters, intelligently used, are a better curative agency than drugs and that Europeans have not failed to appreciate their resources of this character, some of the springs, such as the Apenta of Budapest, Hungary, being conducted under scientific and medical supervision. It has often been said that American watering resorts are given over more to recreation and entertainment than to the study and care of the visitors' health.

A TREACHEROUS TROUBLE

The headaches and dizzy feelings that trouble so many persons, are often but symptoms of kidney complaint.

Kidney diseases are very treacherous. They come on silently, gain ground rapidly, and cause thousands of deaths that could have been prevented by treatment in the beginning.

Nature gives early warnings of every disease, if you would but note and heed them. Backache, twinges of pain when stooping or lifting, headaches, faint spells and urinary disorders are among the first warnings of kidney trouble.

If these signals are unheeded, there comes a steady, dull, heavy aching in the back and loins, a noticeable weakness and loss of flesh, rheumatic attacks, weakening of the sight, irregular heart action, languor, dropsical bloating, etc.

But there is no need to suffer long. Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney troubles. This remedy has made a reputation for quick relief and lasting cures. It is a simple compound of pure roots and herbs that have a direct action on the kidneys. It was the secret 76 years ago of an old Quaker lady. It was given to the public by James Doan, a druggist, and is now known and recommended the whole world over.

Home cures prove the value of Doan's Kidney Pills to our readers.

ST. LOUIS PROOF

Mrs. M. Meyers, 114 South Fourteenth street, St. Louis, Mo., says: "In the summer of 1901 I gave a statement for publication endorsing Doan's Kidney Pills, and recommending their use to anyone suffering with kidney ailment. Time has only strengthened my belief in the effectiveness of this remedy. I used to suffer greatly with dreadful pains in my back and loins. Blinding headaches and irregular actions of the kidney secretions. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved this condition and left me sound and well. I cheerfully reindorse this grand medicine."

PLUNGER LEAVES WALL STREET WITH $3,000,000

J. Brandt Walker Was Only Six Months Rolling Up a Big Fortune.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—J. Brandt Walker of Wall street and Fifth avenue, whose recent operations on the stock exchange has convinced his friends that he was on the shortest and most direct route to the poorhouse, surprised them all yesterday by announcing that he was through with stocks for good and all, having made $3,000,000 out of them within six months. Walker declares he has wrung the money from a panicky market by having sense enough to sell "high-brow" securities the moment there were indications of a decline.

Walker is a son of Edwin Walker, general counsel of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad, and has been in New York only a few years.

PROMOTER WILLOUGHBY NOW SAID TO BE IN SANITARIUM

Man Authorized to Sell St. Louis Bonds Never Returned to This City.

St. Louis acquaintances of Dillon C. Willoughby, the subway promoter, who went to London and Paris with letters from Mayor Wells and Comptroller Player authorizing him to dispose of $3,000,000 of public improvement city bonds, have been informed that he is in Oregon in a sanitarium.

Willoughby never returned to St. Louis after his spectacular trip to Europe, nor has he sent money here to settle debts, amounting to about $500, for office rent, stationery, clerk hire and telephone service.

Willoughby came here in June and unfolded plans for an extensive subway representing that he was the agent of rich English and French syndicates. He proposed to connect his subway with an East Side interurban system by means of a tunnel under the river, and with a St. Louis-Kansas City interurban system at the western city limits. He was going to finance not only the subway, but the two interurban systems as well.

COURT BLOCKS TRACTION MEN'S TROLLEY PLANS

Judge Kassebaum Insists on Wide Guage for Montesano.

CO. HAS FRANCHISE

Jurist Opposes Making Use of Locomotives Possible.

Judge Kassebaum of the St. Louis County Court wants the St. Louis, Montesano & Southwestern Railroad Co. to construct its proposed line from the southern city limits to Flat River, Mo., with a gauge of 4 feet 10 inches.

Attorney Lee Hall, representing the company, objects to any order of the County Court specifying the exact gauge that must be established.

He says the company may want to make the gauge 4 feet 10 inches, corresponding to the gauge of the electric lines in St. Louis, or may wish to make it 4 feet 8½ inches, corresponding to the gauge of the Iron Mountain Railroad tracks.

Opposed to Steam Cars.

Judge Kassebaum wants the franchise of the company amended to specify a 4 foot 10 inch gauge so that, it is said, cars from the city may run out into the southern part of the county over the new line after it is built. It is said he also wants to prevent any possibility of locomotives or other steam railroad vehicles running over the new tracks, which they would be able to do if the gauge were only 4 feet 8½ inches.

"We have no intention of running any steam railroad over our line," said Attorney Hall to a Post-Dispatch reporter. Mr. Hall says the other two judges of the county court—Bannels and Withaupt—are not bothering about the matter and that Kassebaum alone is worried over the question of gauge.

Kassebaum lives at Mattese, which is a short distance south of the county line on the Lemay Ferry road. The proposed line will run through Mattese on its way to Flat River.

Would Abandon Double Track.

The company already has a franchise and its officers say ties have been placed along the route, rails ordered and that the work of construction will begin in a short time. Attorney Hall appeared before the County Court Monday to argue an application for certain amendments to his franchise. The amendments desired permit the company to build the road single track for more than half its distance, instead of double track throughout, as the franchise now prescribes.

It was while arguing this motion that Judge Kassebaum told Hall he thought the franchise ought to be amended, too, to permit only rails 4 feet 10 inches apart.

The franchise now calls for rails "of the same width as those now used for street railroads in the city of St. Louis."

The gauge of the United Railways system tracks are 4 feet 10 inches. But Hall says the McKinley system proposes to build tracks of 4 feet 8½ inches gauge and that their construction will help his company to come within the wording of its franchise, if it insists on using 4 feet 8½ inch gauge.

Attorney Hall further stated that his company did not propose to obey any orders of the County Court that interfered with rights given it by the State Legislature. He refused to say exactly what he meant by this statement, but intimated that the State law would permit his company to build an electric line of the same gauge as the Missouri steam railroad lines, if it elected so to do.

The County Court has his application for amendments under advisement.

CROWDS PACK THEATER.

Phenomenal Kraus Compelled to Seek Larger Quarters for Demonstrations.

It is claimed the canvas theater, Eighteenth and Ann, was so crowded with ladies and men last evening, many were compelled to stand.

Phenomenal Kraus' demonstrations are said to have evoked great enthusiasm. Many who had received help from his specialists were on the stage. It is stated they voluntarily told the audience the benefits they had received.

It is further stated a boy who had been walking on crutches for years walked across the stage with crutches in his hands. A lady who had been in an invalid chair 18 months is said to have been able to stand and walk. One man is stated to have been able to move the fingers of his hand which had been paralyzed. Many others were present.

Phenomenal Kraus is negotiating for one of the largest rinks in St. Louis, which will be ample to accommodate the big crowds. The Institute at Sixth and Chestnut is open day and evening.

DIVORCE WAVE HITS PITTSBURG

Court Docket, Which Opens Today, Contains 126 Cases.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 15.—A wave of divorce suits has struck Pittsburg. Today the Common Pleas courts started to hear the woes of 126 mismated couples.

Of the divorce cases that are being heard, wives started the action in 82. Mrs. Anna M. Hodge has the most peculiar grievance of any of the women. She insists upon being freed because her husband gave her nothing to eat but sausages and rice for breakfast, luncheon and dinner.

WON BACK HIS WIFE FROM HOME OF HIS NEIGHBOR

Henry Bohn Fought A. T. Hirt and They With Mrs. Bohn Are Arrested.

SHE TOOK FURNITURE

Mrs. Bohn Says She Went to Hirt as His Housekeeper.

Henry Bohn, aged 42, was considerably vexed when he learned a few evenings ago that his wife, Mrs. Alice Bohn, had gone to the home of A. T. Hirt, formerly their neighbor, to live as housekeeper, and had taken a wagon load of furniture and their two children with her.

He lived alone three days in his deserted house at 2219 North Market street. Then his wife returned from the Hirt home, 4148 Ashland avenue, and he welcomed her and the children back.

He did not show his feelings over the incident until Hirt called at the Bohn residence to demand the return of some clothing which Mrs. Bohn had taken home with her. Then there was a fight which resulted in the arrest of all three.

Quarrel Over Children.

In the North Market Street Police Station Tuesday the husband and wife conversed in adjoining cells, while Hirt, in another cell, listened silently.

Bohn is an employe of the National League Baseball Park. He and his wife formerly lived next door to Hirt, who is a widower 41 years old, on Ashland avenue.

Both Hirt and Mrs. Bohn said that the arrangement under which she went to his home was a purely business one.

Mrs. Bohn said she had accepted Hirt's offer to work for him as housekeeper in order to make needed money. She said she left when he proposed to send her children to school as his own. She admitted taking articles of clothing away with her, but said he gave them to her.

CHINESE WIFE BOARDED TRAIN

Union Station Gateman Says He Saw Mrs. Jeu Hon Yee.

Mrs. Jeu Hon Yee, one of two Chinese women residents of St. Louis, may be on her way to San Francisco if Frank Ryan, a gatekeeper at the Union Station, is correct in his belief that she boarded a Frisco train with a ticket to San Francisco at 10:10 p. m. Sunday.

The woman's husband, a merchant at 10 North Eleventh street, asked the police to help find her. She was missing when he went home from church Sunday afternoon. Ryan says he recognized her published photograph.

FIRST MARRIAGE ON TRIAL FAILED, BUT HE'S GAME

Veteran, 68, Finds He Selected Wrong Woman and Is Looking for Another.

TOGETHER ONE MONTH

Agree They Are Not Affinities and Are Thankful They Didn't Wed.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

HARDWICK, Mass., Oct. 15.—The trial marriage of Elmer M. Thayer, 68, and Mrs. Abbie Abbecrombie, 43, of Athol, has ended in failure. Mrs. Abbecrombie has returned to her home in a huff and Thayer, with confidence unshaken in the trial marriage idea, is waiting to hear from other eligible women.

Thayer is an eccentric Civil War veteran possessing considerable property. His advertisement for a wife on trial brought more than 100 applicants, ranging in age from 29 to 80. All, however, were rejected.

Thayer then went to Athol and saw Mrs. Abbecrombie, who had written him, and brought her to Hardwick.

Thayer and Mrs. Abbecrombie were actuated by opposite motives. Thayer's first marriage was so congenial that he wished to assure himself that his second partner would be equally satisfactory. On the other hand, Mrs. Abbecrombie's second husband was so incompatible that she divorced him, and, though disbelieving marriage a failure as a concrete proposition an experimental marriage seemed to her to have a decided advantage.

Ignored Criticism.

Thayer and Mrs. Abbecrombie agreed to ignore the comments of Hardwick residents. But a month of trial marriage has convinced them that they are not affinities. Mrs. Abbecrombie said to a Post-Dispatch representative today that for the first week she loved Thayer so much she would doubtless "have been foolish enough to marry him," had he suggested it. Her chief grievance now is that Thayer did not take her to ride often enough. He did not come home as early as he might, and he grew neglectful in little ways.

"If Mr. Thayer did not think of these things when I was simply on trial, and we were striving to please each other, it is not likely that he would concern himself with them after we were married," she said.

"The initial experiment missed fire, but that doesn't prove the idea is wrong," said Thayer meditatively today as he puffed his pipe vigorously. "Mrs. Abbecrombie and I have agreed to part, both being of the opinion that we are not suited to each other. That is one of the good points of trial marriage.

Glad They Didn't Marry.

"If we had married without becoming fully acquainted we would have regretted it all our lives.

"Mrs. Abbecrombie was one of the best housekeepers I ever saw, and as for cooking she couldn't be beat.

"I shall get busy right away and answer the letters of a few of the hundreds of lonely women who replied to my advertisement. I feel sure that my affinity is somewhere in the bunch, and that we will meet if I keep pegging away."

Thayer says he has been "pestered to death" by curiosity seekers and relic hunters who have hacked his fences to pieces and even cut panes of glass out of the windows of his house in their quest of souvenirs.

DAUGHTER WINS WILL SUIT

Jury Decides Gaffney Suit for Mrs. Anna Knapp.

After litigation extending over four years it is determined now that Mrs. Margaret Gaffey, who died in 1901, was not capable of making a will. A jury in Judge McDonald's court set aside her will Monday afternoon.

The will was attacked by Mrs. Anna Knapp of 5888 Cabanne avenue, daughter of Mrs. Gaffey. Mrs. Knapp alleged that it was because her mother had an exaggerated idea of the value of property given her during her life that she made no direct bequest to her daughter in her will. The bulk of the estate was left to the St. Louis Trust Co. in trust, the income to be paid to Mrs. Knapp during her lifetime and at her death, after the payment of minor bequests, to be divided among Mrs. Knapp's children.

All Kinds of Heating Stoves

Coal : Wood : Gas : Oil

FURTHER delay in making provision for the heating of your house this winter will be unwise. Whether it be a little gas heater for the isolated corner or the bath-room, or a coal stove that will furnish heat for half the house, our Housefurnishing Department is ready to supply you.

The "WILSON" HEATER: The stove with the Hot Blast, Down Draft. The original idea of the hot blast was to produce a stove that would extract from a ton of soft coal as much heat as could be had from a ton of hard coal in a baseburner. In the old-style stoves this was never possible, because the smoke and gases escaped through the flue, and as they formed about 40 per cent of the fuel, much waste was occasioned. To utilize this waste led to a series of experiments which resulted in the "Wilson" Heater. It is the "down draft" that does this, and in this way: The cold air is taken in at the top of the heater and it forces the smoke and gases down into the fire, where they are consumed before they can reach the outlet to the pipe.

Briefly, these are the advantages of a "Wilson" Heater over other styles:

Produces more heat for a given amount of fuel.

It is economical because it consumes all smoke and gases, and for the same reason it is cleaner.

It is very easy to regulate so that an even heat can be maintained. It will hold fire 36 hours without attention. Properly adjusted at night, it is only necessary to open the drafts in the morning to have a brisk fire.

The materials are the best, and the workmanship is unexcelled, and the "Wilson" is handsome enough for use in any room in your home. Made in two styles—for wood or for coal, and in many sizes.

For coal $11.50, $12.50, $14.00, $16.50, $18.50 to $27.50
For wood $4.50, $6.00, $7.50, $8.00, $9.00 to $15.00

BARLER'S OIL HEATERS. Absolutely safe. Made with planished iron drum, fitted with mica lighting doors and heavy brass oil receptacle. They are odorless and are fitted with bail handle, permitting them to be easily carried from room to room, wherever heat may be desired. Various sizes— $4.00, $6.00 to $10.00

THE "VULCAN" GAS HEATER: A decided improvement over any gas heater on the market. Owing to its peculiar construction there is absolutely no objectionable odor given off when it is in operation.

It incorporates the principle of the "Bunsen" burner, and consumes 85% air to 15% gas, a very decided point of superiority. There is a perforated cast-iron cone in this heater which generates intense heat, and this is the feature that destroys all odors. Aside from this feature, the cone becomes red under the action of the flame, and thus imparts a cheery appearance to the room.

The "Vulcan" operates under all pressures, and is easy to regulate.

Round styles— $3.75 and $4.00
Gas Radiators, high or low models; 4, 6 or 8 tubes— $2.50, $4.00, $4.50, $5.00 to $6.50

FIREPLACE FURNISHINGS: Our new showing is in place and includes many very artistic patterns in brass and wrought iron.

Andirons in brush brass or polished finish— $5.75, $10.50, $11.50, $14.50, $17.25 to $44.00
Andirons, wrought iron, dull black finish— $5.00, $6.25, $7.00, $12.75 to $25.00
Fenders, brush brass or polished finish— $6.25, $7.50, $11.50, $14.50 to $28.75
Fenders, wrought iron, dull black finish— $6.75, $7.25, $7.50 and $8.00
Brass Coal Vases— $10.00, $13.50, $16.50 and $17.50
Folding Spark Guards, black wire, some brass trimmed; four panels— $3.75, $5.50, $7.00 and $8.00
Folding Spark Guards of brass, four panels— $10.50, $14.25, $14.75 and $17.75

SLEW DISTURBER GETS TWO YEARS

Jury Convicts John Schellenberger, Who Wielded Razor on Hot Summer Night.

John Schellenberger, 50 years old, who killed William Cronin, the disturber of his slumber on a hot July night, must serve two years in the Penitentiary. A sealed verdict fixing this sentence was read Tuesday in Judge Fisher's court.

The jury gave the lowest punishment possible under the Judge's instructions. He instructed them to find a verdict of first or second degree murder or fourth degree manslaughter. They made it manslaughter.

Schellenberger's testimony Monday afternoon told the only connected story of the killing heard by the jury. He said he was lying on a cot in the hallway of his boarding house, 4236 Clayton avenue, on the night of July 20 last, when Cronin came in and began acting boisterously.

The older man, who had been driven from his room by the heat, and had gone to sleep just before Cronin came, remonstrated with him. He testified that Cronin attacked him on his cot, and kicked him.

He said he ran into the nearest room, and as Cronin followed him, picked up a razor from a washstand. He held the blade before him for protection, he said, and as Cronin attacked him the blade was pressed against Cronin's neck, cutting his throat.

John Peterson, the landlord, and Michael McCune, told partial stories of the encounter. Their accounts were not unfavorable to Schellenberger.

FIGHT FOR BABY DISTURBS COURT

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Knott War and Judge Lets Father Keep Boy.

Thomas Knott appeared in Judge Moyers' court in East St. Louis Tuesday morning in response to a writ of habeas corpus ordering him to bring 2-year-old Richard Knott with him. The writ was obtained by Mrs. Henrietta Knott.

Knott has sued his wife for divorce in Belleville. When husband and wife met in the court room the mother held out her arms and the child readily went to her. She retained the boy until Judge Moyers continued the hearing of the case until Saturday, saying that in the meantime the husband should retain the custody of the child.

Mrs. Knott, who is 19 years old, refused to surrender the boy and relatives of husband and wife surrounded them and created such a hubbub that a deputy sheriff advised all to leave the court room. They went into the hall and were followed by court spectators who had been attracted by the quarrel.

The baby began crying in the hall and the wife let the husband take him to quiet him. The husband hushed the crying and then refused to surrender the boy. Then the wife sat down on the steps and cried. Again a deputy sheriff interfered and his advise to Mrs. Knott to wait until Saturday for her child was accepted. Husband and wife left the court room and went in different directions, the husband, surrounded by several of his relatives, taking the boy with him.

SHOTGUN QUARANTINE STILL IN FORCE AGAINST INDIAN

Mother of Ballplayer's Bride Says Daughter Will Be Welcomed if Alone.

The shotgun quarantine at Mattoon, Ill., by Joshua Johns against "Big Chief" Edward Williams, Indian ballplayer, is still in effect, but Mrs. Johns says that her daughter, with whom Williams eloped to Clayton, may come home—alone.

Mrs. Johns said Tuesday over the long-distance telephone that she had received a telegram from Mr. and Mrs. Williams announcing the marriage, but that no information was given as to the couple's plans.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams are still at the Park Hotel, and say they will remain there until the end of the week. They altered their announced determination to go back to Mattoon for the parental blessing after they heard of the stepfather's attitude, but they hope the quarantine will be lifted in a week.

SLEW DISTURBER GETS TWO YEARS

Jury Convicts John Schellenberger Who Wielded Razor on Hot Summer Night.

John Schellenberger, 50 years old, who killed William Cronin, the disturber of his slumber on a hot July night, must serve two years in the Penitentiary. A sealed verdict fixing this sentence was read Tuesday in Judge Fisher's court.

The jury gave the lowest punishment possible under the Judge's instructions. He instructed them to find a verdict of first or second degree murder or fourth degree manslaughter. They made it manslaughter.

Schellenberger's testimony Monday afternoon told the only connected story of the killing heard by the jury. He said he was lying on a cot in the hallway of his boarding house, 4236 Clayton avenue, on the night of July 20 last, when Cronin came in and began acting boisterously.

The older man, who had been driven from his room by the heat, and had gone to sleep just before Cronin came, remonstrated with him. He testified that Cronin attacked him on his cot, and kicked him.

He said he ran into the nearest room, and as Cronin followed him, picked up a razor from a washstand. He held the blade before him for protection, he said, and as Cronin attacked him the blade was pressed against Cronin's neck, cutting his throat.

John Peterson, the landlord, and Michael McCune, told partial stories of the encounter. Their accounts were not unfavorable to Schellenberger.

FIGHT FOR BABY DISTURBS COURT

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Knott War and Judge Lets Father Keep Boy.

Thomas Knott appeared in Judge Moyers' court in East St. Louis Tuesday morning in response to a writ of habeas corpus ordering him to bring 2-year-old Richard Knott with him. The writ was obtained by Mrs. Henrietta Knott.

Knott has sued his wife for divorce in Belleville. When husband and wife met in the court room the mother held out her arms and the child readily went to her. She retained the boy until Judge Moyers continued the hearing of the case until Saturday, saying that in the meantime the husband should retain the custody of the child.

Mrs. Knott, who is 19 years old, refused to surrender the boy and relatives of husband and wife surrounded them and created such a hubbub that a deputy sheriff advised all to leave the court room. They went into the hall and were followed by court spectators who had been attracted by the quarrel.

The baby began crying in the hall and the wife let the husband take him to quiet him. The husband hushed the crying and then refused to surrender the boy. Then the wife sat down on the steps and cried. Again a deputy sheriff interfered and his advise to Mrs. Knott to wait until Saturday for her child was accepted. Husband and wife left the court room and went in different directions, the husband, surrounded by several of his relatives, taking the boy with him.

SHOTGUN QUARANTINE STILL IN FORCE AGAINST INDIAN

Mother of Ballplayer's Bride Says Daughter Will Be Welcomed if Alone.

The shotgun quarantine at Mattoon, Ill., by Joshua Johns against "Big Chief" Edward Williams, Indian ball player, is still in effect, but Mrs. Johns says that her daughter, with whom Williams eloped to Clayton, may come home—alone.

Mrs. Johns said Tuesday over the long-distance telephone that she had received a telegram from Mr. and Mrs. Williams announcing the marriage, but that no information was given as to the couple's plans.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams are still at the Park Hotel, and say they will remain there until the end of the week. They altered their announced determination to go back to Mattoon for the parental blessing after they heard of the stepfather's attitude, but they hope the quarantine will be lifted in a week.

TWO POLICEMEN FAINT IN LINE OF BIG PARADE

Eleven Hundred of the Finest March Through Downtown Streets.

CREECY FORGOT SHIELD

Gold Emblem of Authority Left Behind When He Started Out.

CHEERS FOR GUARDIANS

Men Present a Good Appearance and Are Greeted With Applause.

Two policemen fainted while the Police Board and Mayor Wells were reviewing the parade just after noon Tuesday at Twelfth and Chestnut streets.

Patrolman Ellers, who was suffering from stomach trouble before the parade formed, but insisted on taking part, was overcome by the exertion and fell prone on his face in the street. His features were bruised, and at sight of him as he was lifted Patrolman Urmey of the Magnolia Avenue Station also fainted.

Patrolman Ellers was taken to ---- Dispensary. Urmey was carried into a harness store at Twelfth and Chestnut streets, under direction of President Stewart of the board, and was revived there. He insisted on returning to duty.

Chief Creecy forgot his gold shield in the excitement of getting ready for the parade. He rode away from the office on horseback without the emblem of his authority, was reminded of its absence by a subordinate as the procession was about to start, and posted a man back to headquarters to get it.

He received the badge and pinned it on just before the moment set for starting the march through the downtown streets.

The chief's office was like the dressing room of a society matron during the hour and a half before the beginning of the procession. The Chief, Assistant Chief Gillaspy, Inspector McDonnell and Surgeon Robinson, none of whom is given to displaying gold braid on ordinary occasions, kept two valets busy fitting them out in their unwonted splendor. The valets were Patrolmen Dempsey of the Central District and Schaefer of the Mounted.

"Here, get this epaulet on straight!" "Where are my gauntlets?" "Say, this sword's too big for the scabbard," were some of the confused commands and comments which were heard as the four, whose duty it was to head the procession, made ready.

When they were fitted out, it was noted that Chief Creecy wore a blue cap. Chief Kiely, on parade day, never failed to display a cap of dazzling whiteness.

Bugler Signals the Start.

When the two chiefs, the inspector and the surgeon, had primped before the glasses in the office and their costumes, from visors and patent leather boots, had been pronounced perfect, they rode to Twelfth and Pine streets, fixed as the starting point.

At a few minutes after 11 a. m. a bugler sounded the signal for starting, and the Chief and his staff rode into the cleared space of the wide street. The mounted police, under Capt. McNamee, the Police Board's three carriages and a band followed.

Then came the foot men, in newly pressed winter uniforms, in companies numbered from A to K, save that there was no Company J, policemen being as sensitive about this letter as soldiers. Interspersed between the companies were a color guard of two sergeants and a second band. Sixteen patrol wagons followed the patrolmen.

Of the 1600 patrolmen of the city's 13 districts, 1100 were in line. The other 500 were left on beats in their districts.

Medals After the Review.

The line moved on Twelfth street north to Olive, then east to Broadway, south to Walnut, east to Fourth, north to Washington, west to Twelfth and south to the reviewing stand, on the west side of Twelfth, between Pine and Chestnut.

At the stand the silk-hatted commissioners stepped out of their carriage and reviewed the line. Then as the men drew up before the stand, President Stewart addressed them. His remarks were introductory to the medal-pinning ceremony.

President Stewart presented the "best arrest" medal to Patrolman Frank Cain of the Magnolia avenue station, the bravery medal to Sergt. Julius Trojanowski, and the marksmanship medal to Sergt. Sidney Sears, who has won it so many years that the rest of the department regards him as having a vested right to it.

Many "Honorable Mentions."

Honorable mention medals, one for each district, were presented to the following patrolmen: Michael Hendy, Carondelet station; W. T. Fogarty, Wyoming street; Edward Miller, Soulard street; Patrick Landner, Carr street; F. H. Kohring, North Market street; John B. Tabb, Angelica street; Daniel Donoghue, Magnolia avenue; James B. Gunn, Manchester avenue; James Quigley, Dayton street; William Harrison, Deer street; John O'Donnell, Newstead avenue; William L. Long, Mounted; Patrick Hade, Central.

In the drill which followed, the policemen did not use their clubs uniformly. When they were ordered to present them at attention, many placed the clubs across their breasts instead of holding the sticks before them. It took a second command by Drillmaster Roemer to bring about uniformity.

This confusion was repeated when another command was given, to cause the men to drop their clubs to their sides. Again nearly one-half of the men in line placed their clubs over their hearts, some holding them much as a bachelor holds a baby.

After uniformity had been brought about, the commissioners and the Chief descended among the ranks and made a detailed inspection of men and wagons. Mayor Wells spoke briefly to the men, there were evolutions by the mounted men and the line broke up.

East St. Louis News

Dick Burns, 18 years old, was arrested in a St. Louis pawnshop Monday while trying to pawn pearl-handled knives stolen from the home of W. C. Thrasher, 655 North Thirteenth street, last week. At the police station he admitted that he entered the Thrasher home and stole several knives, spoons, forks, a watch and $3. He told tre officers where he had pawned most of the property and it has been recovered. He was brought back to East St. Louis Monday night and will waive preliminary hearing. He says he was formerly a bellboy in a Kansas City hotel, and that he came to East St. Louis a week before the robbery. He has been in St. Louis since that time.

John Whittle, alias Phillips, alias Wiedel, who advertised as Dr. Mills while located at 628 Collinsville avenue two weeks ago, was held for the grand jury under $500 bond Monday by Justice Stanton on a charge of obtaining money by fraud. The complaint was made by Mrs. Ella Williams of 3222 Bell avenue, St. Louis, who testified she gave Mills $25 for treatment in a sanitarium he said he was having built. Before she received treatment she testified that Mills left East St. Louis. He was arrested in Springfield, where he was going under the name of Phillips. Mills says he is a "medical botanist," and not a licensed physician, and that his treatment is with herbs.

The west pier of the Broadway viaduct has been torn out and rebuilt and the east pier is now being taken out. As soon as this is completed, work on the upper roadway will be begun. Only half of the roadway will be torn up at a time in order not to stop traffic. On the request of Mayor Cook many of the factories have diverted the heavy hauling to other streets leading to the levee during the construction work. It is thought the viaduct will be completed in about two months.

The Tenth street franchise by which the East St. Louis Railway asks the right to lay tracks on Tenth street, from St. Clair to College avenues, was not passed upon Monday by the City Council. City Counselor D. E. Keefe filed an opinion with the Council Monday that where property owners signed the petition asking that the franchise be granted they had no right to withdraw their signatures. Under this construction of the ordinances the street car company has the signatures of a majority of the property owners on the street. The franchise will probably be acted upon next Monday.

N. Y. STOCKS ARE IRREGULAR AND UNCERTAIN

Small Changes Between Monday's Opening and Tuesday's Close.

STEEL STOCKS SAGGY

Operators Seem to Have Waiting Orders Before Becoming Active.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15, 10:30 a. m.—Irregularity and uncertainty were the main features of the opening of the market Tuesday. Many of the important rail stocks opened higher than their closing, while several were down, and a few at parity. Operators seemed to have waiting orders for the the purpose, apparently, of discovering the trend of the market.

Great Northern opened at 119½, but this drop was accounted for by the fact that it was sold ex-dividend of 3¼ per cent.

Only fractional gains were made in the general list at the opening.

Among those on the rails side that advanced were Atchison, St. Paul, Pennsylvania, New York Central and Southern Pacific. Union Pacific opened at parity.

Northern Pacific and Reading were ⅜ under their closing figures, but in the first half hour there was a substantial advance in the former that presaged higher prices in that issue later on in the day.

Union Pacific went to 120 in the first 15 minutes of trading, but in a short time dropped below its opening price.

The industrials showed the same irregular tendency at the opening as the rails. Smelters, which opened weak, made fractional gains up to a point in the first half hour, and gave promise of some activity later in the session. The Coppers and Steels fluctuated within narrow ranges, the latter especially showing symptoms of weakness.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15, 12:30 p. m.—There was little, if any, difference in the price of stocks at the noon hour and at the opening. Industrials were particularly active, but the steels and copper stocks, in which the largest volume of business was done, were practically unchanged from the opening.

People's Gas, with a loss of 1 point only, was the greatest sufferer in this division of the market, up to the noon hour. On small trading American Car and Foundry common advanced ¾, but there was no action whatever in the preferred. Consolidated Gas lost 1½ points.

Among the rails the unchanged stocks at noon were B. & O., L. & N., Northern Pacific and Southern Pacific.

Northern Pacific showed marked activity, but prices were maintained at about the opening. Atchison was slightly weaker, but trading in this issue was light.

St. Paul, New York Central and Union Pacific made fractional gains.

Great Northern and Reading were up a point each, and there was a large volume of business done in the latter stock.

Call money was at 3½ per cent, and the total number of shares to noon was 446,500.

$1500 JUNKET BILL PASSED, BUT HOW?

East St. Louis Officers Puzzled by Mysterious Action of the City Council.

NOT IN THE TOTALS

Clerk Found Measure Among Those Enacted After Declaring It Was Overlooked.

Whether the junket bill of $1500, expenses of the East St. Louis aldermen on their recent junket to Norfolk and the Jamestown Exposition, was passed by the East St. Louis City Council Monday afternoon, is bothering East St. Louis officials whose duty it is to pay money out of the City Treasury.

The aldermen contend that the bill was passed. Mayor Cook says it was legally allowed. City Clerk Lambert says the bill was not regularly passed.

The mysterious bill was found by the clerk Tuesday morning in the bunch of bills passed by the Council Monday. It was not on the regular bill form required by the Council, to which an affidavit is attached. No affidavit was made to the amount of the bill.

Form of the Bill.

It was a blank sheet of paper containing the following words: "To the City of East St. Louis: To the following named persons for attending the eleventh annual convention of the League of American Municipalities held at Norfolk, Va., Sept. 18, 19 and 20: C. Frawley, William O'Malley, W. Mulconnery, O. Stankey, John Harrington, R. Schoenebaum, R. Gither, C. Anderson, T. Slattery, M. O'Day and J. H. Liebig, $125 each, $1500. The name of R. Gither, who is chairman of the Committee on Claims, is indorsed on the back of the paper.

Lambert says that when the Claim Committee handed him the bills just before the Council meeting, no mention was made of the junket bill, and he was not requested to include the $1500 in the itemized appropriation account. The bills were allowed at the meeting as read by Mr. Lambert from his itemized account, amounting to a total of $43,008.81. This did not include the $1500. No mention of the junket bill was made in the motion.

City Comptroller Eggman is undecided as to how he will pay the $1500 to the aldermen and keep his books balanced when the total appropriation does not include the $1500.

Moran Paid for Himself.

The $1500 bill does not include the expenses of Mayor Cook, who accompanied the party. The Mayor contends the bill was legally passed.

"If the bill was in the bunch presented to the City Council, a mistake made in itemizing the claims and including it in the total will not invalidate the claim," he told a Post-Dispatch reporter Tuesday. "I did not put in a bill because the expenses did not amount to $125 on the three-days trip to the convention and I decided to stand my own expenses. I do not begrudge the allowance to the aldermen because they only receive $3 for meeting once a week. They attend committee meetings and receive nothing for it."

BOY WANTS TO GO TO SCHOOL

Illinois Youth Seeks Admission by Mandamus.

There is a boy over in Lebanon, Ill., who has invoked the aid of the law to attend school. His name is Alfred Ohlsen, aged 15 years. Through his attorney he has filed a petition in the Circuit Court at Belleville to mandamus the Board of Education of Lebanon to allow him to go to school.

The petition which has been filed says that Alfred was suspended Sept. 30, without just cause or reason and that every time he has made application for admittance since that time has been refused.

The boy was suspended for a remark he is alleged to have made to a boy outside of school hours about his teacher, William Creed. His punishment was to be an apology to the teacher. The apology was not forthcoming and the lad was suspended. The mandamus proceeding will be heard during the present term of the Circuit Court.

Belleville News

Benjamin Korte, a farmer residing near Millstadt, Ill., was arrested on the complaint of his neighbor, Henry Vogel, who says Korte called him a liar loud enough to be heard 200 yards away. The case will be tried in Justice Wangelin's court next Saturday.

The funeral of Nicholas Louis, who died at his home on the Lebanon road of Bright's disease, aged 61 years, will be held Wednesday at 9:30 a. m., from St. Luke's Church to the Green Mount Cemetery. He was born near the Gartside Mine No. 3 and was married to Miss Elizabeth Dammrich Oct. 27, 1879. He is survived by his widow and these children: Stephen Butz, Mrs. George Neuner, Mrs. John Meyer, Mrs. George Mueller, Mrs. Alfred Poirot, Jerome and Julius Louis. He also leaves several half brothers and sisters and 22 grandchildren.

The will of John Sticka, who died in Belleville Aug. 20, has been filed for probate. The entire estate, under the will, is to go to the widow, Josephine Sticka. She is also named as eexcutrix. The will was executed March 11, 1899, in th presence of George C. Rebhan and E. W. Merz.

A marriage license was issued to Martin Daniel Jr. and Miss Onna Marxhors, both of St. Libory, Ill.

Abraham Woods, arrested on a warrant charging him with obtaining money under false pretenses, waived his preliminary hearing in Justice Wangelin's court and was held to the grand jury under a $400 bond. Woods was arrested on the complaint of Charles Knight, a State organizer of the Woodmen of the World, with offices at Belleville. Woods was giving a dance at Schoettler's Auditorium in West Belleville, and advertised it as being under the auspices of the Woodmen of the World. Knight says the lodge had not given Woods permission to use its name. Woods says he is a deputy employed by the lodge in St. Louis. He was unable to furnish bond.

Librarian A. M. Wolleson and wife have returned from a tour of Europe.

County Clerk Adam Fries has returned from Wilson, Kan., where he attended the funeral of a relative.

Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Chenot of the Carlyle road entertained Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Renshaw and Mrs. Caroline Renshaw of East St. Louis.

Mrs. Marie McGuire of the Freeburg road entertained relatives at a family reunion.

Martin Fuess of East Main street was surprised by a number of friends in honor of his birthday.

The Century Club gave a euchre at Schoettler's Auditorium for charity.

LIVESTOCK.

RECEIPTS—Cattle, 9000; hogs, 11,500; sheep, 3000; horses and mules, 800.

CATTLE—About 6500 natives and 2500 quarantine cattle constituted the day's supply, some trains being a little late in getting in. The natives were mostly fair to good kinds, although some common classes were also included. All kinds of steers and heifers sold weak to lower, but canners and cutters brought steady prices. Veal calves sold firm and there was a fair demand for stockers and feeders at about steady prices. About the same conditions prevailed in the Southern division as ruled on the native side and the market was weak to a shade lower.

CLOSE ON WHEAT SLIGHTLY LOWER

Market Was Again Extremely Nervous and Erratic—Fluctuations Broad.

BRADSTREET'S INCREASED

Export Business Small, but Demand Good—Cash Wheat Again Strong.

Local wheat was again very nervous Tuesday, and after several advances and declines, closed unchanged to ⅛@¼c lower for the day. Liverpool cables closed ⅛d to ⅜d higher on wheat, Paris ⅝c to 1¼c lower on wheat and 1¼c lower on flour, Antwerp wheat unchanged, Berlin wheat 1¼c lower, and Budapest wheat ⅛c lower. Bradstreet reports a decrease of 1,535,000 bushels in wheat east of the Rocky Mountains and in Canada, an increase of 3,500,000 bushels in wheat afloat for and in Europe, and a total increase of 1,967,000 bushels in the world's visible supply of wheat, the latter comparing with an increase of 4,482,000 bushels last year. Having decreased 1,577,000 bushels last week, the visible supply of wheat in the United States now amounts to 42,010,000 bushels, compared with 36,306,000 bushels last year. The visible supply of wheat in Europe now amounts to 78,338,000 bushels.

The market was very broad and active, the range wide, and the tone nervous. There was quite heavy selling throughout the session, and although several sharp advances were scored during the day, it required constant buying to support prices at the higher levels, and they always sagged from the high point. Some improvement was noted in the weather, but although there was little frost, reports of too much cold were quite general throughout the West and Northwest, and though threshing has been resumed, the returns were unsatisfactory. Receipts in the Northwest are increasing and the cash premiums at that market are somewhat easier, this being due, however, to the quite large supplies, and not to any slackening in the demand. The cash situation remains very strong at practically all markets, as the good milling and shipping demand continued and prices on fresh wheat were again higher. Receipts of winter wheat continue very heavy, but decreases in stocks were again general, as shipments were again very liberal.

The export business was rather light, but good foreign buying was again in evidence, and it was argued by many that some dullness was to be expected after the recent heavy foreign purchases. The business today was mostly in durums, about 20 to 30 loads of which were worked, but at the highest price paid so far. London and Hamburg were buying some wheat, and early in the day it was reported that 150,000 bu No. 2 red wheat and 50,000 bu hard wheat were worked from Chicago c. i. f. to Buffalo, the red wheat bringing a premium of 3c. Duluth reported some export business in Northern wheat, and a firming up in bids for Manitoba wheats was also noted.

Prices opened easier, scored a fractional advance and alternate bulges and dips were made during the forenoon. The bullish visible supply statement held prices up for awhile about midsession. This is the first time in years that the American visible showed a decrease in the middle of October, though the supply is still much larger than at the same time last year. The increase in the world's visible also compares with a much larger increase in 1906. Prices sagged, however, and after recovering again sold off slightly, closing unchanged to ⅛@¼c lower for the day. December wheat opened ⅜c lower at $1.03½, advanced to $1.04½, declined to $1.03½, was bid up to $1.04⅝, offered down to $1.04¼, rallied to $1.04⅝, declined steadily to $1.03, recovered to $1.03¾@1.03⅞ and closed at $1.03⅝@1.03¾. May wheat opened ¼c lower at $1.09⅞, advanced to $1.10⅝, declined to $1.09¾, advanced to $1.10½, was offered down to $1.10¼@1.10⅜, sold at $1.10⅜, was offered down to $1.09⅜@1.09½, recovered and closed with bids at $1.10.

Although prices were somewhat easier, there was quite a strong demand for cash wheat, and offerings were well taken. Total receipts of wheat at all Western primary markets were 1,405,468 bu, against 1,250,033 bu last year, and shipments were 1,117,370 bu, against 882,000 bu last year. Chicago received 108,333 bu wheat, and Kansas City 79,000 bu. Local receipts of wheat were 90,637 bu, against 100,383 bu last year, and shipments were 131,980 bu. Clearances of wheat and flour for the day were 276,000 bu.

The trade in corn was rather light and there was little news of importance. Cables on corn closed ⅛@⅜d higher. The visible supply of corn in the limited states increased 485,000 bu, now amounting to 4,332,000 bu, compared with 3,680,000 bu last year and the world's visible increased 391,000 bu. Little frost was reported in the corn belt, but cold weather was again complained of, and several quite serious damage reports were received. The movement of corn continues heavy, shipments are liberal and stocks at most markets are falling off. Local future prices opened firm, sold down fractionally, recovered and closed unchanged for the day.

Cash corn was slightly easier, but a good demand existed. Primary receipts of corn were 796,853 bu, against 582,476 bu last year, and shipments were 761,550 bu, against 413,000 bu last year. Local receipts of corn were 78,100 bu, against 122,100 bu last year, and shipments were 64,795 bu. Corn clearances were 49,000 bu.

Oats were dull, and except for a small flurry late in the day, were featureless. Trading was light and the close ¼c lower for the day. Cash oats were quiet and somewhat easier. Primary receipts of oats were 970,713 bu, against 1,050,915 bu last year, and shipments were 828,258 bu, against 697,000 bu last year. Local receipts of oats were 118,400 bu, against 134,400 bu last year and shipments were 110,270 bu. No oats were cleared from the seaboard today. The American visible supply of oats decreased 20,000 bu and that of the world increased 170,000 bu.

Minneapolis cars were 275, against 256 last year. Duluth, 575, against 632 last year and Winnipeg 441, against 585 last year.

FLOUR—Receipts were 6725 bbls; shipments 12,950 bbls. Quote soft winter flour patents, $4.85@5; straight, $4.60@4.70; extra fancy, $4.35@4.50, in wood; low to medium grades, in jute, $3.85@3.70; hard jute sacks, patents, $4.75@5; straight at $4.45@4.60; first clears, $3.70@4.10; second clears, $3.50@3.60; low grade at $3.35@3.40; spring patents, $5.50@5.70 in jute.

HAY—Receipts 905 tons local and 1402 tons through shipments, 650 tons. Quote timothy choice $19@19.50; No. 1, $17@18; No. 2, $12.50@15; No. 3, $8@11; no grade, $5@7. Clover mixed, choice, $16; No. 1, $14.50@15; No. 2, $11.50@13; clover hay, No. 1, $14@14.50; No. 2, $11@13. Prairie hay—Choice, $12.50@13; No. 1, $11.50@12; No. 2, $10@12.

FINANCIAL.

Messrs. George H. Burr & Co., commercial paper brokers, 304-5-6 Security Bldg., report local money: Indorsed bills receivable, 4 to 6 months, 6½ per cent; high-grade and single-name paper, 4 to 6 months, 6½ to 7 per cent; other names, not so well known, 6¾ to 7 per cent on first-class security.

Call money on the New York exchange opened Tuesday at 3½ per cent.

Locally there was a quiet money market today. Money was reported by merchandising interests to be coming into the city in rather fair volume, and this, of course, brightened things up considerably in the line of deposits. Shipments to the country were not abnormal, and as Tuesday is usually not a very large remittance day, the operations were confined within routine limits. Lenders did not mark rates on 30 to 90 days' paper below the accustomed figures.

MORE LIVELY TRADING IN LOCAL STOCKS

Sales Were Diversified, but Prices Were, in the Main, Lower.

COMMERCE DEMANDED

Issues of United Rys. Co. Were the Principal Ones Dealt in.

Business at the first session of the St. Louis Stock Exchange Tuesday was more lively than it has been at any time during the last two weeks. The sales were of a diversified character and included stocks that have been inactive for some time.

United Railways, as usual, was the center of interest, and considerable trading was done in these issues. The 4s were unchanged at 78¼, but the preferred stock was fractionally lower than on Monday.

Title Guaranty showed some activity around 48, with 50 asked at the close.

The "bid and ask" was more brisk than usual, and may denote broader and better trading in the immediate future.

CLOSE ON THE TRAIL OF "HIGHER UP" POLICY MEN

Assistant Circuit Attorney, Judge and Detective Hold Secret Conference.

The men really "higher up" in the policy games in St. Louis are threatened with exposure by new information which has fallen into the hands of Assistant Circuit Attorney Rosskopf and Detective McMullen, Mr. Rosskopf said Tuesday.

As soon as this information reached Mr. Rosskopf Monday afternoon he and the detective held a secret conference with Judge Taylor of the Court of Criminal Correction in a grand jury room at the Four Courts. All refused to say what source the information came from or what its nature is.

John Geisler and George Moore, a negro, who were put under $1500 bond Monday by Judge Rodgers in the Court of General Sessions on charges of operating the Mexican Policy, are not regarded by McMullen as among the real heads of the game in St. Louis.

GIVES EXPERT ADVICE TO DYSPEPSIA SUFFERERS.

In a recent number of the Physicians' and Surgeons' Journal there appeared a very comprehensive article by one of the foremost practitioners of the country on defective digestion. He claimed that too little attention is given to this malady, which, while not extremely serious in itself, it quickly leads to very disastrous complications. In fact that the majority of diseases have their origin in the poisons that are taken up by the blood from the fermentation of food in the stomach. He also gave the formula for a mixture which he wished to call the attention to its wonderful effectiveness in quickly restoring the stomach and bowel tract to their normal condition and the stopping of belching, sourness, headaches, langor, etc. The formula is as follows: "Two ounces of Essence of Pepsin; three ounces Syrup of Ginger; one ounce Catandir Compound: These to be mixed well and used in doses of from one to two teaspoonfuls after each meal, also at bed time for the first few days."

A well-known local druggist when asked about this formula stated that it is prescribed by the best physicians here, and that while harmless and pleasant to take it is extremely effective.

LOST HUSBAND IN KING'S SMILE; RETURNS TO SHOP

Mrs. Margaret Johnson Brown, Kentucky Beauty, Says They'd Have Separated Anyway, So She Has Nothing to Regret.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Not at all flattered by the attention paid her by King Edward, even if it did lead her plain American husband to seek a divorce, Mrs. Margaret Johnson Brown has returned to this country again to take up the details of her business on West Thirty-first street, where she conducts a shop for the sale of antiques and Old Country furniture.

Last night Mrs. Brown told a reporter about the interesting event that led up to the troubles because of which suit for divorce was brought in Lexington, Ky., by her husband, Lewis Brown, who alleged that Mrs. Brown had deserted him and was then residing in England with her father, the English agent for R. Hoe & Co.

The filing of the papers for the divorce led to the disclosure of the story regarding Mrs. Brown's first appearance at an English theater at which time King Edward also happened to be present, and, noting the beautiful Mrs. Brown in another box, sent his personal page to the Brown box with a request that Mrs. Brown favor the royal box with her presence.

Royalty Didn't Appeal to Him.

This procedure was not in strict accordance with the views of plain Mr. Brown, who intimated that he would deal rather harshly with King Edward's messengers, or even with King Edward himself, should any of them again presume to seek Mrs. Brown's acquaintance on such short notice. Mrs. Brown's ideas of royalty were not altogether in accord with those of her husband, and it is said she poked considerable fun at him on account of his jealousy of King Edward.

It was but a short time after this incident that Lewis Brown returned to his country without his wife and again took up his residence in Lexington and shortly afterward began an action for divorce. Mrs. Brown, meanwhile, remained in London with her father, but finally came to this country, where she opened an antique shop on Thirty-first street.

Upon her return Mrs. Brown had this to say regarding the King Edward incident and her husband's suit for divorce:

"As regards the invitation to King Edward the entire affair has been greatly exaggerated. Over in England it is not regarded as anything unusual for any of the royal family should they desire the attendance of any one whom they happen to see in the Drury Lane audience at the royal box, to despatch a messenger to the box of the party desired.

She Was Duly "Introduced."

"I had never met the King, but some of our party were acquainted with several members of the King's party, and when King Edward expressed a desire of meeting myself and husband, one of the party volunteered to show us to the King's box and I was duly introduced to His Majesty.

"I am a plain American woman; I love my country; I care nothing whatever for royalty, King Edward or any other Englishman. I lived for some time in England merely because my father was agent there for an American concern, and naturally had to reside in London.

"The King Edward incident had nothing to do with my marital troubles. Mr. Brown and I would never have lived together had we never seen or heard of King Edward. When I left him in England I never intended to live with him again, and upon my return to this country I wrote him to that effect. I am in business in New York, and there is where my whole interest lies."

Whether or not Mr. Brown, plain American, was disgruntled may be conjectured, but nevertheless he returned to this country, resigning his position as assistant to his father-in-law, and, going to Lexington, Ky., went on the road as a traveling salesman.

Mrs. Brown is a very handsome woman, tall and with an abundance of golden hair. She has always been known as one of Kentucky's handsomest women.

TICKER LED THIS WIDOW HOT RACE

Stocks Always Seemed to Decline and Now She Sues Nephew Who Was Agent.

Mrs. Eliza H. Roberts' varying mental states of doubt, hope, elation, fear, disappointment, when she first began dabbling in stocks with J. H. Phamphlin, her nephew, as agent, were revealed when her letters to him were read in the Circuit Court at Clayton. The predominant state was disappointment. She is suing him for $2554 she says is due on a promissory note.

Mrs. Roberts lives at 4343 Delmar boulevard. She is a widow 50 years old, slight of figure, with hair beginning to turn gray. She told on the witness stand of how the market went against her, after her nephew suggested to her in March, 1903, that she speculate. She had never before paid any attention to stock quotations, she said.

The letters were written from Eureka Springs, Ark., beginning in July, 1903, and refer at times to small profits, but for the most part are full of despondent references to the fact that the market seemed always on the decline. The writer expressed surprise and some indignation that the stocks were bought on a margin instead of outright. The letters continued through 1904.

Mrs. Roberts testified that a settlemen was made in March, 1905, and said the note was made then, but dated Jan. 1, 1906, to cover her nephew's indebtedness to her.

Phamphlin said the note was merely memorandum of his aunt's losses, and that it was without consideration.

The case went to trial Monday, and a jury is expected to return a verdict Tuesday. Pamphlin is a lawyer, and lived, at the time of the stock transactions, in Kirkwood. He now lives on Ashland avenue in St. Louis County.

Mrs. Hartje's Sister Leaves School.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Miss Ida Scott, sister of Mrs. Augustus Hartje of Pittsburg, whose millionaire husband is suing her for divorce, is no longer at Miss Dana's seminary in South street, Morristown, N. J., where she was a pupil. Although the school authorities declined to discuss the matter it was learned that Miss Scott left the institution on Saturday. Miss Scott is 19 years old. It was not known until recently that she was in any way connected with the Pittsburg affair.

RAILROAD MAN ATTACKED AT NIGHT WITH COUPLING PIN

Car Thieves Are Presumed to Have Assaulted William H. McLain.

William H. McLain of 1817 La Salle street, foreman of a Terminal switching crew, lies near death at St. Mary's Infirmary from an injury mysteriously received while he was at work in the Sixteenth street yards. That he was assaulted and slugged, probably with a coupling pin, is regarded as assured, but the motive for the assault is in doubt.

Members of the crew think the foreman may have surprised a gang of car thieves and been attacked by them.

McLain is 38 years old, and boarded at the La Salle street address. No relatives live there.

To Lecture on Tuberculosis.

The last of the illustrated open-air lectures of the St. Louis Society for the Relief and Prevention of Tuberculosis will be held Tuesday evening on the lawn adjoining St. George's Episcopal Church, Pendleton avenue and Olive street. Dr. Louis H. Behrens will speak. The Self Culture Hall Drum Corps and the High School Cadets will parade while fireworks are exploded.

A CRITICAL GUIDE TO WEEK'S LEADING PLAYS.

Olympic—Fritzi Scheff in "Mlle. Modiste." Sparkling and tuneful Blossom-Herbert comic opera. Spirited second-season production.

Century—Rose Stahl in "The Chorus Lady." Strong play of low-grade stage life. Excellent characterization by star. Good support.

Grand—Thomas E. Shea in repertoire. Earnest work by star along legitimate lines. Support fair.

Havlin's—Russell Brothers in "The Hired Girl's Millions." Bright and clever, along broad comedy lines.

Imperial—"The Cat and the Fiddle." Amusing musical comedy, well presented.

Garrick—Bright vaudeville bill.

Columbia—Big vaudeville bill with new topline features and much music.

Odeon—Sheehan Opera Co. in "Rigoletto." Competently produced, with Sheehan in fine voice and general support capable.

"NO REPUTATIONS WILL BE RUINED," SAYS HART M'KEE

Wealthy Pittsburger Denies He Will Make Counter Accusations Against Wife.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.
Copyright, 1907, by the Press Pub. Co. (New York World.)

PARIS, Oct. 15.—"Certainly no reputations will be ruined by the trial of my wife's suit for divorce, and no sensation is to be made out of it. For my part, I wish to add nothing to the talk on the unhappy subject."

Thus Hart McKee of Pittsburg denied to the Post-Dispatch correspondent today the report published in America that he will make grave counter-charges against his beautiful wife.

Mr. McKee, who looks content, even serene, said his answer to his wife's accusations is in his lawyer's hands, and that he will make no statement about her suit or his reply.
